COLOMBIANS PAW THE DIRT

News of Recent Events on Isthmus Causes Wild Indignation.

EVERYBODY FOR WAR

United States Consul Lovelace at Barranquilla Stoned as He Sits on His Porch.

FEARS FOR AMERICAN LIVES

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

Colon, Nov. 12.—The royal mail steamer Orinoco arrived here this morning, bringing news of Gen. Torres and the Colombian troops he took from here after the proclamation of the republic of Panama. The soldiers behaved well on the voyage. On the arrival of Gen. Torres and his troops at Cartagena the news of events on the isthmus quickly spread and the populace, greatly excited, soon crowded the streets, crying "Down with the Americans!"

The Barranquilla authorities had intended sending 300 Colombian troops by the Orinoco to Cartagena, but learned that that vessel had debarked Gen. Torres and his men there and decided to keep the troops at Barranquilla.

The excitement at Barranquilla increased with the spreading of the news of the secession of the Isthmus, which was supplemented by exaggerated accounts of the alleged part played by the United States therein. Panama's declaration of independence was read from a newspaper by the prefect to a crowd assembled in the Plaza, and was greeted by furious outcries and shouts of "Death to the Panamanians!" and "Death to the Americans!"

United States Consul Stoned.

The prefect followed the reading by a speech in which he declared that the Colombian government would never permit the secession of the Isthmus and would win back the lost territory at any cost. The crowd in the plaza indulged in many extravagant threats, impossible of execution.

United States Vice Consul Lovelace was sitting on a balcony of his house at Barranquilla tonight when several stones were thrown at him. He retired indoors and was not further molested by the Colombians.

The people of Barranquilla seem to have been swept off their balance by the suddenness and seriousness of the news. Revolutionary talk began immediately, and threats were made against the congressmen responsible for the non-ratification of the Hay-Herran canal treaty.

Fears are entertained for the safety of Americans in Colombia and of the possibility of the anger of the populace being vented against foreigners generally. The authorities at Savanilla have mounted two obsolete guns covering the wharf.

AN INSPECTION TRIP

Steel Officials Visit Worcester Plant, Portions of Which May Be Temporarily Closed.

GRAHAM SUCCEEDS M'MURTRY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 12.

Steel and wire company officials left this city today on a trip of inspection of the New England properties. In the party were W. E. Corey, president of the Steel Corporation; W. P. Palmer, president of the American Steel and Wire Company, and other officials of that company. Worcester, Mass., was the point first visited. It is in that city that the Washburn & Moen plant of the steel and wire company is located, and it believed that steps may be taken to close certain portions of this big plant.

In connection with the merger of the American Tin Plate Company and the American Sheet Steel Company, it is stated that George G. McMurtry, the president of the latter company, will retire and that the new executive head of the consolidated company will be W. T. Graham, the president of the American Tin Plate Company.

Difference of opinion in regard to the appropriate price for steel rails, 1904 delivery, between proprietors of the great railroad systems and officials who dominate the steel rail manufactures, has resulted in a situation which is virtually a test of endurance. Steel officials have stated definitely that the price established in June will be maintained.

The Steel Argument.

In combating the position of the railroads that the economic law of supply and demand and the dependence of the cost of production of rails upon the price of raw material will necessitate a reduction, the steel interests assert that during the last two years the price was held down to $28 a ton when $30 or $32 could have been collected, and that in consequence the railroads take a selfish position when they hold out for a reduction to $26 or $25. It is also said that the steel officials believe after canvassing the situation that the demand would not be greatly increased even if the price was reduced.

Intimations have been given that the end of this struggle of endurance will be reached as a result of next Tuesday's meeting of traffic officials, at which the request of the steel companies for a 5 per cent reduction in export rates on steel products will be considered, the basis of settlement being a reduction in

MITCHELL IS OPTIMISTIC ABOUT ARBITRATION

Mine Workers' President Says Conflict Between Capital and Labor Is Not Irreconcilable.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—The importance of the subject to be discussed as well as the interest created through the convention of the American Federation of Labor now sitting in Boston, occasioned an unusually large attendance tonight at the dinner of the Economic club.

The topic was "The New Forms of Arbitration Between Organizations of Employers and Trades Unions," and the principal speakers were John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; John Graham Brooks, a writer on economic subjects, and President John F. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union.

The remarks of Mr. Mitchell, who was given a warm greeting, were largely an elaboration of the proposition which he laid down in his opening remarks, that although each side has its rights and obligations, yet it must be remembered that higher than the interests of either are the interests of the American people. He expressed the belief that the conflict between labor and capital is not irreconcilable. Referring to the great anthracite coal strike, Mr. Mitchell stated that the relationship between the miners and employers were better than ever before and he felt confident that upon the expiration of the period of award the railroad presidents still would agree to adopt the ideas and policies inaugurated.

CHICAGO NEEDS WATSON.

Pittsburgh Lawyer's Services Desired in City's Interest in Great Traction Fight.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—While the names of three very prominent lawyers who are residents of cities other than Chicago are still being considered in connection with the employment of special counsel to represent the city in the traction litigation, that of David T. Watson of Pittsburgh is said to be much favored by the mayor and council transportation committee.

He is regarded as one of the most distinguished lawyers in the country and well equipped to battle for Chicago's interests in the traction fight.

STRIKE CAUSES RIOT.

Workmen Fire Upon Non-Union Men Housed in a Stockade. Situation Is Grave.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 12.—A serious riot is expected at South Webster where strikers bombarded the brick plant of Harbison-Walker Company, and then it is alleged, fired upon a stockade where non-union men are housed. The sheriff sent deputies to the scene of the trouble. The situation is grave and as there are no authorities here to enforce the law the company has taken up the matter of dismantling the plant.

Fiedler on the march from Keetemanshoop, Gibeon, Rehoboth and Windhoek to Warmbad, have been joined by 113 of the Witbot patrols and another division of Boer volunteers in the approaches to Warbuad from Ukamas. The position of the enemy is unknown.

TWO MURDERS ADDED TO LIST

Adolph Bengele, a Glenfield Farmer, and John Hagan Are Killed.

WHITE MAN ROBBED

Detectives at Work on the Cases, but Had Not Made Any Arrests Last Night.

ITALIAN MURDERER IS KNOWN

Two more murders have been added to Allegheny county's already large list. Adolph Bengele, 59 years old, a farmer, was shot and robbed in the rear of his home in Glenfield, Wednesday afternoon. His assailants are unknown. John Hagar, 23 years old colored, was shot and killed on the Greensburg pike, two miles east of Wilkinsburg, by an unknown Italian on the same night.

The county detectives are working on the case and at a late hour last night no arrests had been made. Bengele was a well-known resident of Glenfield and Hager was a laborer on the trolley line running from Wilkinsburg to Greensburg.

The killing of Bengele is clouded in mystery. His death was reported to the coroner early yesterday morning by his son Henry, who lives near his father. The son thought the death had been due to heart disease. Deputy Coroner John Black was detailed to Glenfield to make an investigation and found that the aged man had a 22-caliber bullet through his heart and that the pocket of his overalls had been cut out, and his belt had been severed.

Adolph Bengele was seen at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon making cider in a shed in the rear of his house.

Bengele had lived by himself since his wife's death, on November 15 last. The couple had lived there for 20 years.

Henry Bengele, the son, early yesterday morning went to his father's house. To his surprise he failed to find him in his room. Making an investigation he found the aged man's body lying between the press and the cider shed wall.

Bengele carried considerable money on him at times, but just what amount he had when killed is not known. A search was made in the house and everything had been ransacked. Bureau drawers were thrown about the floor and the room bore evidence of a hasty search having been made.

County Detectives John Roach and George Waggoner will go to Glenfield to investigate the case this morning. The motive of the crime was evidently robbery. The bullet which killed him was a 22 short and had evidently been fired from a rifle. The shot is thought to have been fired at close range, as it passed almost through the body. Bengele was known as a harmless man.

Deputy Coroner Black is of the opinion that Bengele was killed by some one in the immediate vicinity.

John Hagar was shot by an Italian whose name the county detectives refuse to divulge at this time. Hagar and Charles Stevens were working near a coal mine on the Logay farm, on the Greensburg pike. The men ran out of oil for their lamps and went to an Italian's house for some. Stevens said Hagar knocked at the Italian's door and the inmate ordered him away in broken English. Stevens walked away and he heard the report of a shot. Turning about he saw Hagar lying dead on the ground. The Italian took flight from the rear of the house and has not been seen since.

Stevens was committed to jail as a witness.

CUBA REFUSES REQUEST OF AMERICAN RESIDENTS

Declined to Allow American Lawyer to Assist in Investigation of a Murder.

HAVANA, Nov. 12.—The department of justice has declined to grant the petition of the American residents at Puerto Principe to permit an American lawyer to assist the official prosecutor in investigating the killing of E. A. Murray. The refusal of the department is based on the ground that the law of Cuba is opposed to any foreign assistance being given to the officials of the department. The government, however, has directed that a very thorough investigation be made of the case.

On October 24 the American residents of Puerto Principe telegraphed United States Minister Squires regarding the alleged murder of Murray, who kept a hotel in that city. Murray was said to have been found dead in a cell at police headquarters. In the same cell was confined a mad negro, who had a big knife in his possession. No blood was found in the cell, but suspicion of foul play was aroused and the American residents employed a lawyer to assist them in making an investigation.

CHINESE TROOPS GUARD PASSES TO MANCHURIA

Russian Officials Admit That Occupation of Port Arthur Was Mistake.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Standard's Tientsin correspondent says that Chinese troops are guarding all the passes to Manchuria. The correspondent adds that Gov. Yuan Shi Kai has imported nine automobiles for the use of the dowager empress. These automobiles will run between Peking and the summer palace.

A correspondent of the Times at St. Petersburg says it is admitted in official circles that the policy which led to the occupation of Port Arthur and Manchuria was not worth the expenditure of money and blood it had entailed and that the attempt to secure an ice-free port in the Pacific has so far proved a failure.

The construction of a huge breakwater at Dalny as a protection against high seas only resulted in making the harbor ice-bound in winter, the lack of this protection heretofore having evidently prevented the accumulation of ice. Finally, the correspondent adds, the opposition of Japan has thwarted the plan to secure an ice-free port at Masampho.

RAILROAD MEN VISIT MARYLAND STEEL PLANT

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12.—President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, accompanied by President Baer of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad and a party of 40, arrived here today to inspect the plant of the Maryland Steel Company. After the inspection the party had luncheon at the Sparrows Point club, returning to Philadelphia late in the afternoon.

FLORENCE, ITALY, Nov. 12.—Marquis Carlo Di Rudini, son of the former Italian premier, and Miss Florence Labouchere, daughter of Henry Labouchere, proprietor and editor of the London Truth, were married here today. Mr. Labouchere and the former premier were present.

FREEDOM OIL PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

M'QUAIDE NOW IS IN ENGLAND

Will Appear at Arraignment of Ferguson Murderers Today.

ARE IN LONDON JAIL

Decision as to Extradition Rests With the British Foreign Office.

RED TAPE TO BE UNWOUND

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

London, Nov. 12.—Thomas A. McQuaide, superintendent of detectives of Pittsburgh, and Richard Kelly, one of his men, arrived here tonight. The two Croatians who were arrested at Southampton for the Ferguson murder on a cabled request from McQuaide and have been confined in the Holloway jail here will be arraigned in the Bow street police court tomorrow. They give the names of Michael Topanac and Nicholas Kobgar.

This is the process that will be followed in the extradition proceedings: The detectives will present their extradition papers to the United States embassy. Under British law the prisoners will have 15 days to present their defence against extradition and the embassy will ask that they be remanded for that period. At the end of the 15 days the embassy, in the name of President Roosevelt, will ask for the extradition of the prisoners. The British foreign office will refer the matter to the home office and that department will authorize the magistrate to commit the prisoners into the custody of the detectives, provided sufficient evidence justifying that step shall have been produced.

When arrested the Croats had between them $1,200. They professed to speak no English, but a police inspector overheard one of them talk in that tongue. Hungary, to which country Croatia belongs, has taken no steps through the Austro-Hungarian embassy, and Hodson of the United States embassy says she can do nothing to prevent the extradition. The embassy has received no instructions from Pittsburgh, Hodson having taken only the usual proceedings.

CURTIS BROWN.

Contractor Samuel T. Ferguson of Pittsburgh, was murdered near West Middletown, Washington county, on September 28. Ferguson was driving one day in his buggy, accompanied by a clerk from Washington, to his construction camp with $5,000 in a satchel. About two miles from the camp, near a heavy thicket, the buggy was blown up by dynamite concealed under the roadway and operated from the thicket with an electric battery. Ferguson was killed, the clerk was dangerously wounded and the satchel of money disappeared. Rewards of $8,000 were offered by the commissioners of Washington county and the company of which Ferguson was an officer. McQuaide worked on the case and finally decided that two men who had been employed by the Ferguson Company, Milovar Patrovic and Milovar Kovevic, committed the crime. He traced them aboard the Cedric and by cable asked the British authorities to arrest them on the arrival of the vessel. The two men in the Holloway were taken from the steamer at Southampton.

FOUND LOST BROTHER AFTER HE WAS HANGED

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—A brother and sister were left orphans in childhood, afterward separated and went to distant states. Not hearing any word of each other for years the sister finally read in the papers that her brother had been hanged for murder. This is the story that has just been revealed by a letter which Sheriff S. E. Frock has received from Mrs. Hattie Bishop of Atlanta, Ga., sister of William Hays, who was hanged in Uniontown October 2 for the murder of another negro at Masontown.

Mrs. Magee Sails Today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. C. L. Magee of Pittsburgh is among those who have booked passage on the White Star liner Celtic, which sails for Liverpool tomorrow morning.

NEW OWNERS TO OPEN BANK

Strong Interests Option Control of First National of Allegheny.

BIG BANK IS THE PLAN

Special Examination of Books Has Been Made for Investors by Mr. Hugh Young.

GOT FEDERAL'S STOCK AT $125

The First National bank of Allegheny will reopen its doors in a few days, possibly this week, with the control of the bank securely lodged with strong interests identified with one of the most substantial of Pittsburgh's banks.

The new interests in the First National bank of Allegheny have secured an option on a majority of the stock of the institution. The stock held by the Federal National bank interests has been optioned at $125 a share. The stock was obtained from the old First National Bank of Allegheny interests several months ago at $175 a share.

Before deciding upon this step, the new interests had a careful examination made of the First National of Allegheny's condition by Hugh Young, national bank examiner. Mr. Young has reported the condition of the bank to be first class, and it is all but settled that the deal will go through as now arranged. Although Mr. Young holds a commission from the government as national bank examiner he has been on leave of absence for some time owing to ill-health and his undertaking in this matter was approved by the comptroller of the currency.

Announcement Expected.

The announcement of the conclusion of the plan is expected to be made today. One of those active in the matter has been out of the city, but he was expected back last night and at a meeting today the plan will probably be brought to a definite conclusion.

If the bank determines upon reopening, it will have the full consent of the comptroller of the currency. The examination by Receiver Vaughan has been completed and the report has been received by the comptroller. At his office in Washington it was said yesterday that he will not make the report public until it has been ascertained whether the bank will reopen. His position is that nothing should be made public that will in any possible way embarrass the bank should it decide to reopen. The fact that Mr. Young was making an examination of the First National of Allegheny was admitted yesterday at the treasury department at Washington and was confirmed here last evening.

There has been no doubt among those familiar with the condition of the institution that it was entirely solvent. The doors were closed because of the general knowledge that the Federal National, which had closed its doors the day before, was a large holder, indirectly, of the stock of the First National of Allegheny, and there was danger of a "run" resulting that would cripple the institution.

Confidence Is Restored.

In the several weeks that have passed since that time public confidence in the stability of the city's financial institutions has been completely restored, and the new interests which take charge of the bank will bring to it a great measure of additional strength, which also will go far to bring the greatest confidence.

No definite plan for the reopening of the Federal National has as yet been announced. As told in The Gazette a couple of weeks ago a plan is being worked out for the reduction of the capital to $1,000,000 and the reopening of the bank. This plan has not yet progressed sufficiently far, it is said, to make an official statement possible.

TWENTY-TWO KILLED IN MACEDONIA VILLAGE

SALONICA, Nov. 12.—During fighting in the village of Trnova in the Kasa of Nevrokop, November 7, 22 persons were killed. It is reported that Boris Sarafoff, leader of the Macedonian revolutionists, arrived today for the purpose of planning fresh outrages. The police are searching for him.

CHARGES OF FRAUD ARE NOW PREFERRED AGAINST CLARION COUNTY OFFICERS

Informations Made by County Commissioner Saxon Against Other Members of the Board and the County Solicitor.

CONTRACTS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Clarion, Pa., Nov. 12.—There was considerable excitement here today when it was made known that one of the county commissioners, John Saxon, had made information before A. R. Cyphert against the other two commissioners, J. A. Summerville and George W. Texter, and against John Shirley, county solicitor, charging them with conspiracy and fraudulently altering and falsifying a public record and the minutes of the county commissioners, and also charging them with conspiracy to defraud the county.

Warrants have been issued, but owing to the sheriff being out of town they will not be served until tomorrow. It is charged by Mr. Saxon that the plans and specifications of the new poorhouse were never adopted in an executive meeting of the board and when this defect was made known to the other commissioners and Solicitor Shirley that they changed the minutes of the meetings so as to remedy the fault.

Mr. Saxon also alleges that the other two commissioners fraudulently paid $500 to Solicitor Shirley. It is claimed that the commissioners have not proceeded according to law in the matter of the county poor farm and house ever since the beginning of the matter, which was last spring. It is also understood that proceedings in equity will be instituted this week to test the legality and stop the proceedings of the commissioners in erecting the poorhouse. H. J. Peoples of Pittsburgh is the architect for the building and the contract was let last week to Mr. Zorn, also of Pittsburgh, for the sum of $[illegible].

RATHBONE SEEKS TO DEFEAT GEN. WOOD'S CONFIRMATION

Former Director of Posts of Cuba Will Give Evidence Against the Officer.

FORAKER WILL DEFEND HIM

Revenge and Envy Thought to Prompt Movement Against Man Who Is President Roosevelt's Intimate Friend--Senator Teller Will Present Old Charge.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.

Maj. Estes G. Rathbone, former director of posts of Cuba, sentenced to prison for complicity in postal frauds there, has arrived in Washington and will appear before the senate committee on military affairs in support of the charges against Gen. Wood, in an effort to prevent his confirmation as major general by the senate. The committee will meet on Thursday, November 19, when evidence against Gen. Wood will be heard. Senator Teller will conduct the case for those who are opposing Gen. Wood's advancement to the rank of major general and Senator Foraker will defend him and speak for the administration.

It is announced that the charge against the general will be his alleged connection with the "jai-alai," a form of gambling game in Cuba and upon which pools are sold and large sums are wagered. There will be other accusations and an effort will be made to block his confirmation by the argument against his rapid advancement in the army. It is evident that the promotion of Gen. Wood will be reported favorably to the senate in spite of the attacks that will be made upon him. These attacks will lose force to a considerable extent by the suspicion that they are inspired by envy upon the part of other army officers and by a desire for revenge by other persons. When the case gets into the executive session of the senate it remains to be seen whether Senator Hanna, who is the friend of Rathbone, will support him to the extent of taking the floor on the opposition to the confirmation of Gen. Wood. The general opinion is that Mr. Hanna will not feel called upon to do this, since he appreciates that such action would be construed as opposition to the president and all sorts of exaggerated coloring would be given it by the Democrats. Senator Foraker will pose as the administration and defender of the president in this case and he will exert his influence for the confirmation of Wood. He has an elaborate statement of Gen. Wood's case for his guidance.

Convention Goes to Chicago.

When the National Republican committee meets in Washington on December 10 and 11 Chicago will be selected as the place for holding the next national convention. This is stated tonight upon the best of authority by one who is in close touch with the leading members of the committee and who claims to know that they have already unofficially decided upon Chicago. Pittsburgh, Baltimore and St. Louis are to be passed by, the latter because it is believed that it cannot accommodate the crowds in addition to the visitors to the exposition, and the other cities because it is feared they have not proper facilities for taking care of the convention. Its central location, numerous railroads and hotel accommodations give Chicago the preference.

More Money for Vice President.

Representative Loudenslager of New Jersey has introduced a bill increasing the salary of the vice president of the United States and the members of the cabinet. It proposed to give the vice president $25,000 a year and cabinet members $15,000. The bill would find strong support if it were not for the fact that it might be bad politics to put it through just before a presidential election. But there are good arguments for the measure, as it is generally conceded that the president and his official family are not paid sufficient salaries, considering the expense to which they are put by reason of their positions. If this bill should come up for consideration there would be doubt to an effort made to amend it by putting in an increase for the president, probably making his salary $100,000 instead of $50,000 as at present.

Crumpacker's Bill Appears Again.

Representative Crumpacker of Indiana has again introduced a bill reducing the representation in congress from the southern states where the negroes are disfranchised. He will not likely press the bill in the special or regular session of this congress, since the prospect of action upon it just previous to the presidential election is not good. He hopes, however, to get it through at the second session a year from this time. Mr. Crumpacker was a caller at the White House today, but he said he did not discuss the bill with the president, but merely called to pay his respects.

McKinley's Cousin Resembles Him.

Among the callers at the White House today was Postmaster James Campbell of Warren, O., who was introduced by Representative Dick. Mr. Campbell is a double cousin of the late President McKinley and resembles the president in appearance. His mother and President McKinley's father were brother and sister and his father and President McKinley's mother were first cousins.

Family of Office Holders.

The three Landis brothers from Indiana were callers at the White House today. Two of them are members of congress and the third, W. K. Landis, is postmaster of San Juan, Porto Rico. Charles was elected to congress six years ago, and Fred, the youngest brother, was elected last year to his first term. He is only 31 years old and wears the highest collar of any member of the house. The postmaster of San Juan is said to have his eye on a seat in congress as soon as Porto Rico is allowed a delegate. There are two other brothers in the family, one a lawyer in Chicago and the other a physician in Cincinnati, and they are also credited with ambitions to come to congress.

Two Viewpoints Presented.

There was another wrangle in the senate today over the propriety of petitioning that body to promptly dispose of the case of Senator Smoot of Utah. Senator Dubois of Idaho took issue with the remarks made yesterday by Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, in connection with the petitions for Mr. Smoot's expulsion. Mr. Dubois said that these various organizations of Christian people have a right to petition the senate and it is their duty to do so, said he.

"All the petitioners ask is that we study the case carefully before passing upon it. They know what they are doing. They represent the moral thought of the country and should not be discouraged. They scarcely expect to influence our votes, but it is to be hoped that the petitions will at least have the effect of making us to pause and give careful attention to their representations."

Senator Hoar defended his attitude of yesterday, contending that the question is a judicial one to be settled by the law and that petitioners should not attempt to influence senators. Senator Dolliver of Maine took issue with Senator Hoar and said that he thought it was proper for the people to petition the senate in this matter. He asserted that it was of the greatest importance that it was charged in this case that the Utah senator was a member of a hierarchy that undertook to dictate in political matters. He thought that all the information that had come to the senate through petitioners was greatly to be desired.

Smoot Petition Presented.

Senator Penrose today presented a large number of petitions from various parts of Pennsylvania asking that the Smoot case be promptly disposed of. Among the petitions were the following: First Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny; United Brethren church, Mt. Pleasant; Citizens of Dubois; W. C. T. U. of Franklin; W. C. T. U. of Mercer; Duquesne Heights Methodist Episcopal church, Mt. Washington Methodist Protestant church, W. C. T. U. and citizens of Pittsburgh; Reformed church, Free Methodist church; United Presbyterian church, First Lutheran church and Methodist Episcopal church, all of Vandergrift Pa.; W. C. T. U. of Erie; First Methodist Episcopal and United Presbyterian church of Rochester; African Methodist Episcopal church of Allegheny, and W. C. T. U. of Butler.

Ask Capt. Sibert's Promotion.

Representative Porter handed the president yesterday a request signed by a large numbr of influntial citizens of Pittsburgh urging the promotion of Capt. William Sibert of the corps of engineers. Capt. Sibert's promotion has been recommended several times in reports of his superior officers, not only for his efficiency, but also for bravery in action in the Philippines. Mr. Porter received the assurance that it should have careful attention. Mr. Porter presented in the house today a resolution adopted by the city councils of Philadelphia asking congress to make provision for a 35-foot channel at the port of Philadelphia.

Penrose Will Hold a Hearing.

Senator Penrose, Republican state chairman, said today that he would not give a decision in the dispute as to the method of making nominations in the Twenty-fourth congressional district at present. He said that before deciding the case he would summon those interested from Washington, Wayne and Butler counties and give them a hearing. No date for this hearing has yet been set.

Ask for Naval Station at Erie.

Another effort will be made this congress to get a naval training station for Lake Erie. Today Representative Bates of Meadville introduced a bill providing for the appropriation of $250,000 for the establishment of a naval training station near Erie, Pa. A bill for the same purpose was introduced in the senate by Senator Penrose.

Penrose on Committee.

Senator Allison today appointed the following committee to reorganize the committees of the senate: Hale, chairman; Gallinger, Hansbrough, Burrows, Foraker, Penrose, Foster, (Washn.) Quarles, Scott.

Site for Naval Station Chosen.

The board, composed of Rear Admiral Taylor and Lieut. Commander Winslow, appointed to select a site for a naval training station on the Great Lakes has made its report to Secretary Moody. The board selects five sites, the first choice being Lake Bluff, 32 miles north of Chicago; the second is Racine, Wis.; third, Muskegon, Mich.; fourth, Milwaukee, and fifth, Michigan City. The report has been transmitted to congress.

Postmaster Appointed.

Philip Plumer was today appointed postmaster at Courtney, Washington county, Pa. L. W. STRAYER.

BOARDER LOST MONEY.

Easy Banking Methods Cause Disappearance of $725---Fortune Teller in the Case.

Whether the statement of a fortune teller is to be relied upon will form a part of the testimony in the hearing of Nick Winovic and his wife for larceny by bailee before Alderman John Caldwell of the South Side, tomorrow. Lazo Marvic, the plaintiff, alleges that he boarded with the Winovics at No. 2913 Carson street, and since January has deposited with them the sum of $725.

Nick Winovic, to increase his fortune, acts in the capacity of banker to his foreign boarders, but he refuses to make good in the event of a robbery. This is what he says occurred when the depositor recently called for his $725. Marvic was given only $625, and has brought suit for the recovery of the remainder.

Winovic claims to have consulted a fortune teller in regard to the robbery, and was informed that the theft was committed by Marvic. This is why Winovic will not give up the money, and his wife were arraigned before Alderman Caldwell yesterday afternoon and held in $1,000 bail for a future hearing.

REUNION OF BUCKTAILS.

Fifty Survivors of Famous Regiment Were Guests at a Gathering at Bellevue.

Fifty old soldiers of Company D of the One Hundred and Forty-ninth "Bucktail" regiment, were on the platform of the Masonic hall, Bellevue, last evening before a large gathering of the citizens of the borough. The occasion was the company's reunion by the invitation of William R. Johnson, a member of the regiment, in celebration of his 61st birthday. Mr. Johnson was presented with a gold pendant. Burgess David H. Martin welcomed the soldiers. The Rev. John Snodgrass replied on behalf of his comrades, and Attorney George H. Quail joined in welcoming the company. The Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, also spoke.

The evening's enjoyment was enhanced by the vocal music of Edward E. Whitehead, George L. Ralston, J. S. Stevens and R. L. Jones, to the accompaniment of Fred A. East. The regiment came out of the battle of Gettysburg with only 111 men, 449 having started in.

Missionary Workers Meet.

Members of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Clifton Presbyterian church yesterday held its annual meeting and thank-offering at Emsworth. Mrs. W. H. Boyd of Siam told of her missionary experiences and of the good work the society is doing there. She laid stress upon the degraded condition of the women in China and the great benefit which the society's hospital in Canton is doing under the control of Dr. Mary Fulton, whom the United States Presbyterian mission sent there.

A successful total abstinence rally was held last night in St. Kieran's church, Fifty-fourth street. Addresses were made by the Rev. John G. Beane, A. P. Floyd, Charles D. McShane, C. J. Yeager and Stephen Madden. The Rev. J. L. McCann administered the temperance pledge to all those present.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CANDIDATES MADE TO SUFFER BY THE DICKERS OF LOCAL LEADERS

The official count of the recent election is complete. The figures are not pleasant reading for the Democrats who traded their party in the hope of securing a few jobs. The polling of 16,262 votes for Hill, the highest man on the Democratic state ticket, is sufficient evidence for the Democrats that fusion does not pay. It means that in the next state convention Allegheny will have but 19 delegates. The returns show that over 8,000 Democrats voted the Citizens ticket, thus casting a ballot for the Republican state nominees. The result is a Republican plurality of over 70,000, the largest in the history of the county.

This year in all but 171 districts of the county, the election boards made separate returns of the vote polled by the Democrats and Citizens. In the 171 districts the vote was combined and returned to the credit of the Democrats. This makes it impossible to show the exact strength of the Citizens in the county. The returning board did not total the cities, towns and townships. The tables below show the total vote for each candidate and the plurality of the winner. It will be remembered that there was two superior court judges and two jury commissioners to elect. The returns follow.

CIGARET SMOKER SHOOTS HIMSELF IN THE HEAD

J. H. Borland Attempts Suicide and His Stepfather Blames His Act on Excessive Smoking.

Despondent because he had lost his position and believing that the members of his family had turned against him, J. H. Borland, 24 years old, shot himself in the right temple at the home of his stepfather, Joseph Bilby, No. 425 Atlantic avenue, McKeesport, at midnight.

Borland was found shortly after he fired the shot and taken to the McKeesport hospital. The doctors say he cannot recover. Borland, who was employed in a restaurant in McKeesport, was discharged yesterday, and it is alleged he began to drink heavily.

Just before the saloons closed Borland invited the men in the place to drink with him, remarking that it would be the last. He then went home and called to others to the family that he was going. The next moment the shot was heard. Bilby alleges his stepson's act was the result of excessive cigarette smoking.

COLOMBIANS PAW THE EARTH

of the former government of the department of Panama apprehended at Panama since November 3 who refused to take the oath of allegiance to the new republic arrived here today over the Panama railroad under a heavy armed escort. The train backed to the dock alongside the Spanish steamer Leon XIII. The prisoners boarded the steamers between lines of Panamanian soldiers. The dock is now guarded to prevent their escape. The steamer will sail tomorrow. The Panama government is paying the passage of the prisoners, to each of whom was offered a month's salary, which offer was accepted by the majority.

Gen. Obaldia, former governor of the department of Panama, who is generally credited with having been fully cognizant of the secession movement, and who, owing to his sympathy with the movement, did not take governor of Panama inform the Colombian government of the true state of affairs on the Isthmus, is at liberty in Panama, of which city he is a native. The imprisonment following his arrest is looked upon as having been practically a farce, everybody knowing his sentiments and that he would never return to Bogota.

Generals Among Prisoners.

The prisoners sent on board the Leon XIII. include Generals Tovar and Amaya, former Prefect of Colon Cuadros and the former alcade of Colon, Senor Guerraro.

Gen. Huertas, commander of the battalion at Panama which deserted the Colombian government and joined the Panamanian revolutionists November 3, has been made commander-in-chief of the forces of the new republic.

A United States naval collier arrived here today with a full cargo.

But for the new uniforms of the volunteer soldiers of the young republic seen in the streets of Colon and the one Panamanian flag flying over the town hall there appears nothing in the daily life of this place to indicate a change of sovereignty. Porfirio Melendez, the new civil and military governor of Colon, today expressed his full realization of what Panama owed to the United States, calling that country "the new republic's powerful and generous godmother." Gen. Melendez said:

"Panama will be able to raise between 5,000 and 6,000 troops, partly armed, in case the necessity arises to resist a Colombian attack, but I do not believe that any such necessity will ever arise."

Cannot Send Troops Overland.

The governor said it was impossible for Colombia to send troops overland to the Isthmus because of the physical condition of the country.

It is apparent that United States warships will not permit any movement by sea of armed forces. Gov. Melendez tried to send 25 armed men to Porto Bello, but they were stopped by the United States gunboat Nashville and compelled to return. A schooner loaded with Panamanian troops was sent yesterday to Bocas del Toro, but they went unarmed. No news has yet been received here of any attempt on the part of Colombia to move troops to the Isthmus. The warships are examining all vessels arriving at Colon from Colombian ports and scrutinizing the passengers with the object of discouraging the landing of objectionable persons. The American warships have not yet saluted the flag of the new republic.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.---Late this afternoon the navy department received the following cablegram from Rear Admiral Glass, commanding the naval forces on the Isthmus:

"Everything is quiet at Panama. No sign of any dissatisfaction. It is reported that there are few Colombian troops at Buena Ventura. The Colombian gunboat Bogota sailed from Buena Ventura with troops aboard, but put back to port again. British steamers Manavi and Quito were unmolested."

The British steamers referred to are the two vessels which were detained by the Colombian government at Buena Ventura with a view to their use as transports for carrying troops to the Isthmus, but which were subsequently released.

Senor Bunau-Varilla, the minister from the republic of Panama, will call on the president tomorrow and be received as the minister from that republic.

Perry Thomas, another bridge worker, gave similar testimony. The inquest was continued until Thursday.

BRAVE SEAMEN SAVED VESSEL FROM FIRE FIEND

Torpedo Boat Destroyer Lawrence Had Narrow Escape from Destruction.

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 12.---The heroism of Lieut. R. I. Curtin and several seamen on board the torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence today saved that craft from destruction. A lighted candle, left by a workman on a wooden box in the vessel's forward compartment, caused a fire which burned much of the Lawrence's woodwork. It was extinguished by Lieut. Curtin and some seamen just before the flames reached the magazine in which a quantity of explosives was stored.

In their battle against the flames Lieut. Curtin and his men were so overcome by smoke that they lost consciousness after the fight was won and were hurried on board the cruiser Olympic for treatment. Their condition is not serious.

The fire occurred in a stuffy compartment directly adjoining the magazine and had gained considerable headway when it was discovered. The place was filled with a dense smoke that baffled the efforts of the crew and caused them to fall helpless to the steel floor. Time and again Lieut. Curtin dived into the fire chamber and emerged with the unconscious form of a seaman in his grasp. After a hurried resuscitation the seaman and his officer would return to the fight only to again succumb to the smoke. Finally the flames were extinguished and then the lieutenant was missed. A sailor plunged into the compartment and a second later came out with the limp body of the officer in his arms.

KAISER'S TROUBLE IS LIKELY CANCER

American Specialists on Throat Diseases Talk of German Emperor's Case.

ARE SUSPICIOUS FEATURES

Deception of Prof. Virchow by Dr. Morrell MacKenzie in Case of Wilhelm's Father Is Pointed Out---No Official Denial of Cancer Yet Made.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.---The statement in a dispatch from Berlin that Prof. Orth will not be permitted to explain the emperor's case to the Berlin medical society is regarded by New York physicians as practical confirmation of the general belief that cancer, the hereditary taint of the Hohenzollerns, has laid its clutches upon the kaiser.

That the emperor of Germany and his physicians hope that the disease may be eradicated from his system by the newly-discovered anti-toxin which Dr. Otto Schmidt of Cologne-am-Rhein claims to have used with sucessful results in 28 cases of cancer, appears probable in view of the fact that the operation on the kaiser followed within a very days of the announcement of Dr. Schmidt's discovery.

In spite of the efforts to make the public believe that the kaiser's affection is a simple and non-malignant one, the gravest fears are expressed in every quarter. While there is no disposition to doubt the accuracy of the pathological report made by Prof. Johann Orth on the nature of the polypus removed from the kaiser's vocal cord, yet New York surgeons who are interested in the case point out how easily Prof. Orth, who was not present at the operation, might have been deceived even as Sir Morrell Mackenzie deceived his illustrious predecessor, Prof. Rudolph Virchow, in the care of the late Emperor Frederick, the present kaiser's father. It is noteworthy that not a single official declaration that the kaiser is not suffering from cancer has been made.

Specialists Pessimistic.

Dr. Beman Douglass, one of the leading specialists in diseases of the throat, who studied in Berlin under Prof. Virchow, whose chair is now held by Prof. Orth, said today that unless the Schmidt cure is successful in the kaiser's case the only remedy to science to prevent the spread of the disease is the operation of laryngotomy, or the removal of the larynx.

"It is not to be wondered at," said Dr. Douglass, "that the greatest apprehension exists regarding the kaiser's condition when it is remembered that his father died of cancer of the throat, and his mother also succumbed to the same disease. Nor is it surprising that there has been no official acknowledgment of the nature of the kaiser's disease.

"In the case of his father, the Emperor Frederick, no official admission that he was suffering from cancer was ever made. Sir Morrell Mackenzie in that case successfully hoodwinked the greatest German pathologist, Prof. Virchow. The German surgeons attending the then crown prince had diagnosed his ailment as cancer of the larynx.

"Consternation prevailed, for under the German law he could not ascend the throne while suffering from an incurable disease. In that emergency Sir Morrell Mackenzie, Queen Victoria's personal surgeon, was sent over to Germany to serve his country by proving that the crown prince did not have cancer, thus allowing him to ascend the throne and his widow to receive the pension due to the exalted rank of empress, instead of drawing on her mother of the private purse for her support.

Prof. Orth May Be Deceived.

"I do not believe Prof. Orth would tell anything but the truth, but there arises the possibility that Dr. Otto Schmidt is serving his own country as Sir Morrell Mackenzie served his. The need for deception in the kaiser's case is not so great as it was in his father's, because he is already quite strong and there is some question whether an acknowledged case of cancer would be considered to fall within the law preventing the heirs of a monarch with an incurable disease to ascend the throne.

"The inference that the kaiser's condition is really cancerous is very strong. If, however, the tumor which Dr. Orth examined and which his pathological report shows very clearly to have been a benignant growth, was really the only evidence of disease found in the kaiser's throat, that fact does not make a favorable prognosis safe.

"Quite recently it has been found, in this country and in Germany that these apparently benignant tumors, when removed, are frequently followed by malignant ones, and where there is a cancerous tendency as in this case, such a recurrence is extremely likely."

Other noted specialists in New York took the same view of the gravity of the case.

Smallpox in Pleasant Valley.

In Pleasant Valley, O'Hara township, near Sharpsburg, there are 12 cases of smallpox. Dr. Batt of the state health board made his second visit this week to the Valley yesterday. J. E. Davis of Pleasant Valley died of smallpox yesterday. He was the second victim this week.

RAILS ARE KEY TO SITUATION

both the price of rails and the export freight rates.

Traffic officials who have been asked to attend the meeting stated today, however, that no demand for a reduction in the price of rails on condition that freight rates were reduced had been made, and that the traffic question would be decided wholly upon its own merits. No meetings have yet been held to consider the matter and reports circulated in Wall street today that a decision had been reached to reduce rates was officially stated to be untrue.

With the exception of the railroads which placed their orders for 1904 delivery about the time that the price was established by the pool, very few roads have notified the Steel company how many rails they would need in 1904. The Pennsylvania's order was the largest received. It was for 262,000 tons. Of this order the Steel Corporation received 118,000 tons, the Cambria Steel 42,000 tons, and the Pennsylvania Steel 42,000 tons. The Cambria and the Pennsylvania Steel Companies are controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad. One hundred thousand tons were ordered by the Harriman lines, 40,000 tons by the St. Paul and 60,000 tons by the Lake Shore. The St. Paul and Lake Shore orders were about 60 per cent as large as last year's orders.

With the exception of the Lake Shore, the Vanderbilt system has placed no rail orders. James J. Hill said a few days ago that his railroads were holding off. Inquiry made from officials of other systems, with offices in this city received the same reply:

"With the price of Bessemer pig around $15," said the head of one of the largest roads in the middle west, "steel rails cannot hold at $28 a ton. We have placed no orders. We are waiting for lower prices."

The purchasing agent of a conservative eastern line replied to the question whether his road had ordered rails:

"Why should it do so at $28 when it will get them later at $26 or $25 a ton?"

One authority said today that he understood the total orders received for 1904 delivery of rails were a little less than 800,000 tons, while estimates made last spring of the number of rails needed during 1904 indicated a demand for nearly 3,000,000 tons. FRANK A. PARKER.

ART IS MADE IN "TECH" WORK

ur A. Hamerschlag Arrives, epts the Position of Di- ctor and Begins Task.

Y OF SITE ARRANGED

been notified of my election as f the Carnegie Technical schools, pted the position and have al- en up the work," said Arthur chlag yesterday afternoon at he club.

erschlag reached Pittsburgh morning and was met during on by five of the members of ical schools committee and Sec- H. Church of the Carnegie in- board of trustees. He spent the y here, going then to Cincinnati. ill return to Pittsburgh early next and from now on will give active ention to the work.

"Until the first of January I expect to ve the greater part of my time to the echnical schools, at least three days a week," he said. "After January 1 all of my time will be given to this work."

Two advances in the progress of the ork were made yesterday. One was the ort in the business organization of the hnical schools. An office on the enth floor of the Carnegie building secured and Miss Sara E. Weir, who recently elected assistant treasurer he Carnegie Institute board, was ap- ted temporary secretary of the tech- l schools. The business organization to be perfected as rapidly as possible the work thoroughly organized.

he other advance made was in arrang- for a topographical survey of the 32- site given the technical schools by the city of Pittsburgh.

"As soon as we have this survey com- pleted there will be some accurate knowledge for the architects to work upon," said Director Hamerschlag. "That is as far as progress has been made in the architectural plans for the buildings. What changes, if any, are to be made in the topography of the site are yet to be decided upon."

The energetic manner in which Mr. Hamerschlag took hold of the work here made a favorable impression on those interested in the new schools. He was in conference yesterday afternoon with Prof. C. E. Connelley, who has charge of the manual training department of the Allegheny schools and was with Director Hamerschlag a fellow member of the committee of experts that outlined the plan and scope of the schools.

The members of the Institute board committee whom he met yesterday were Chairman William McConway, Prof. John A. Brashear, W. H. Stevenson, W. L. Scaife and W. N. Frew, president of the board. His familiarity with the kind of work planned was evident from the start and the methods of starting it which he proposed were adopted. The opinion was expressed yesterday that in Mr. Hamerschlag the committee has chosen a director who will direct

COMBINERS SEE MAYOR WILLIAM B. HAYS

Want to Force Bigelow Machine to Aid Them Secure a Re-election.

PIATT IS READY TO QUIT

Mayor W. B. Hays was closeted a long time yesterday afternoon with Select Councilmen John Upperman, J. W. Ruhlandt and John J. Shenkel. They are three prominent members of the select council combine, the organization that has been taken over by the Citizens party bosses.

After the conference, the combiners would not talk, and the mayor said that they had simply been swapping yarns. The general impression at city hall was that the combiners had called to demand that the Bigelow machine bosses keep their promises in relation to the re-election of the select councilmen who helped to hold up the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances. The members of the combine have found that the Republican party is opposed to their re-election, and their only hope lies in securing the assistance promised by the Citizens. The Bigelow machine managers have discovered that their deal with the combiners is extremely unpopular, and they are endeavoring to unload the councilmen. So far they have been unsuccessful.

Although Select Councilman James W. Piatt, despite the supreme court's decision against him, might hold his seat in council until the ouster judgment of the lower court has been put into execution, he has decided not to wait so long.

"I will attend no more meetings of select council," he said yesterday. "The supreme court has decided against me, and I do not intend to take advantage of technicalities. I have been told that I can hold my seat until the lower court renews judgment of ouster, but I will not wait for that."

What Peter J. Donahoe, select councilman, will do is not known. Donahoe is in Piatt's position, the supreme court having decided that he has forfeited his seat. It is believed, however, that Donahoe will compel those who have prosecuted the suit against him to move the lower court for judgment, and until that has been done he will continue to fill his seat.

In addition to Piatt, W. E. Sankey of the Twenty-seventh ward has been retired from councils by reason of his moving out of the ward. W. J. Rothweiler, the member of select from the Thirty-seventh ward, is very ill and will not be able to occupy his seat for a long time. This gives the Citizens a majority and will allow them to prove whether they are in earnest about abolishing the rump committees.

Reason for Abolishment.

That the abolishment of the rump committees would facilitate public business is considered to have been demonstrated yesterday by the action of the combine's sub-committee on corporations, composed of John Upperman, John H. Shenkel and John Benz. They were to hold a meeting yesterday afternoon, but only Shenkel and Upperman appeared. Two make a quorum of a committee of three, but Chairman Upperman decided that two were not a quorum, and beside, he said, John S. Dambie, president of select council, was not present, and he did not think anything ought to be done during Dambie's absence, for he was much interested in the ordinances before the sub-committee.

These ordinances are the same railroad ordinances that the combine has held up for months.

As chairman of the sub-committee Mr. Upperman received from Director Bigelow the estimate of acreage wanted by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in Glenwood, on the Monongahela wharf, and the acreage owned by the Pennsylvania railroad at the Point. The streets the Baltimore & Ohio desires to have vacated in Glenwood aggregate five acres, the area on the Monongahela wharf is 3 1-3 acres, only 19-22ds of an acre more than the Baltimore & Ohio station and trainshed already cover. The property owned by the Pennsylvania railroad at the Point aggregates 9 1-3 acres. The city clerk was directed to ask Director Bigelow for the area occupied by each street the Baltimore & Ohio wants vacated in Glenwood.

Orphans Can Be Adopted.

The "Orphans" secured a prominent recruit yesterday in George W. Guthrie. He handed Controller John B. Larkin a check for $100 as a contribution to the campaign fund and announced that he is in accord with the "Orphans." Mr. Guthrie has not assisted the Citizens party since the nomination of Hays for recorder.

President W. H. Stevenson of the "Orphans" organization was asked yesterday if a name had been found for the new party. He replied:

"We think that Orphans is good enough for the present. You know 'Orphans' can be adopted."

The "Orphans" will accept assistance from any party under one condition. The party must indorse the whole "Orphan" councilmanic ticket in a ward. The indorsement of one particularly strong candidate will not be permitted.

Thomas S. Bigelow yesterday made this statement about the present situation as it appears to him:

We are getting ready for the city election next spring, and, while I believe the fight will be warm, I feel confident of winning. Regarding candidates, I think it for the people of the wards to select the men they think could properly represent them. The Citizens party's city committee will act merely in an advisory way and will assist the ward organization where it can.

The practical thing for the Citizens party to do is to help elect the best men who are nominated in the various wards. If the candidate be a Democrat, an Orphan or a Citizen and he is the logical man for the place the Citizens party must add him. Politics it is well to take the world as we find it. Mr. Stevenson, in the Fourteenth ward, or Mr. Crawford in the Twentieth, are entitled to our support, providing they are candidates. I do not bear grudge against any man because he differs with me politically and the "Orphans" are not enemies but friends of mine. They are entitled to their beliefs and in many respects their policy is to be commended. However, I am told that all of the members of that band will not be candidates for re-election. Those who return to councils may receive the indorsement of our organization.

County Commissioner J. A. Clark and Timothy O'Leary conferred with the mayor yesterday. Clark asked for the appointment of John Lawley of the Twenty-first ward as city assessor. A. J. Barr urged the appointment of A. F. Keating for the assessorship.

A SKYSCRAPER FOR THE DIAMOND BANK

Plans Adopted for 12-Story Structure at Foot of Fifth Avenue.

TO COST ABOUT $1,250,000

Plans were decided on yesterday for the handsome new 12-story skyscraper to be erected by the Diamond National bank on the site of the present bank building, Fifth and Liberty avenues, and Union street. The exterior will be of simple and imposing design, with rich cornices and entrances entirely of granite, and will be shaped somewhat like a flatiron. The building, with the site, will cost about $1,250,000.

The president and board of directors of the bank awarded the commission to MacClure & Spahr of this city, who were architects of the Keystone building, the residence of William B. Schiller, D. P. Black and G. M. Laughlin, Jr., and other fine residences in the East End. The other architects who were asked to compete were Alden & Harlow and Thomas H. Scott of this city and Clinton & Russell of New York.

The foundation and steel frame of the building will be of such strength and design that it may in the future be extended to 20 stories without disturbing the tenants during the building of the addition. It will be of a modern fire-proof structure throughout.

The banking room will be richly furnished in marble, mosaic and solid bronze work, and will be the permanent home of this banking institution. The desks and offices of the officers of the bank will be fitted up with intercommunicating telephone system, bells and signals.

Savings Bank Department.

The banking room of the savings bank, also connected with this institution, will be smaller, but no less rich and complete than the National banking room, and will have a handsomely furnished room for ladies.

The magnificent entrance at Liberty and Fifth avenues will lead to a battery of five modern elevators equipped with automatic safety and door-operating devices. The elevators will each have a speed under full load of 600 feet per minute.

On the same floor with the banking rooms there will be a large, spacious, iron-armored, burglar and fire-proof safety deposit vault. The foundation will be solid masonry from the vault's floor to the bottom of the building foundations. The whole will be so constructed that if the building should fall on it it would remain intact.

The corridor will be finished in rich sienna and verde antique marbles with solid bronze elevator screens. Both banking rooms will be accessible from it. It also will contain a telegraph office and public telephone station.

Will Be Finely Finished.

The offices will be finished in mahogany and the corridors leading to them will have marble tile floor and Italian marble wainscot five feet high throughout the entire office stories. There will be a toilet room on each floor finished in this same marble. In addition, each office will contain a bowl enclosed in a handsome mahogany cabinet with hanging space for coats and hats.

The mechanical plant of the building will serve all the needs of the building, including electric light, heat, power for elevators, refrigerating plant to furnish cool drinking water throughout the building, compressed air-sweeping device and warming, ventilating and air-cooling and washing plant for the banking rooms and the toilets. The lot measures 50 feet in Union street, 82 feet in Fifth avenue and 82 feet in Liberty avenue, with a wall of 120 feet.

Work on the structure will begin April 1 of next year, and it is expected to be finished by December 1, 1904. The present structure was put up in 1875.

The officers of the Diamond National bank are William Price, president, and H. C. Wettengel, vice president. The Diamond Savings bank has as officers: William Price, president; H. C. Wettengel, first vice president; J. W. Lee, second vice president, and L. E. Busemen, cashier. The directors of each bank are the same, as follows: William Price, William A. Nimick, Albert C. Wettengel, William V. Callery, A. G. Barnett, John McLeod, Charles Donnelly, John W. Robinson, Albert L. Braham, W. B. Rodgers, Charles Parkin, J. P. McKinney, D. M. Clemson and Thomas Morrison.

The regular retail price for this grade of goods, $5.00 to $6.00 a pair.

Just in the nick o' time for Thanksgiving.

Recently we ran afoul of a great piece of good luck—a manufacturer of cutlery going out of business notified us that he had a quantity of Carving Knives and Forks that he would transfer to us for an insignificant price. Contract closed as soon as a wire could reach him—one stipulation: the goods must be exactly as stated, $5.00 to $6.00 grade.

The cutlery arrived yesterday, on sale today, Housefurnishing Department, Basement.

The handles are grained celluloid, or better known as imitation ivory; the blades are the best made in this country, and everybody knows that America produces the best steel in the world.

Each piece fully warranted and every pair new from the factory. Eight different styles of blades and handles, all marked at the one price of $2.75 a pair.

Two Special Offers in Separate Skirts.

Here they are, side by side, one an elegant type of dress skirt, the other a capital run-about skirt, and both of them very far below their regular prices.

$5.00

This is a fine all-wool gored Walking Skirt with straps and bands of same cloth arranged in attractive fshions.

Made by one of our best tailors from short lengths of cheviots and other cloths in black, navy, brown and a wide range of beautiful men's wear mixtures.

Identical with skirts of suits that we are showing at $25.00 and $35.00 the suit—really the skirts are regular $10.00 Walking Skirts, and you buy today for $5.00.

We might say the way we came to have these skirts is, they are made from pieces of cloths in which there was not enough for a full suit—hence they were cut up into skirts.

This is a case where there is a difference between our special price and the regular price of $12.25—the regular selling price being $30.00.

They are all silk, black crepe de chine Dress Skirts made over a Taffeta silk drop skirt with ruffles. Top skirt is tucked all over (seventy tucks), and some of the skirts have silk lace medallions forming a yoke effect over the pleats.

We doubt if there ever before was such another offer for handsome dress skirts, showing, as this one does, the great reduction from original price of the skirt. Of course it goes without showing that the skirts are up-to-date in model.

It isn't so very often that we have to say the quantity is limited, but in this case, and this applies to both kinds of skirts, each line has none too many.

Aluminum Cooking Utensils, 15 Per Cent Under List Prices.

Daily demonstrations are given in our Basement showing why cooking utensils of aluminum are best. The best way to show what is best is by practical and visual demonstration. By way of affirmation that these utensils are best, we say:

First—They are light in weight, bright as silver and absolutely pure and wholesome.

Second—There is no enamel or plating to flake or wear off, the finish is the natural finish of the metal.

Third—They will not burn or scorch food as readily as other metals.

Fourth—They retain heat longer than any other utensil.

Fifth—They do not contain nor form any of the poisonous substances found in iron, tin, copper and enameled wares.

Sixth—There are no joints, seams or solder, to leak and give trouble.

Seventh—They are finished in the very best possible manner.

Of course the vessels cost more than vessels of ordinary tin. You would expect that. But then you are getting a cooking utensil that will last a lifetime—they are practically indestructible. Our prices are 15 per cent below the regular price list.

Aluminum Pudding Pans, two quarts, 50c.
Aluminum Sauce Pans, two quarts, 55c.
Aluminum Preserving Kettles, 4 quarts, 85c.
Aluminum Double Boiler, one quart, $1.30.
Aluminum Griddles, 12 inches, $1.80.
Aluminum Tea Kettles, 5 quarts, $2.95.

Last Call on St. Mary Blankets

Couldn't have asked for more favorable help from the weather than has been given us this week on this special sale of St. Mary Blankets.

There is not the choice there was Monday when this sale started, but there are enough left of the large purchase to enable us to say good choice left for today. The St. Mary Blankets are of a high grade, but in buying a large quantity direct from the factory the manufacturer granted us quite a concession in price. The difference between our special price and the regular price will be noted by the following quotations:

$4.00 a pair for $6.00 grades of St. Mary Wool Blankets.

$4.75 a pair for $7.00 grades of St. Mary Wool Blankets—white, red, gray.

$5.50 a pair for $8.00 Unshrinkable Blankets, white and plaid.

$6.00 a pair for $8.50 St. Mary Wool Blankets, white, red and gray.

$7.00 a pair for $10.00 grades of all white Ohio Fleece Blankets.

$8.00 a pair for $13.50 grades of Colonial Blankets, a mountain of wool—soft, fluffy, fleecy.

$9.00 a pair for the same grade of Blanket, the only difference being they present a mottled appearance.

$19.00 a pair for $25.00 grades of St. Mary Blankets, each blanket finished separate, an extra size, and each blanket of the extra weight of 10 lbs.

Friday, November 13, 1903.

A storm of considerable intensity prevailed over the northwest yesterday and it is but natural it should find its way in this direction. The season of mild autumn weather has been unusually protracted, the winds being tempered to the shorn lamb, indeed. But even the most delightful of seasons must come to an end. Wintry blasts are overdue and while they may not come to stay they are sure to come. Western Pennsylvania can have no just complaint when they do come, for it has enjoyed all that finest weather could confer.

There is much of interest in an analysis of the returns of the late county election. The important matter, of course, is that the Republican candidates for county offices have been elected by substantial majorities. Most people are satisfied with that knowledge. Yet the figures will repay a closer study. The demoralization of the Democratic vote is apparent at a glance. On the state ticket there is a pitifully small Democratic vote and the indications are that some thousands of Democrats were befooled into voting the "Citizens" ticket straight. Of course they will not do it again. They are wiser now. But the effect is just the same. There are other details that are interesting, if not instructive, which the people may find as well as the politicians.

Mr. Hamerschlag, the choice of the Carnegie trustees as head of the technical school, has accepted the position. The selection was a wise one, as in addition to approved competency for the duties of the position Mr. Hamerschlag brings to the task the enthusiasm and endurance of youth. The first efforts of the director will be directed to a study of European appliances and methods for technical training. Mr. Hamerschlag is familiar with the work of American technical schools, but of late years Europe has made great advances in that branch of education and a personal investigation of the work that is being done will be an advantage in making plans for the Carnegie school. The starting of the school need not be deferred until the completion of the buildings. Lectureships can be established, classes formed and work begin, so that systematic growth will go on so that as the buildings are completed their proper occupancy will be ready in advance. It will not be long before the Carnegie technical school is an actual reality.

Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee has introduced a bill to give effect to the Cuban reciprocity treaty and it was at once referred to the committee. The objectionable action of the senate in introducing into the treaty a limitation upon the authority of the house over revenue legislation is disposed of by a declaratory clause setting forth that nothing in the bill shall be construed as an admission on the part of the house that customs duties can be changed otherwise than by an act of congress originating in the house. This avoids a point which might have made trouble. Under the rules of the house there is no opportunity for a hold-up and in due time the bill will be put to vote and passed. Under the rules of the senate action of any kind is practically impossible save by unanimous consent, and hence there is no telling what will become of the bill, but the prospect is that the senate will not again dare to thwart action, which is simply an indorsement of its own previous act.

In convention the Federation of Labor has taken a step backward from the attitude of the executive committee upon the Miller case. The committee recognized a difference between public and private employment. The convention declares that organized labor cannot recognize the "open shop" in either private service or the service of the government. This is unwise, especially if there be any attempt to give the declaration force. President Roosevelt stated the case with absolute truthfulness and fairness when he said the government of the United States in dealing with its citizens or its employes cannot make distinctions on account of race, color, religion, politics or affiliations. To the government a man is a man and it makes no difference whether he be union or non-union as long as he does his work in the manner he is paid for doing it. Any other conception of the case is ridiculous, and if union laborers refuse to work in a government shop with non-union men they will simply have to find employment elsewhere.

The Post preaches a homily upon the decline of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, which it attributes to the disgust inspired by the spectacle of the party organization in Philadelphia acting in collusion with the Republican city machine. It says: "The Philadelphia trading and corruption have not only wiped out the Democratic party in that great city, but has weakened and relaxed proper party effort throughout the state." Is Philadelphia the only place where the Democratic party organization has become the annex of a local ring? The columns of the Post will testify that is just what happened to the Democratic party of this city when the nomination of Hays was forced through the Democratic city convention against the protests of the Post, and the Democratic party was involved in the rebuke to ring rule which the Post has confessed to be the significance of the recent election. By the aid it gave the Citizens movement the Democratic party helped to break down the system of ring rule which had fastened upon the Republican party, but it has itself succumbed to that system, while the Republican party has escaped.

Councilmanic Nominations.

The policy in regard to the municipal election outlined by Mr. T. S. Bigelow indicates that the intention is to maintain intact so far as possible the present councilmanic situation. In pursuance of this policy Mr. Bigelow even goes so far as to say that the Orphans who have revolted from the control of his organization will not be opposed by it in all the wards. Such a policy applied in all the wards is obviously calculated to give the "air-tight combine" the best possible chance of preserving itself. The members of the "combine," who pose as Republicans, will doubtless endeavor to obtain the party nomination again, and as they will have only the ward organizations to deal with, the aid of the Citizens' organization will be valuable to them, both in securing the nomination and in seeking re-election at the polls.

Meanwhile, the effort will be made to impress upon corporations having business with the city that it will be cheaper for them to deal privately for what they want than to rest their case upon its merits. The plan is to punish them for refusing to deal by piling up demands nominally for advantage of the public, but really as an excuse for continuing the hold-up. The public is interested in having the improvements made which are contemplated by the corporations, and if negotiations were honestly conducted arrangements could be effected by which the corporations would make satisfactory compensation for the privileges sought, but the combiners are now trying to take the position that they are holding out for better terms to the city. The falsity of the pretense is well understood, but care must be taken that public opposition to their methods is represented by appropriate candidacy in the various wards.

The Orphans have outlined the correct policy in their address to the public, in which they urge independent action in every ward of the city. Far exceeding any party interest in importance is the election of councilmen of the character described in the address—"competent, trustworthy, independent men, who are not obligated to any political combine or clique." In the present emergency ordinary party antagonism cannot be relied upon to furnish voters with an alternative choice, for the reorganized ring includes some refuse from the Republican party, as well as the new ingredients supplied by the Citizens organization, so that it is quite possible that in some wards both party candidates may be running in the interest of the ring. The energies of reformers should be specially directed to the election of independent candidates to select council, so as to break up the air-tight combine and abolish the rump committees.

In approving the policy outlined by the Orphans we are serving the best interests of the Republican party organization. It is certainly of no party advantage to have elected on its ticket candidates who are Republicans for revenue only and who in their capacity as councilmen act in collusion with the proprietors of the Citizens' organization. It was a fortunate circumstance for the Republican party that the true affiliations of the air-tight combine were displayed in the election of the clerk of select council and by their open connection with Chairman Verner. The effort is now being made to unload them from the Citizens organization and to subject the Republican party to responsibility for their conduct, but this responsibility should be avoided, even if it involves disregard of party labels in the election of members of councils. The Republican party is well rid of them by whatever means the riddance is effected.

Preserving the Peace.

It isn't worth while to be severe with the New York American, which pretends indignation because the administration at Washington recognized the de facto government of the new-born republic of Panama, instead of producing a condition of anarchy and bringing on a period of guerilla warfare by refusing recognition. It is a part of the capital stock of the American to be indignant with the national administration, and it does not impair its assets if it can help it by giving its consent to any administration policy. If the government at Washington had refused to recognize the new republic the American would have boiled over with professional virtuous indignation. But as things are as they are, it naturally devotes itself to fevered assertions of how much better they would be if they were different. As the United States isn't oppressing Panama the New York American pictures the government as an oppressor of Colombia, whereas if it wasn't standing in the way of Colombia it would be featured as the oppressor of Panama. As a matter of fact the government isn't in the oppression business. It is simply keeping the peace on behalf of the world. The United States is policing its streets as it ought to do, and it ought to do more of it than it has been doing. It was slow to begin, as witness the following declaration of the Daily American:

> The United States would not recognize the insurgent government of Cuba that had maintained itself by force of arms for three years against Spanish domination.
> But it recognized the Panama republic 24 hours after it had been declared, and not only recognized it, but served notice on the Colombia federals that they would not be permitted to crush the Panama rebellion.

There isn't any question now but that it would have been much better if the United States had put Spain out of business in Cuba long before it did so. But that it did not do so is not a good reason for giving consent to a period of warfare on the isthmus. Furthermore, this country is under obligation to preserve free transit across the isthmus to the world, while no such obligation rested upon it with regard to Cuba. Nevertheless, we did not act in Cuba as soon as we ought to have acted, and that is a very good reason for being prompt in Panama and taking command of the situation before any killing was begun. There will be peace on the isthmus, thanks to the national administration, and with no thanks to its New York critic. In insuring peace we are attending to our proper business. The world expects it of us, inasmuch as we resent its interference in that quarter, and it really expects us to do better than we have done.

Serious Liver Trouble.

A gentleman of some standing in educational circles, but who has probably had little to do with practical affairs, let himself loose yesterday for the benefit of the young fraters of his Greek Letter society. In roundest terms he denounced what he is pleased to call the "imperialism" of America. Within that term he included the occupation of the Philippines and the recognition of the de facto government of Panama. Thus in the learned gentleman's Greek Letter opinion it is imperialism to deny full independence to the Filipinos, and it is imperialism to recognize the full independence of Panama. The administration which does both of these things is imperialistic.

A number of distinguished persons—more or less distinguished—have preceded the Greek letter gentleman in this course of reason. Some of them have argued well, but none of them convincingly. The American people are too well aware that they are the government to take seriously the charge that the government is imperial, or that it is developing imperial tendencies. They are more prone to regard the gentlemen who become panicky upon this subject as being victims of a bad habit of the human liver. They are mental dyspeptics who take a bilious view of things and they might do more for the general happiness of the United States by taking a little calomel than by airing their opinions before the public.

It is quite natural that foreigners should find fault with the American conduct of affairs. It surprises no one to find the German press carping about Panama. It is no shock to see the Toronto Mail and Empire, not yet recovered from the Alaska boundary decision, scolding about the American conduct on the isthmus. They are not directly interested in the United States and owe no allegiance to the government. But it is different with the bilious college professors and editors in this country, who appear to think they have a mission in life to find fault with the policies of their own country. They should take something for it before the habit becomes fixed. Possibly the New York Post and the Pittsburgh Post are already incurable, but this college professor may yet be reclaimed. He has fallen into bad company, but his case may not be hopeless.

Immigrants Are Emigrants.

A good deal has been said of the enormous influx of foreigners into this country during the past few years. The totals have been so large and the class of the incoming immigrants so different from accepted American standards that it has seemed a very serious problem. The tide has not stopped by any means, but an encouraging counter current is noticed. During October there was an exodus of new citizens approximating the number of 27,000. At the first intimation of a contraction of our abounding prosperity these have fled to their native shores. They have taken with them American gold, it is true, but from our abundance we can spare all they have been able to save.

This outward movement of recent arrivals is one of the compensations for a contraction of industrial activity. The next symptom will be the checking of the incoming current. Then there will be an increase in the outgoing multitude, leaving more work and more of material prosperity for those who remain. This exodus is always from the non-assimilable element. Immigrants who reach our shores and find a way to amalgamate with the American population never go back. They are welcome to remain. But those who find nothing in American institutions to attract them have nothing to stay for and the pinch of hard times sends them back whence they came. We are glad to see them go. And we hope that before they turn again this way in pursuit of the nimble dollar, but without a thought of good citizenship, they will find the doors closed against them. There is room in this country yet for thousands of industrious immigrants who are seeking new homes under better conditions; who are weary of class distinctions and desire to give their posterity an equal opportunity with the most favored. That sort will assimilate themselves and make good citizens. For the other kind there is really no room. They ought to be shut out.

When Senator Hoar objects to hearing from the people on the Reed Smoot matter on the ground that "the determination of Mr. Smoot's rights is a purely judicial proceeding," and that "petitions are as much out of place when addressed to this court (the senate), as if addressed to the supreme court of the United States in any case pending before that tribunal," he overlooks the fact that the people appear before the senate court as prosecutors. There is usually a prosecutor, senator, as well as a defendant and a court, and the people outers approach the court through the avenues open to them.

The dirigible balloon of the Cleandy brothers sailed 44 miles yesterday, and they are elated over it. That is nothing—the trouble with dirigible balloons hasn't been in getting them to sail, but in getting them to stop.

The boat builders are still on a strike because they are not allowed to wear gloves. At the same time there is a strike in a glazed kid factory near Philadelphia, but there is no connection between the two.

While Mr. Bryan declares his belief that all Democrats will be united at the polls, he keeps on entirely safe ground by making it apparent that those who do not unite are really not Democrats.

Mr. Mosely's commission of educators have flitted for New York and tomorrow will take the boat for Liverpool. Evidently they learned enough in Pittsburgh to serve all their purposes.

While there is a great deal of talk concerning Mr. Rockefeller these days, he continues to say nothing. However, it is understood that his money talks on in the same old way.

Although Mr. Bryan has never before crossed the ocean he has stood on the beach. Therefore he will understand that all that water doesn't come from Wall street.

A Plea for a Good High School.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Dear Sir—Having noticed an article in your paper some time ago in reference to the condition of Central high school, let me add that I agree with the person as to the unsanitary condition of the building. How can we expect our faithful teachers to put in month after month and year after year, as well as our children, and not feel the effects of such a building, not to speak anything of its overcrowded condition? As to the training our children receive, it has no equal, provided they apply themselves. This is acknowledged by professors of many colleges and universities who receive some of the high school pupils. Then why not expend enough of our money to buy a beautiful site and build a school that would be an ornament, as well as a place for our children to get a first-class preparatory education? Have it adorn our city, as well as our beautiful parks and libraries. The teachers would then be encouraged by having a great many more different classes of children and the parents could send their sons and daughters without feeling that it was an injury to the health of such.

Respectfully,
MOTHER OF TWO BOY GRADUATES.

Congress and Panama.

Some curiosity is said to exist in congressional circles on the subject of affairs on the isthmus of Panama. There is intimation of the existence of a suspicion that the administration has been guilty of skulduggery, and we are promised an effort to lay bare the foul conspiracy, or something to that effect. There may be pitfalls in such a path, but there are people who seem to enjoy broker shins. They sprawled in the Hawaiian business, and again in the Cuban business, and now a third opportunity presents itself. Every man to his taste. Congress is here, and here to do business, and if there is any political capital in impeaching the government while outsiders seem to approve, now is the time to gather it in. The administration has taken its stand and has no thought of retreating.—Washington Star.

THE MAGIC-LANTERN SHOW.

I've read of shows they hev in towns an' some are pretty nice,
An' I hev seen "Old Uncle Tom" an' Spangle's circus twice;
But there's a show we hev each month an' we don't fail to go,
An' that's the one in Gruber's hall—the magic lantern show.

They hang a card in Jason's store an' one in Oldham's too,
An' then they get the tickets out on strips of cardboard blue;
An' all the gals are agents an' they get you every time,
An' gosh they never leave you till they get that perky dime.

But it is worth a dime an' more to see those changin' scenes,
The shepherd hills of Palestine, the ancient kings and queens,
The temples of Jerusalem, King Solomon's great tomb,
The Jordan an' the Ganges where the brilliant poppies bloom.

An' then each time they change a slide the room is awful dark,
An' we all closer to the gals an' take the chance to "spark,"
You see then kissin' all aroun' an' whisperin' "Let go!"
Well, you can bet we never miss the magic-lantern show.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

To marry or not to marry, is the question before the unmarried throng.

Many of the waiting ones, and especially those who have anxious grown, seem to regard marriage or getting married as a sort of picnic.

The dear butterfly girl thinks it would be just splendid to play the star part in a stylish wedding. She is willing to wait a whole year in order that she may make a real stunning appearance.

The announcement of her engagement is made the excuse for a dinner, or some sort of blowout. And then at proper intervals she figures as star guest at other functions, and gets her name and that of her dance, or "feller," as the other fellows say, in the papers. This enables her to keep in the bright light.

She is going to have a wedding, and it must be a splendid affair and to that end she must go a-shopping almost daily, work the dressmaker into nervous spells, wear the telephone out calling up her dear boy and tax her poor mind to the limit with divers sudden changes.

But she is going to marry.

What for?

O, just to have a wedding.

And then what?

Right there she flares up and wants to know why some people are forever asking fool questions. Besides she is going to marry, and that is enough to think about and to worry over for the present.

* * * * *

By the way, why do you want to marry, or what are you marrying for?

This may strike you as a fool sort of a question. Or you may think it isn't anybody's business, or, at least, it doesn't concern anybody.

And you will be right, so far, for outsiders have no business nebbing in, since you are the one that is to suffer, or to enjoy the results of your venture.

However, you needn't take umbrage at the question, for there are a lot of folks who have a warm side for you and would like you to do well, and to get along happily and prosperously, and that is the reason they ask why you are going to marry.

So, if you will just sit down and scratch off your answer, or answers, we will print them. True answers will be read with a great deal of interest not only by those who are about to marry, but by those who are married and can't tell why, as well as those who are not married but are willing to be.

In fact, there isn't anything a bride-elect can do that will give more satisfaction to women and men of all classes, young and old, married and unmarried, than to tell right out plain and honest why she is going to get married.

As deeply interesting and highly important as this question is and ever has been, but few attempts have been made to answer it truthfully.

* * * * *

There is probably least love and affection where there is most show and bluster.

This is probable, although there are those who contend that long engagements and big weddings are reliable indications that there is more desire to make a big display, get a lot of presents and create a large amount of talk than to satisfy the longings of loving hearts.

While this is only probably true, it is supported by the reasonable fact that those who truly love each other and desire to marry to secure the close companionship of each other, do not care to display their affection before the public, nor to have their love affairs talked about, commented on and criticised.

These naturally prefer a quiet wedding, a quiet home and a quiet life. Thus may they enjoy the companionship they so much desired. Nor is this a selfish feeling, but a generous one, because it commands the respect of all who see and know the fruits of love. Rather are those selfish who make great display and challenge the whole neighborhood to beat it.

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer.—What do you think of rich American girls carting their money over to Europe and giving it to titled snobs to squander?

Are there not plenty of good men right here at home who could make good use of the money? Would it not enable some of our enterprising sons to rise in the world and make names for themselves?

In most instances it goes to pay the debts of profligates, which is not the use to which those who made the money intended to put it.

Of course, these girls have a legal right to do with their own what they will, but have they the moral right to do so? Is not every man and woman bound to loyalty to the old flag, and are they not morally bound to prefer their own country, and their own institutions, and their own people to any other?

There may have been instances where true love prompted these international marriages, but the majority of them—a large majority—appear to have been made on the barter and sale plan. In some the conditions have been clearly and plainly announced: No money, no title. Terms spot cash before delivery of the goods.

To an American this is disgusting.

East End, City. ANDERSON.

That is one way of looking at it, but there are other points of view from which it looks different, some of these are set forth in the following excerpts from a long letter bearing on the subject.

Mr. Quiet Observer.—If you please, I would like to say to your readers that it is about time for Americans to resolve to be Americans at all times and in all places.

But if any there be who are not possessed of loyal American hearts and prefer some other country, or some other people, let them go in peace, bag and baggage, fortune and all. If they can be of any use anywhere it is where their hearts are.

These thoughts were aroused by hearing some young men criticising Miss Goelet and other American girls whose fathers had accumulated fortunes in this country, for marrying foreigners, mostly fortune hunters.

When they got through I ventured to remark that it was a good thing, at which they were much surprised.

However, I contended that in all probability these girls and their money would only demoralize some of our young men, thereby doing more harm than good.

Then I asked if there was one among them who would sell himself to a woman to be bossed and badgered around, and even made to feel that she owned him and have it thrown up to him that he had married her money and not her, and reminded every now and again that it is her money that is keeping him?

While this would be bad enough, it would be even worse to have his friends say of him that he had married her for her money, and that he couldn't call his life his own. To me this would be a dog's life, and such, I think, it would be to any man possessed of the spirit of a true American.

One of the young men said he would marry her if she was so ugly that he would have to wear smoked goggles when he looked at her. A glance at his physiognomy satisfied me that he would do anything for money, so I paid no attention to his remark.

Now, my dear, you would say to let all such American girls take their money and go. They don't belong here, and the country is better off without them. As for their money, I much prefer to see it squandered by titled spendthrifts who never have nor never will earn a dollar, than to make spendthrifts with it here at home. Money thus used is badly used, and brings good to none, but helps to keep up a lot of paupers.

Bellevue, Pa. AMERICUS.

Thus you see there is another side to the question. It may not be your side, and yet you can hardly refuse to admit there is something in it.

The woman who is not a loyal, true American at heart may scarcely be depended upon to become a good wife for a good and enterprising American. And particularly if she is ambitious to wear a title and willing to give her whole future for it.

The true American woman of fortune is more likely to choose an enterprising American for a life partner, and aid and assist him in accomplishing something creditable and worth while. There is much to be proud of in this, while there is little or nothing in a cheap title.

The titled fortune hunters expect to be badgered and nagged by their wives, but to make sure they can't cut them off if they demand a cash settlement before marriage. Thus this sort of a coach they can clamp their fingers at their American wives and tell them to go to.

Obstructionists.

The Democrats in congress have not decided yet what their policy shall be in reference to the Panama complication. After the majority have defined their position, then the Democratic opposite it, whatever it may be. The Democratic party ought to know by this time that it does not make much progress in the policy of obstruction.—Buffalo Commercial.

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Mayor Low has made up his mind what he will do as soon as his successor is sitting in the mayor's chair in city hall. This has been a hard campaign and aside from that Mayor Low has worked hard through the two years that he has been at the head of the city government. Now he wants a rest. He will devote a month to personal business connected with his estate and then he will go abroad four months. This will bring him well into the spring. After that he will go to North East harbor for a while and when Theodore Roosevelt is nominated for president to succeed himself, Mr. Low will take the stump for him. It is assumed, of course, that Mr. Roosevelt will be the choice of the Republican convention. Mayor Low believes so, anyhow. One of the misconceptions about the mayoralty of New York is that the $15,000 salary will cover all expenses of the term and leave a few loose dollars in the pocket of the incumbent at the end of the two years. It is said by Mayor Low's friends that he has spent $100,000 in the last two years for the privilege of being mayor of Greater New York. He has paid the expenses of entertaining guests of the city out of his own pocket, one of those guests having been Prince Henry. It is stated positively that he will not become president of Columbia university again. He said he would never go back when he resigned two years ago to become mayor.

Militia Officer Couldn't Stick On.

Brooklyn national guard soldiers are making fun of a certain lieutenant of Troop C because he fell off his horse the other night. They say that an officer who cannot stick on his horse should join the infantry. There is the more point to the joke because the unfortunate officer is a brother of a re-elected dignitary of the municipal administration.

Devery's Spirit Conquered at Last.

Not much is seen of "Big Bill" Devery nowadays. The "pump," at Twenty-eighth street and Eighth avenue, is still decorated in the national colors and the saloon at the corner has golden representations of the pump on its plate glass windows, while the Devery association rooms across the avenue still carry the name of the organization on the sun blinds. But Bill is not seen. He is more subdued than he has been for several years. His sworn statement as required by law is that it cost him in election expenses in the late campaign $10,858 88—and he did not get there either.

Mill Girls, Floods and Strikes.

One of the sad effects of the recent floods in New Jersey is that girls working in a cotton mill in Passaic have been able to earn only 75 cents a week. The flood threw much of the machinery out of commission. The girls are on strike, but that does not seem likely to help matters. The flood is blamed for the whole trouble.

Another Politician With a Tale of Woe.

Abe Gruber, a prominent Republican leader, is down on the Citizens union, which was the backbone of the fusion party. He says the C. U. under Fulton Cutting is an "immoral party." He does not explain exactly how he arrives at this conclusion, although his enemies intimate that it is because Gruber was not allowed to manipulate affairs for his own political candidate. It is not likely that the Citizens union will be much hurt by this cabal, although Gruber says he is in earnest.

Fuller Company Confronts a Strike.

More strikes in Manhattan. The Fuller Company is having trouble with its bricklayers, stonecutters and ironworkers and work has been stopped on two big buildings. One of them is on the site of Macy's old store at Sixth avenue and Fourteenth street, where traffic has been grievously obstructed for months. As this is in the heart of the shopping district, the strike means a great deal of annoyance to women, and there is no telling when it will end. If ever the people of a city were sick of strikes it is New York. It seems that the trouble is all over a technical matter, too, which has been the foundation of practically all the labor disputes in this city for a year.

Pretty Face Is Missing.

"Pretty Julia" was the way frequenters of the Tenderloin as well as the police spoke of a young woman who died in a wretched room in an East Side tenement last night. It is some years since Julia could be called pretty. Dissipation had destroyed her beauty long before she turned her face to the wall and gasped out her life, and people who knew her 15 years ago in upper Broadway would not have recognized her. She had such a noticeably handsome face and figure in the old days that the police used to say she could carry off the first prize in an international beauty show if there should be one.

An Expensive Monument.

When a Brooklyn man named Weissel died two years ago leaving an estate of $50,000, his will provided that a monument to cost at least $25,000 should be placed over his grave. His widow thought this extravagant and she settled down to use the money in the necessaries of life. The supreme court made her build the monument, and now she is a bankrupt, with liabilities which have grown to $42,947. She still thinks the monument cost too much.

Vanderbilt and the Horse Show.

Reginald Vanderbilt is arranging to spend a pleasant winter in New York. Incidentally, he has the horse show in mind, for he has just rented a two-story stable in East Seventy-third street. It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt will not entertain to much extent in the metropolis this season.

"Owl" Passengers Are Obstinate.

It is becoming a regular performance for passengers on late trolley cars to become recalcitrant when a conductor tells them they must "take the car ahead." It would be an easy thing to move, of course, but it is a peculiarity of "owl car" passengers to be obstinate and aggressive and in five cases out of six the crowd on the car declares it will not take the car ahead and what is the conductor going to do about it? Seventy-five passengers on a Bronx car asserted their right as free Americans to set the conductor at defiance last night. They would not move and they laughed at the threat of the conductor to "run them into the barn for the night." They carried their point, for the car had to take them to the terminus, much to the disgust of the conductor, who had to make the extra trip without pay. But the glorious principle that trolley passengers have rights was vindicated, and that was the main thing, after all.

Democratic Views.

The Constitution only recently urged president to abandon dickering with Colo and turn to the Nicaragua alternative now ed in the Spooner act. But now the cour events brings the Panama route into easy tain and conclusive reach. But now course of events gives us the approv under better conditions of control that demanded, the time is arrived when ship should keep hands off the p Every patriot should stand by the it is and proceed to back up the gov one man.—Atlanta Constitution.

Senator Hanna feels assured that the int vention in Panama makes the location of interoceanic canal there a certainty. His ass ance is rather superfluous; moreover, it is the end but the means which is the subject criticism. There are a good many peopl the United States who have striven mightil convince their fellow-citizens of the incomp ble superiority of the Panama location, t many were advocates of this route years b Senator Hanna took up the fight when the tory had been practically won. The Democratic leaders in congress should be exceedingly careful not to place the party in a false position before the country through over eagerness to make a point against the other party or to embarrass the prospective Republican candidate for the presidency. There have been suggestions of two contemplated movements, either of which would be unfortunate. Nothing of advantage can be gained by pursuing a factional course regarding the recognition of the new republic of Panama. It may be admitted that the recognition was unusually prompt—suspiciously prompt, it may plausibly be claimed—and that there was a curious coincidence between certain movements of United States officials and the bloodless revolution on the isthmus. Moreover, that revolution could scarcely have occurred at a more opportune moment for our interests. With all that admitted, there remains the indisputable fact that no step was taken by the United States government that has not its justification in our treaty rights and obligations on the isthmus, and that the revolution was complete and a de facto government in effective control before the United States gave it the support of even quasi-official recognition.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The single exception to the orgy of chicane and cant is that the railway ring is left out in the cold. Colombia is nowhere. The thieves about Bogota, who, at the instance, partly of their own greed and partly of old transcontinental, held up the Hay-Herran treaty, are literally swamped. The shanks of the lobby sicken their eyes and stink worse than ever. But the loot is secured. In the light of these events we begin to perceive not only why the president has displayed such amazing reserve in the matter of the execution of the mandatory clause of the Spooner act, but also why certain newspapers, notably certain southern newspapers, have supported him in this policy. If the Colombian canal issue is to be taken out of the presidential campaign, the canal must be in hand and under way before the day of election.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The material interests of the south imperatively demand that a canal shall be constructed across the isthmus that will open the ports of the Pacific ocean and the ports of Asia and Australasia to the commerce of our gulf ports, thus giving this section the same important with respect to Oriental traffic as the Atlantic seaboard possesses toward the trade with Europe. * * * No trivial obstacles should be allowed to stand in the way of a consummation so desirable as this. No petty considerations of small partisan political advantage should be interposed to check the fruition of plans fraught with inestimable benefits to this and every other section of our country. Vague generalizations about territorial expansion, transcontinental railroad influences, "ditch of death," and all such nonsense should be suffered to distract attention from the substantial, supreme purpose to which the people of this country have addressed themselves in connection with a waterway through the isthmus.—Memphis Scimitar.

Senator Hanna says the Panama canal will surely be built, and it is to be hoped that his prediction will be fulfilled with as little delay as possible. This is not a party question; it is an enterprise necessary to the fulfillment of the destiny of the giant young republic, the United States of America.—Harrisburg Patriot.

German's Chances.

As a member of the federal senate Mr. G man has been a useful friend to the sugar t and Wall street, it is understood, holds him high regard. But neither Wall street nor trusts will elect the next president of the United States. The people will do that. As the likely candidate of his party, Mr. Gorman's chances seem to be exceedingly favorable; as the successful candidate before the people, his chances would be scarcely worth considering.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Nothing Else to Do.

Fair-minded men on this side of the Atlan will concur in the unanimous verdict pr nounced by European onlookers as to the p priety of the position assumed by our said government toward the new republic of P ma. All attempts to discredit the motive impeach the conduct of our state depart will prove futile. We have simply done duty in the premises. There was nothi for us to do.—New York Sun.

talk of deposing Col. James M. s Democratic leader in Pennsyl- a absurd. It cannot be done. No who would be influential in such a ment wants Guffey to step down and Why? Because he personally nows every state and county fight; cause no one stands ready to take his lace if he were forced to retire. I per- sonally know that Col. Guffey, in the contest just closed gave $7,500 to the Democratic organization of Philadelphia to pay workers on election day. He did this in order that full party vote would be polled. And this was not the only sum of expense borne individually by Mr. Guffey."

The above statement was made to the writer by a prominent Democratic leader of Philadelphia. His position is such as to make authoritative any declaration re- garding the expenditure of money so far as the regular Democratic city or- ganization is concerned.

The annual post-election fight against Col. J. M. Guffey's leadership is on. It is asserted that the Democratic party in Pennsylvania is to be reorganized; that a new leader, or leaders, are to be selected. And, after saying all this the postscript is added: "There is no inten- tion to depose Col. J. M. Guffey."

The Gazette correspondent has investi- gated the so-called "reorganization" movement. Inquiry develops that all or nearly all of the charges made against the present Democratic leadership in the state are true; that since Col. Guffey be- came "it," de jure and de facto, the party's congressional, legislative and county prestige has slumped; tremend- ously slumped. Meanwhile Guffey paid the freight. He was in the saddle. The Republicans were running national and state affairs. Prosperity with a big "P" was doing business. Col. Guffey could not have changed conditions if he so desired and it is not to be believed that he wanted a change.

Opponents of Guffey charge that he is a "boss." The charge is true. They assert that he, personally, selects Demo- cratic candidates for governor and other state offices and then compels the state convention to indorse and nominate his men. It would be hard for the colonel to establish an alibi or make defense to this count in the blanket indictment.

Also, it is alleged that he dictates the party policy, frames its platforms, and compels his lieutenants to look pleasant when they announce to the people his conclusions. And this, too, is a state- ment Mr. Guffey would not take the trouble to deny. He might ask if he were not too diplomatic, like the late lamented Pittsburgh Citizens party boss, what they are going to do about it?

But the colonel is letting the other fellows answer their own question. Thus far they have not "got the answer." They need an angel and no one is willing to wear Guffey's wings even if they were clipped. If some man like William F. Harrity or Senator J. Henry Cochran—both have barrels—were to go after the state leadership there would be an inter- esting situation. Harrity has intimated that he might again take up politics as a diversion, but as yet he has made no move. Friends of Senator Cochran say he is not ambitious.

Others mentioned as liable to wear Guffey's crown need not be seriously reckoned with. Ex-Congressmen Kerr and Mutchler, ex-Senator Hainle of Cen- tre, Mayor Vance McCormick of Harris- burg and Representative Myers of Cum- berland, do not measure up to the re- quired financial standard, and even if they did, they have not established repu- tations for political prodigality. They would not, for instance, appeal to an organization like the Philadelphia Demo- cratic city committee.

In view of these and other reasons it is safe to assume that Col. Guffey will not be unhorsed and that he will have the support of Pennsylvania if he tries to become Democratic national chairman.

ENGLISH EDUCATORS LIKE SCHOOLS HERE

Alfred Moseley Praises America and Declares Roosevelt Is Loved Abroad.

After an inspection of the city's schools a party of English educators, with the exception of three or four, who are in this country as the guests of Alfred Mose- ley, a wealthy Britisher, left Pittsburg last night for New York, from where they will shortly sail for home. Mr. Moseley, who is at the head of the party, was feeling too tired yesterday to accom- pany Prof. Samuel Andrews, superinten- dent of schools, and Prof. Edward Ry- nearson of the High school, to the various institutions, and he remained at the Lin- coln hotel until time to make his train last evening.

Those of the party who took advantage of the opportunity to study the tree edu- cational system in practice here ex- pressed themselves as much pleased. They became interested in the Carnegie technical schools and seemed sorry that they were unable to meet William McCon- way, or Col. S. H. Church. Upon their return to England they will prepare a report embodying their views on Ameri- can school teaching and suggest wherein English methods might be improved upon, adopting some of the American ideas. Papers or reports will be gathered to- gether, bound and distributed. No time has been set for the sailing. Some members of the party, some are from Australia, Canada and other places. The party has a very high regard for President Roosevelt. He said: "From my knowledge I think the English would find President Roosevelt in the highest esteem. In matters of interna- tional concern he has displayed much talent, but at the same time he is considerate and forceful enough to be a man of many original ideas, with good ones, too, and is not afraid to act on his own mind and act in accord- ance with his convictions. Such a trait is especially necessary in the successful handling of problems so weighty as those that come before a president of your country."

Mass Meeting of Molders.

The locals in the Pittsburg district of the Iron Molders' union will hold a mass meeting Sunday at 2 o'clock to take action regarding the actions Founders' Association which, the workmen say, has broken the agreement made in July with the molders. The workmen declare that the Mesta Machine company, at West Homestead, discharged the union men and secured non-union men in their places.

ELUSIVE SILVER DOLLAR FOUND BY A STRANGER CAUSED A LOT OF TROUBLE

A silver dollar struck the smooth marble floors in Union station with a thud yesterday afternoon at the heels of George Ward of Philadelphia, a traveling salesman. With Quaker City politeness Ward picked up the coin and, handing it to a stranger who stood nearby and whom Ward thought had dropped the coin, the salesman passed on out of the depot.

He had gone but a short distance when Curzico Scargiano of the South Side roughly seized him by the shoulder and demanded the silver dollar. Ward explained that he had handed it to his rightful owner, and the for- eigner excitedly told Ward he had dropped the coin. The foreigner gave vent to a line of mixed vituperation which, although Ward could not under- stand, it did not sound good to him; so he ran.

The foreigner followed Ward down Liberty avenue to Smithfield street, up Seventh avenue to Grand street and down Sixth avenue, pelting stones after the fleeting victim of misplaced politeness. A crowd joined the pair and a demonstration was made in Grant street. Ward seemed to know what he was doing, for he headed straight for the Public Safety building in Sixth avenue.

Policeman Con Buckley stood outside and saw the man and his pursuer and the curious crowd. Buckley arrested both men and placed them in jail on charges of disorderly conduct. Meanwhile, the happy individual, the cause of it all, who placidly pocketed the dollar, is probably telling the story with great gusto over mugs of foamy stuff purchased with the troublesome bit of Uncle Sam's currency.

GOURGAS CLASS REUNION PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

Anniversary of 1902's Big Addition to Pennsylvania Consistory is Celebrated.

A novelty among local Masons of high degree proved a most decided success last evening, when Gourgas class, the class of 1902, of the Pennsylvania consistory, S. P. R. S., held its first annual reunion. The affair took the form of a meeting at the Hotel Henry from 5 to 7 o'clock, with addresses by three of the most prominent Pittsburgh Masons, and a smoker. Nearly half of the 200 members of the class were present. The speakers were James I. Buchanan, George W. Guthrie and W. M. Hamilton, to each of whom an ovation was given. Each dwelt upon the possibili- ty of benefit to the whole Masonic body in the formation of units of this kind.

Gourgas class, in taking the lead in this matter, has formed and proposes to main- tain a class organization. Dr. F. M. Getz of Allegheny is president and Charles I. Westerfeld of Pittsburgh is secretary. Both were unanimously re-elected last evening to serve for the coming year.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome watch charm to Secretary Westerfeld. During the year he has labored assiduously to maintain the organization and has also succeeded in obtaining a class photograph. R. C. Bromley, Dr. Getz and W. C. Ras were appointed a committee to secure the present, and the speech in delivering it to Mr. Westerfeld was made by Mr. Hamil- ton. The charm carries all the degrees up to and including the consistory. The meet- ing closed with an address in rhyme by the class poet, a well-known resident of Tarentum.

The work of conferring the degrees of the Scottish rite which has been in pro- gress this week at Free Mason's hall, in Fifth avenue, was continued yesterday. It will be concluded this evening with an entertainment at Duquesne garden.

CHARTER VETERAN CAMP OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Other Local Organizations Join With Davis Star in Annual Celebration.

Davis Star camp, which was the founda- tion of the Sons of Veterans, celebrated its twenty-second anniversary last night at its headquarters, No. 416 Wood street. The program consisted of addresses by the Revs. W. W. Brown, B. Starkey and B. Edward Young. The Rev. Mr. Starkey was among the few war veterans present at the anniversary, and he chose for his subject "The Grand Army of the Republic." The exercises were in charge of Commander D. D. McWilliams, assisted by Past Colonel J. H. Seifert and Past Capt. F. A. McKelvey and L. M. Stevens. Among the out-of-town visitors were Sen- ior Vice Division Commander White of Williamsport, Pa., and Past Capt. Foster of Harrisburg. In addition to the mem- bers of Davis Star the following camps were represented: Col H. B. Hays No. 4, Col. J. I. Nevin No. 23, Gen. J. B. Swelt- zer No. 98, Col. F. H. Collier No. 139, and Col. E. J. Allen No 162.

Around Davis Star camp a membership was gathered which later grew into the national organization of the Sons of Vet- erans. A charter was granted for the camp 22 years ago by then Judge F. H. Collier. Of the surviving charter mem- bers there remain Henry T. Rawley, John H. Seifferth, David A. McCarthy, Gilbert S. Hays and Chris Heinch. The Sons of Veterans has a membership of 1,900, divided among 900 camps, six of which are in this city.

DETECTIVES BREAK UP RIVER PIRATE GANG

Had Been Operating for Three Years and Recently Got $10,000 Worth of Goods.

The river pirates who have been pilfer- ing rope, brass, copper wire and other materials from the boats of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company have been run to earth by Detectives Leff and Lally. It is estimated the losses amounted to more than $10,000. Charles Wilson of Columbus, O., one of the men arrested, is said to have made a confession in which he implicated Peter Clark of Newport, Ky., and Oscar Sterling of Market street, both of whom have been arrested also. Clark was arrested in Sis- tersville on November 6, Wilson in Se- wickley last Friday and Sterling in this city last Saturday.

After Wilson had talked to the two detectives they went to Sistersville and recovered 150 pounds of brass, 100 pounds of copper wire and 940 pounds of rope. Yesterday they went to Steubenville and recovered 1,000 pounds of new rope and a check line, 270 feet long, that is valued at $800 alone. The men all worked on the river and robbed boats systematically. Clark is alleged to have carried a revolver and to have intimidated several watch- men when they were discovered.

They are said to have carried on the work for three years and have stripped a score of boats of brasses and electric wir- ing. Most of it they broke into short lengths and the rope was cut into pieces and sold for junk. On several occasions, Wilson says, they threw much of the stuff into the river, fearing detection.

Dr. Gilliford Waived a Hearing.

Dr. B. H. Gilliford, the Allegheny phy- sician who was arrested Tuesday night on information made by Superintendent of Police M. H. Campbell, waived a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Samuel Ab- rahathy. The charges were felonious as- sault and battery and carrying concealed weapons, growing out of the battle Dr. Gilliford had with Dr. Thomas C. Wal- lace, Jr., last Monday night, when Gil- liford, it is said, fired two shots at Wal- lace. The bail was fixed at $1,500.

14 East 120th St., New York City.

Dear Sir: Oct. 18th, 1902.

"I had been suffering severely from kidney- trouble. All symptoms were on hand; my former strength and power had left me; I could hardly drag myself along. Even my mental capacity was giving out, and often I wished to die. It was then I saw an adver- tisement of yours in a New York paper, but would not have paid any attention to it, had it not promised a sample bottle with every bottle of your medicine, asserting that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable, and does not contain any harmful drugs. I am seventy years and four months old, and with a good conscience I can recommend Swamp-Root to all sufferers from kidney troubles. Four members of my family have been using Swamp-Root for four different kidney dis- eases, with the same good results.

With many thanks to you, I remain,

Very truly yours,

ROBERT BERNER.

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such disor- ders as kidney, bladder and uric acid diseases, poor digestion, when obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing urine, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head- ache, backache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturb- ance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritabil- ity, worn out feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is the great discovery of Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and blad- der specialist. Hospitals use it with wonderful success in both slight and se- vere cases. CUBAN BILL IS INTRODUCED Floor Leader Payne Announces That After Conference With Minority the Majority Program Will Be Determined Upon—Congress Adjourns Till Monday.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.

The house today adjourned after a session of 10 minutes. An hour and a half will be devoted to consideration of the reciprocity measure in the committee on ways and means tomorrow. The bill will be reported to the house without amendment. No consideration is to be given the measure in the house tomorrow. Adjournment will be held until Monday.

Following the reading of the journal in the house today Mr. Hall (Tex.) was sworn in. The speaker then announced the ways and means committee as follows: Republicans, Messrs. Payne (N. Y.), Dalzell, (Penn.), Grosvenor (O.), Tawney (Minn.), McCall (Mass.), Babcock (Wis.), Metcalf (Cal.), Hill (Conn.), Boutell (Ill.), Watson (Ind.), Curtis (Kan.); Democrats, Messrs. Williams (Miss.), Robertson (La.), Swanson (Va.), Maclellan (N. Y.), Cooper (Tex.), Clark (Mo.). Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee will call that committee together tomorrow to consider the Cuban bill.

Mr. Payne introduced the bill to make effective the Cuban reciprocity convention, which, without objection was read by title and referred to the committee on ways and means.

Mr. Payne having moved to adjourn, Mr. Williams (Miss.) inquired if he was ready to announce the program of the majority.

Mr. Thayer (Mass.) rising to a question of privilege asked if a member would be considered derelict in his duty if he would go home to get in his winter's wood with the understanding that he would return when the six or seven men who, he said, constitute congress should announce that something was to be done.

The speaker suggested that the question hardly amounted to a faint assault upon the dignity of a parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Payne observed that he was about to request unanimous consent that the gentleman from Massachusetts be excused for the remainder of the session.

Mr. Roberts (Rep., Mass.) introduced a bill removing the tariff on bituminous coal containing less than 92 per cent of fixed carbon and slate. Also a bill removing the duty on hides.

Immediately upon assembling today the senate plunged into a discussion of the question of the eligibility of Mr. Reed Smoot of Utah to a seat in the senate.

A large number of bills were then presented and when this order of business was passed there was a brief executive session. When the doors were reopened the resolutions of the house announcing the death of Representative Foerderer of Pennsylvania and Representative Harding of Kentucky were laid before the senate, and out of respect to their memory the senate at 1:00 adjourned. The adjournment was until next Monday.

COURT INTERFERES.

Injunction Stops Work on Johnson's Low-Fare Trolley System.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The courts that have so often intervened to prevent three-cent fares in Cleveland stepped in again today and a temporary injunction was granted against the New West Side low-fare line just as rails were about to be laid. The injunction is brought by Mike Kohn, a taxpayer, but it is the general belief that the Cleveland Electric Railway Company is backing him.

The petitioner claims the company has not the required per cent of consents along the line and also declares that the franchise ordinance was illegally granted by the council. The court sets Monday for a hearing and Johnson and his three-cent fare supporters will fight the case bitterly.

The child was sent to Central police station and later taken to the Pesalta Foundling asylum. POSTOFFICE CLERKS SUMMARILY DISMISSED

Officials Find They Conspired for Removal of St. Louis Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Postmaster General Payne today directed the dismissal of Annie Dreyer, Samuel Kober, Joseph Dreyer and Birdie Short, clerks in the St. Louis postoffice, for alleged conspiracy to secure the removal of Postmaster Baumhoff of that city. These clerks were suspended March 9 and 10, and their permanent separation from the service is now ordered as the result of the investigations of the charges made against Baumhoff.

The civil service commission a week ago requested Postmaster Baumhoff's reasons for suspending these clerks and on his report made a decision sustaining the postmaster's allegation of a conspiracy against him. Civil Service Commissioner Cooley called on the postmaster general today and submitted the commission's decision. It is as follows:

"On Friday, November 6, the commission requested Postmaster Baumhoff to state in writing his reasons for the indefinite suspension of Anna Dreyer, a clerk in the St. Louis postoffice. Mr. Baumhoff has replied stating that he suspended her acting under instructions from the postmaster general. The postmaster general states that Miss Dreyer was suspended because she with others entered into a conspiracy with certain political enemies of Mr. Baumhoff in the city of St. Louis to secure his removal from the public service.

"At the request of the president, Commissioner Foulke investigated this matter and the testimony taken by him established the fact of the conspiracy and of the attempt of Miss Dreyer and others to secure false testimony beyond the shadow a doubt. Miss Dreyer's suspension was due to this cause and no other. Any statements from the postmaster and from anyone else other than that she was engaged in the conspiracy referred to had nothing to do with her suspension and the commission is of course without power to settle any personal disputes between Miss Dreyer and any other person whether in the public service or out of it."

The same reasons are given for the other removals.

DEMOCRATS SEEK REPUBLICAN AID

Leader of House Minority Says They Are Promised Support for Treaty Amendments.

THEY WILL OFFER SEVERAL

One Provides for Removal of Differential on Refined Sugar—Other Prevents Binding Government Not to Reduce Duties on Sugar for Five Years.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Democratic attitude on the Cuban bill, as well as its general policy on public questions, is to be the subject of a caucus of the minority members of the house Saturday night. A meeting of the minority members of the ways and means committee was held tonight for the purpose of outlining several amendments to the Cuban bill. These amendments will include one removing the differential on refined sugar and the elimination from the treaty of that portion of article 8 which binds the United States government not to reduce the duties on sugar for a period of five years. Should these amendments fail the indications are that the minority members of the house will support the Cuban bill.

In explaining the reasons for the amendments proposed Mr. Williams, the Democratic floor leader, said that the Democratic party in his opinion could not afford to allow without protest the enactment of legislation which was an attempt, although an ineffectual one, to bind future congresses and future administrations by a pledge against further reduction of duties upon any article with any country. The right to abrogate the treaty, he said, ought to be reserved in this instance, as it is reserved in all treaties, upon due notice being given. It is customary in every treaty, he said, to fix a period for the continuance of the treaty, but both sides understand that it is subject to the right of abrogation upon notice.

"This treaty," continued Mr. Williams, "seemingly goes a bit further and undertakes to bind the United States legally. The proposition is absurd on its face. But it is a matter of grave importance, notwithstanding that fact, for this reason, that it might be argued when the question came up for reconsideration that we were morally bound, although not legally bound. As a matter of fact, we would not be morally bound if the Democrats came into power unless the Democracy by acquiescence or by active consent had made itself bound."

Mr. Williams said that assurance had been received from the majority side of the house of enough votes to add the amendment doing away with the refiners' differential. It was hoped, he continued, that an appeal to the common sense of the house would succeed in passing the two amendments to article 5 of the treaty, which amendments would be so framed as to deny either the legal or moral obligation to bind future congresses of administrations.

Mr. Williams expressed the hope that the Democratic caucus on Saturday night would adopt a resolution making the action of the caucus binding on all those who participated in the deliberations.

...EN SHOP AND ...THE PRESIDENT

...ation Delegates Criticized ...sevelt for His Policy in Miller Case.

...DED BY DENNIS HAYES

...Relative to the Open Shop ... Was Returned to the Com... ...ig Labor Body Endorses the ...ave Government Build Ships.

...ED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.] ...ov. 12.—President Roose... ...nd his action in the so-called ...n shop" case were brought be... ...convention of the American Fed... ...f Labor today, when several del... ...criticised his decision not to dis... ...ate against non-union labor in fed... ...mployment.

...question came before the conven... ...from the committee on resolutions ...the way of a report that a resolution ...the "open shop" issue be referred to ...the committee of the executive council. ...The substance of the resolution was that ...the "open shop," whether under private ...or government control, cannot be recog... ...ized by organized labor.

Delegate J. M. Barnes of Philadelphia, president of the Cigarmakers' International union, declared that President Roosevelt's decision was a "slap in the face" for laboring people. President D. A. Hayes of the International Association of Glass Blowers defended the president's action. Eventually the resolution was recommitted to the committee from which it originated.

A resolution was adopted urging the government to construct all its ships in government yards on the ground that such a policy was fairer to labor. There was an interesting debate on a resolution affecting the St. Joseph, Mo., trade union, which lasted almost until the time of adjournment. Ernest Bohm, the protested New York delegate, was ordered seated during the day, but the case of the protested delegation, Steel and Guild, of the International Journeymen of Bakers and Confectioners, was laid on the table.

A resolution also adopted indorsed the work of the Women's Labor league and recommended that members request their wives and all female relatives to join such leagues where they existed, and to organize them where they did not exist. Another resolution declaring it to be the duty of the people making purchases from retail clerks to demand the union card and declaring that the convention indorsed the union card of the Retail Clerks' International and Protective association and appealing to every member and sympathizer to demand the same, was adopted.

The convention then adjourned until tomorrow.

OHIO PLACES MEMORIAL OVER ITS FALLEN HEROES

Appropriate Ceremonies at Monument Dedication on Missionary Ridge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Nov. 12.—The handsome monument erected on Missionary ridge to the memory of Ohio's troops who participated in the battle on the famous heights was dedicated today. Fully 300 Ohio veterans, members of the Loyal Legion and others headed by Governor Nash, Lieut.-Gov. Gordon and other state officials were present as were also Gen. A. P. Stewart and other confederates.

Gov. Nash presented the monument to the United States in a fitting speech after it had been turned over to him by Maj. W. F. Goodspeed of the Ohio monument commission. Gen. H. C. Corbin commanding the department of the east, received the monument on behalf of the government. Gen. Wheeler of this city spoke on behalf of the Ohio residents of Chattanooga, and Gen. H. V. Boynton and Asst.-Gov. Gordon, of Ohio, delivered orations.

Three troops of the Seventh cavalry from Camp Thomas acted as escort to the party on the six mile ride from Chattanooga to Chickamauga and the band of the Seventh furnished the music for the exercises. The monument stands near General Bragg's headquarters.

ALABAMA'S GOAT EATS BUSY WIRELESS OUTFIT

Mascot of Battleship Riddled by Dots and Dashes, but Suffers Little.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Jerry, the goat mascot of the battleship Alabama, now at the New York navy yard, has beaten all digestion records of his kind by eating a wireless station. For several days electricians have been equipping the battleship with wireless telegraph apparatus. Down a topmast hangs a series of wire hoops which are used to catch messages flying in the air. These, it is said, the goat proceeded to swallow.

Just as the last wire was eaten the experts up at the Sands street entrance of the yard tried to call up those on board the Alabama. As the dots and dashes rattled down the goat's throat and began cavorting around in its stomach, the animal uttered an unearthly scream, and jumped up and down while flashes of fire leaped from the tips of his horns, from his nose, feet and tail.

Smoke was issuing from his mouth when the electrician discovered where the system was being tapped and tore the wires from the goat's mouth. Today the animal shows only faint evidences of having taken an internal dose of electricity heavy enough to have killed ten men.

Crane in "The Spenders."

While it was expected that the sale of seats for Mr. Crane's engagement in "The Spenders" at the Alvin theater next week would be brisk, it turned out yesterday in a manner that exceeded expectations. The sale was the second best on its opening day Mr. Crane has ever had in Pittsburgh, it having only been exceeded by the sale of "David Harum" on its first visit. In St. Louis, where the comedy is being seen this week, it has been greatly praised and spoken of as a real Crane play, with a real Crane part, and with the real William H. Crane at his best in it.

Gazette Room-Renting Bureau.

Every business grows by careful advertising. Why shouldn't yours? You have a big house—no cash. Why don't you rent a few rooms and cut down the expense of running it? There is a big demand for rooms—good large rooms that will give a sense of comfort when the snow begins to fall. People are rushing out of poor rooms and applying for "Rooms" Exchange for better ones. If you will try an ad in The Pittsburgh Gazette, stating where you are and what you have to rent, you will be surprised to see how fast the applicants will call on you. It's cheap, only a few cents, and you don't need to repeat the dose often. It does the work.

St. Louis World's Fair Bureau.

Every ticket office of the Pennsylvania lines is a free information bureau of the great world's fair at St. Louis in 1904. The bureau of this city at Pittsburgh is room 1, Park building, in charge of F. D. Newman. A "Hoover" booklet of St. Louis hotels and boarding houses, their locations and rates, compiled by the world's fair committee, can be obtained from this office, also other valuable information about the universal exposition.

PRESIDENT'S AID SOUGHT BY CRANK

Country Man Journeys Far for Help in Securing 200,000,000 Straying Dollars.

DIDN'T REACH WHITE HOUSE

Told His Trouble to Policeman Who Immediately Undertook to Find Him Bed and Board Temporarily at Government Expense—He Was Unarmed.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.

Clad like a stage countryman, George Harvey Stetson, a farmer of Garfield, Rensselaer county, N. Y., this morning sought President Roosevelt to enlist his aid in the recovery of $200,000,000 which had been devised to him, but which had been kept from him by dishonest relatives of his benefactor, and to obtain redress for the indignities to which he has been subjected by these relatives, including a bullet through the head and 15 years in a dungeon.

Stetson says he tramped from Garfield to Albany, thence by boat to New York, where he took the train for Washington, arriving here last night. He spent the night in a mission, and this morning approached Policeman Boswell to inquire the way to the White House. A little questioning elucidated his vagaries and he was promptly taken into custody. After an examination by the board of police surgeons, Stetson was committed temporarily to the government hospital for the insane, pending communication with his family.

Stetson says his real name is Parks, and that his father, Trainer Parks of Bennington, Vt., sent for him and acknowledged the relationship before his death, leaving him all of his property. Having been reared by a family named Stetson he bore their name. His incarceration and attempted assassination he attributes to the disgruntled heirs of Parks, who successfully set aside the will. He was not armed and is regarded as harmless.

COLLEGE MAN DECRIES OUR BUSINESS SYSTEM

Says the Greed and Rapacity of American Imperialism Is Little Less Than Savagery.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Delta Apsilon convention which has been in progress here for several days closed today. Next year's convention will be held in Chicago, under the auspices of chapters in Chicago and Northwestern universities and the Chicago Delta Apsilon club.

Today Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of the University of Nebraska and former president of Brown university, delivered the oration. Dr. Andrews deprecated the lack of appreciation in the United States to the higher intellectual attainments and said:

"Mark the gold greed and rapacity with which business is carried on. Mercantile honor is not unknown, but it is relatively rarer than heretofore. Promoting deals, stock manipulations, market rigging, in intent and in effect every whit as bad as highway robbery, occur daily, evoking no protest save the bleating of the shorn lambs.

"There is no fear that our population will be too small, but much that it is losing virility. I hope President Roosevelt will take early occasion to amend his plea for swelling the census by urging quality of population as more of a desideratum.

"I do not regard imperialism in itself as savagery, but the imperialism which views inferior races as our legitimate prey certainly is so."

NEW GUN TO BE USED.

Fifty Vickers-Maxim Automatic Death Dealers to Be Used in Army.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Automatic machine guns are to be added in large numbers to the armament of the United States army. The Vickers-Maxim musket caliber type, recently tried in competition with the Colt and Danish types, at the Springfield arsenal and at Fort Riley, made the best showing. It fires bullets of the same caliber used in the army rifle at the rate of 600 a minute.

It may be mounted on a tripod or on a wheeled carriage, and is so light it can be carried on pack animals during campaigns in a bad country. The barrel of the gun rests on a swivel which permits its being swept from side to side, elevated and depressed so that the bullets sweep the enemy like water from a hose. The appropriation at present available provides for the manufacture of 69 of these guns. Larger appropriations will be asked for.

STRANGE VESSEL VISITS NEW YORK

Spanish Ship Cataluna Brings With Her Romance of Ancient Times.

LADEN WITH FIGS AND WINE

Hides in Bales and Arsenic in Barrels Part of Her Cargo—Sails Between Spain and Mexico and Stops at New York and Havana on the Way.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square NEW YORK, Nov. 12.

Figs from Valencia, almonds from Malaga and sherry of various degrees of fineness in fat, brown casks, covered snugly with husks of grass cloth, made up a part of the delectable cargo of the Spanish steamer Cataluna, now being discharged at her East river pier. She is a liner, but not a lady, because her face is dirty and the gold leaf besprinkled so plentifully over her bows is tarnished and weather-stained. The Cataluna earns her keep by carrying a curious and fascinating assortment of people and things between Spain and Mexico, stopping en route at New York and Havana.

Hides in bales and arsenic in barrels are in her dark, spicy-smelling hold, as well as delicate grapes and still more delicate spirits. She is loaded as an old Spanish galleon might have been, save for the specie pieces of eight and gold ingots.

The passengers and crew of these Spanish ships are their crowning glory, viewed as a spectacle. The Spaniard, even though he be a cigar cutter, is a man of distinction, with pride of bearing and the Spanish sailor is a man who is an unending series of pictures. He looks the part, wearing broad, white collar over a light blue jacket and dark trousers. He smokes cigarettes and wears rings in his ears and when he is off watch he plays a guitar and sings like a troubadour, while the steerage passengers dance on the hatches. The officers, some of them strikingly handsome men, think it no shame to take care of the babies on deck, hour on hour, and they always seem to have plenty of time to talk to the women passengers.

When one of these ships is in port, Wall street is full of curious headgear and gay costumes, for both the men and women like vivid colors. They buy at the shops the things they like best—usually fruit and tobacco.

GERMANS WILL STUDY UNITED STATES IDEAS

Will Send Many Experts to St. Louis Show to Gain Useful Hints.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The advice which Councillor of Commerce Ludwig Goldberger gives the German government, given in his book entitled "The Country of Unlimited Possibilities," that it send its officials to America that they may learn how things are being done in that country, has not been without result.

The minister of commerce as well as the minister of agriculture have decided that a large number of German merchants, artisans and farmers be sent to St. Louis next year at the expense of the government, and that they remain there long enough to study the several departments of the exposition in all the details and send a report to the government concerning everything that may be introduced in Germany with the hope of good results.

A very large amount has been asked for by both these ministers for next year's budget, and there is little doubt that the landtag will give the government what it asks for. From Stuttgart comes the news that several prominent firms have come together and among themselves collected the money so that the art and industry of Wurttemberg may be represented in St. Louis in a dignified manner. The details of the exhibition have not yet been decided upon except that a magnificent music room will be built which will contain exhibits from all the most prominent musical firms of the kingdom.

NERVE DID NOT WEAKEN.

Mrs. Flood Received Life Sentence for Murder Without a Quiver.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Nancy Jeanette Flood, convicted yesterday of the murder of John London, was today sentenced to life imprisonment. Mrs. Flood took the sentence without a quiver.

To Barney Engleton, her alleged companion in the crime, she said yesterday: "Well, Barney, they beat us!" as though discussing the outcome of a justice court suit for debt.

SOMERFIELD'S COUNSEL PLEAD FOR CLEMENCY

But Judge Davis Gives Him Minimum Sentence of Two Years and Six Months.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—"Larry" Somerfield, the much-indicted, who operated with the Horseshoe Copper Mining Company stock and is said to have originated the "high engineer" fraud, was today sentenced by Judge Davis in the supreme court to serve a term in Sing Sing prison of not less than two years and six months nor more than six years and seven months on the conviction of grand larceny found last Monday.

His lawyer in asking for clemency said that he had never been convicted before and that an aged mother, a wife and child, were dependent upon him for support. He added that G. W. Effinger, the complainant, had been paid back $4,000 and that the stock of the mining company is now worth $10 a share. Somerfield took his sentence stoically. He turned red but did not seem otherwise perturbed.

Henry Goldsmith, one of the prisoner's lawyers, asked that the pleading to the new indictment be postponed until the minutes of the grand jury could be examined. It was finally arranged that Somerfield should plead not guilty without prejudice. Next Monday was set by Judge Davis as the time for whatever motions Somerfield's lawyers might wish to make. Under the new indictment Somerfield is charged with having secured $50,000 from Charles P. Buchanan, a tobacco dealer, of this city.

FARMERS NEED BARRELS.

Manufacturers Also Short of Convenient Receptacles in Which to Ship Products.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Farmers who have apples and potatoes to ship and manufacturers who pack their output in barrels are suffering from a great scarcity of barrels. The shortage is so pronounced that the American Sugar Refining Company is endeavoring to compel the trade to accept sugar in bags. This would make a great saving, as barrels, beside being scarce and therefore hard to get, are also very costly. There are some grades of sugar which cannot be handled in bags, but every grade suitable is being shipped as far as possible in such covering. It is estimated that two yards of cotton bagging weighing 12 ounces will make the necessary shipping bag and as the cost is not purchased for 11½ cents outside of the cost of making it, the sugar company will effect a great economy.

The purchasing agent of the company bought this week 500,000 yards of the cheapest kind of cotton bagging at a cost of 7½ cents per yard. This opens up a new source of demand for cotton and the price paid results from the present high cost of the staple.

SHORT LINE TO EAST FROM PITTSBURGH

Engineers Surveying New Route Through the Mountains and Western Counties.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 12.—Great energy is shown by an engineering corps at surveying a route for a new railroad through this section which, when completed, will extend from New York to Pittsburgh. The proposed road is to be 75 miles shorter than the Pennsylvania between the two cities, forcing a direct line through the Pennsylvania mountains and reaching a comparatively undeveloped part of the state. Surveyors are working in the vicinity of Coburn, Centre county, and were recently engaged in surveying the line in Clearfield and Cambria counties.

A part of Westmoreland, Indiana, Armstrong, Cambria, Blair, Centre, Union, Snyder and Columbia counties are reached according to the survey. It traverses the Schuylkill valley, thence through Northampton county to the Delaware river opposite Belvidere. It crosses Warren, Morris and Essex counties, New Jersey.

OCCUPANTS OF BUGGY THROWN UNDER CAR

Frightened Horse Caused Fatal Trolley Accident—Two Men Were Injured.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 12.—A buggy occupied by two men was struck by a car on the Washington and Canonsburg street railway at 8 o'clock tonight, injuring both men, one fatally, and demolishing the vehicle. Two injured:

EARL CHALFANT, aged 22, residing at Searights in Fayette county; back broken and internally injured. Taken to Washington hospital, where he is dying.

JOHN BEDILION, aged 20, of Van Buren, Washington county, both and head severely bruised, internally injured and a bad scalp wound. Will recover.

The two men had just entered the town from Van Buren, a short distance south of here, and were driving along Jefferson avenue, near Second street. An electric bound car approached swiftly and the horse, driven by Chalfant, became unmanageable and swerved across the track immediately in front of the car. Both men were thrown out.

Chalfant was caught beneath the car and dragged for some distance. The car had to be raised to permit the removal of his body. Chalfant is a young farmer and a son of J. N. Chalfant. Chalfant is paralyzed from his waist down, while a broken rib has penetrated his lung. His death is only a matter of a few hours.

SEVERAL SUITS WILL FOLLOW TROLLEY WRECK

Erie Accident Is Alleged to Be Due to Negligence of Company's Employes.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ERIE, PA., Nov. 12.—Clyde H. Davis of Goshen, Ind., who was one of the fatally injured passengers in the trolley wreck at McKean, last night, lay in St. Vincent's hospital all day in a delirious condition. He may die at any hour and has called repeatedly for George Snyder Phillips of the Carnegie Steel Company, Pittsburgh. Phillips, who is thought to be a brother-in-law of the injured man has been notified.

Davis has a broken leg and his arm and chest has been crushed by the weight of the gravel. An investigation into the accident was made by Coroner J. W. Schmelter early this morning. Relatives of the four dead persons and the four badly injured will probably start suits for heavy damages. The accident is claimed to have been caused through the negligence of the company's employes in starting the gravel car on the switch at the top of the heavy grade, although the men say they did everything possible to stop the car, or throw it from the track.

Three hours later the police found the dead body of the son in the back yard. The father is in custody and admits the assault.

This compelled young Maize to sleep in a woodshed in the rear of the family home, but the cold weather induced him once more to seek the house. The coroner discovered that the man's neck was broken. It is believed this injury was caused by a fall.

COURT DEALS BLOW TO THE STRIKE DECISION

Rules Its Decision Is Not Binding on the Miners or the Operators.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SUNBURY, PA., Nov. 12.—Judge Auten has rendered an opinion in which he decides that in the eyes of the law the decision of the anthracite strike commission is not binding on either the miners or the operators. This is the first legal decision on the subject.

The matter was brought before court by the Ellenville Mining Company. The company refused to pay back wages allotted by the strike commission, and the miners of the Royal Oak colliery brought suit before Justice of the Peace Lloyd for the wages. The justice gave judgment in favor of the miners.

The company then began mandamus proceedings against Justice Lloyd, and the court decided in favor of the company.

After reading the Sunbury dispatch concerning the court's finding that the decision of the anthracite strike commission is not binding either on miner or operator, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, said today:

"If the award of the commission created an implied contract that the decision would be lived up to, I can not see why the finding does not bind both parties to the arbitration proceedings." Mr. Mitchell did not wish to express an opinion on the question whether in fact an implied contract was created.

YALE STARS LIKELY TO BE PLACED ON BLACKLIST

ATHLETES FOR BLACKLIST

...ckets to Speculators Serious Consequences May Follow.

WORK OF THE ELEVENS

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 12.—Several Yale athletes has been threatened with the disgrace of being posted on a blacklist because the football management knows they have found tickets sold by athletes to speculators offered for sale by the latter. The scandal has caused a sensation.

A statement issued officially today says: "It is now known that certain members of the university have negotiated for the sale of seats, at both the Princeton and Harvard games. The disposal of a man's privilege as a member of the Yale family is so inconsistent with every idea of college honor and, on the face of it, so unfair to graduates and undergraduates alike, who are 'forced to take a back seat' to those who patronize speculators, that it does not seem possible for any Yale man to think of such a thing. It has been done, nevertheless, and undergraduates will be incensed to learn that some of the best seats on the field for the Princeton game are now being sold by speculators. These tickets are among those allotted on the special list for Yale athletes. It will mean public disgrace to be on the blacklist."

The football players were taken for an early morning drive over the country roads early today and later they went for a long walk in the woods. This afternoon they were required only to hold signal practice. For nearly an hour, the varsity and first subs held signal drill in which they rehearsed the new plays, planned for the game on Saturday. It is learned that the repertoire of plays includes at least one for every man save two in the line, to carry the ball. Several of the plays are very simple and depend for their success upon speed of execution and the driving power back of the man with the ball rather than the trick of the thing. In open practice, the ball shifts were exercised in catching punts. Hogan and Shevlin were given drill in catching the kickoff and running it back.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Two thousand cheering and singing students marched to Soldiers field this afternoon and gave the crimson football team a tremendous ovation. At 3 o'clock the procession formed in front of the Union and with a band, impersonator and banner at their head they swung into line through the yard and down to the field.

The team caught the inspiration, and in a 20-minutes signal practice against the second team put up the best football that has been seen at Harvard this year. There was little fumbling, the team played hard and fast, and on the offensive they had the second team to a standstill.

The varsity scored two touchdowns and would have had a third but for a fumble by Meier. Capt. Marshall, who dropped a pretty kick on the 25-yard line and narrowly missed another from the 37-yard line, was much chagrined.

After practice the students were formed behind the band and marched around the gridiron singing.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Cornell's practice was seriously interrupted today by a big bull which charged into the lot and the red flannel jerseys inciting the animal on to combat. The bull, with nostrils distended, was upon the players before they realized, and Hollister, Hoffman, Wells and Bender had to get away in quick retreat on the fences. Pavek was singled out by the bull, but he sidestepped and caught the bull by the tail and gladly escaped. Cornell could not continue the work until Captain took the bull away.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The Washington and Jefferson football team has had the best hard practice of the year this afternoon. The second eleven scored twice on the varsity and really outplayed them at times. Once Ritchie, the scrub left half, got around the left end for a run of 75 yards for a touchdown and the scrub pushed the ball over again, going through the varsity for big gains. The first team could score but once on the scrub eleven. Several of the men were in the second half, there is a probability that they will not be able to get into the playing against Geneva on Saturday.

Reserves Escaped a Shutout.

The Lafayette team decisively defeated the Allegheny Reserves last evening in a fast game, 16 to 1, the latter barely escaping a shutout, their only point being scored on a foul called on the Lafayettes. The features of the game were the playing of Feldheimer and Ford, they putting up a good defensive game. Bender also played a good game. Score and lineup as follows:

Lafayette—9.		Reserves—1.
Flinn	F.	Shields
Bender	F.	Marsula
Second Selzer	C.	Nieman
Sutter, Feldheimer	G.	Hoffman, Remmell
Grater	G.	Schmidt

Goals from field—Dunn, Bender, Feldheimer. Goals from fouls—Sutter 3, Rimmel. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The Fighting Tenth Team of Washington, Pa., Which Has Never Been Beaten.

WASH.-JEFF. AND STATE CLEAR AWAY OBSTACLES

These Teams Will Meet in the City on Thanksgiving Day and a Warm Game Is Assured.

At a conference held yesterday afternoon between representatives of the Washington and Jefferson and State College football elevens all obstacles in the way of a Thanksgiving day game between these teams were removed and an agreement signed binding the elevens to meet in a friendly game either at the Colosseum or Exposition park. The representatives of the East End team were present and easily placated in the way of cash for the part they play in allowing Wash.-Jeff. to break its agreement with their team.

A telegram was received from Harrisburg last night stating that the Steelton team was in a trouble-making mood and threatened to call off its game with the Tech eleven, unless it kept its promise to play Steelton on Thanksgiving day or else put up a certain amount of cash to heal wounded feelings. Chauncey Stuart, who is acting for the State-Colosseum proposition, stated that Steelton's grievance would be properly attended to in the way of cash. Last night Stuart and Secretary Locke of the Pittsburgh baseball club, started for New York to hold a conference with Barney Dreyfuss relative to securing the use of Exposition park for the Thanksgiving day game. Secretary Locke was sure that Mr. Dreyfuss would give his consent to the use of the ball park, as a matter of fact the directors of either team who would not like level best to stifle a flow of blood while the majority of the contestants needed the services of physicians to bind up wounds of one kind or another. It was a fierce battle all right and the only wonder was that the services of the coroner were not necessary.

The Fighting Tenth team came down here with the reputation of never having suffered a defeat, and when the game appeared on the playing field it had behind it a lot of backers who were loaded with coin and were willing to give odds. There was quite a lot of betting on the game with 2 to 1 and 5 to 4 in the visitors' favor. When the game had concluded and neither team had been able to score there was all sorts of trouble among the boys who risked their cash and there were a half dozen fights in that many minutes.

The first row was started by a fellow who had taken the short end, and he argued that as the other fellow had been the one betting team would win—he lost the money, as that team did not score a victory. The stakeholder tried to convince the man that the game was a draw and the best he could get was his own money back, but he would not have it that way and a fight was the result. Another fellow had risked four against five and he argued that as the game ended a draw he was at least entitled to one-half of the stakes and demanded four fifty, and because it was not forthcoming there was another fight.

The game was a battle to look at, and just how the players managed to get over the game at all was a mystery. There was a crowd of nearly a thousand at the game, about one-third of whom paid the necessary price of admission and the rest gained entrance by way of the fences, which are rather easy to scale. To take care of this crowd was one lone policeman whose life was made miserable by the irrepressible small boy, and the lonely cop spent his time in chasing them about the field, leaving the others to do as they pleased—a freedom which was taken full advantage of.

On the very first lineup after the kick off there was a fight and these little pleasantries were indulged in quite often thereafter, but the players managed to quell them without much damage being done. During the first half of the contest the ball was almost continually in the East End's territory, and once it was worked down to the 10-yard line where the East Enders took a brace and held for downs to the delight of the team's friends. In the second half the East End team was the aggressor and the ball was in the territory of the Fighting Tenth nearly all the time, but their goal line was never in danger.

In the second half the crowd surged on the field and the contesting teams was surrounded by a howling mob nearly all the time so that runs of any kind were out of the question. The lonely officer was appealed to, but he was too busy with the small boys to pay any attention to other things. The star players of the game were Hill, the left half back on the East End team, and F. Anderson, the right half back of the visitors. Both of these players put up a star game, and their clever work stood out in strong contrast to that of the other players. The lineup:

Liberty A. C.—0.		Tenth—0.
Deems	L. E.	Thomas
Brown	L. T.	Baker
Johnston	L. G.	Mason
Parker	C.	Berris
Lewton	R. G.	Cherril

Referee and umpire—Messrs. Willis and Timmons. Time—20-minute halves.

Greenville Denies the Charge.

GREENVILLE, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The report sent out from New Castle Wednesday stating that the Greenville High school team had refused to finish the game is untrue, according to the Greenville players. The game was called by Referee McCormick Moore, captain of the Westminster college team, on account of darkness. There was only five minutes left to play and the score stood 10 to 0 in favor of Greenville. The ball, when time was called, was on New Castle's 25-yard line.

Basketball Notes.

There will be a meeting of the Junior league at J. Will Buckhardt's to reorganize for the coming season, at 8 o'clock tonight.

All members of the Perrysville basketball team are urgently requested to attend an important business meeting Friday night at the Eighth Ward school building at 7:30 o'clock. Manager Drane would like to arrange games with Lafayette Standards or any other good junior teams, games to be played on either team's floor. Address Willie Thomas, Drane, Lombard street, Allegheny.

Rayen's Center a Cripple.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Jay Liebman, center for Rayen school football team, suffered a broken ankle in the game yesterday with Rich Hill Miners, which will put him out of the playing for the balance of the season. His absence will cripple the team.

COLORED TEAMS FOUGHT A DRAW

Liberty A. C. and Fighting Tenth Butted All Over the Colosseum Field Without Result.

BATTLES AMONG BETTORS

The colored football elevens were at it again yesterday and the game they put up was a wonder sure enough. The teams engaged in battle were the Liberty A. C. of the East End, and the Fighting Tenth team of Washington, Pa. These teams went at each other on the Colosseum gridiron and while playing and wrangling for nearly two hours the affair ended in a draw, as neither side was able to score, in fact neither team's goal line was ever in the least bit of danger.

The game was really more of a battle royal than it was a football contest, and when the timekeepers announced that the time limit had expired there was hardly a player on either team who was not using his level best to stifle a flow of blood while the majority of the contestants needed the services of physicians to bind up wounds of one kind or another. It was a fierce battle all right and the only wonder was that the services of the coroner were not necessary.

The Fighting Tenth team came down here with the reputation of never having suffered a defeat, and when the game appeared on the playing field it had behind it a lot of backers who were loaded with coin and were willing to give odds. E. P. YOUNG IS UNABLE TO REFEREE THE GAME

Shadyside and High School Fighting as to Who Shall Officiate.

A hitch has arose over the school game for Saturday between Shadyside academy and Pittsburgh High school. E. P. Young, who was agreed upon as one of the officials cannot be found by either high school or Shadyside, as he is at present on a business trip in West Virginia. Dr. Farrier, who was chosen as the other official, has consented to act. Shadyside, which chose Young, submits the names of Cramer of Greensburg and Hamilton of Pittsburgh High school in return hands in the names of Mosse, the W. U. P. coach; Ganglinger of Case school, who refereed the Shadyside-Rayen game, and Robert Maloney of Dormont. The latter school does not object as much to Cramer as it does to Hamilton. The representatives of both schools, however, will again confer and their will be decided who shall officiate in the game.

Workmen were yesterday engaged in erecting the bleachers along the west side of the field. The carpenters were one day late in starting. Shadyside's allotment of tickets has already been sold and a demand has been made for more. The largest crowd that ever saw a football game in the park is desired. Nearly all the High school tickets have been disposed of, and by Saturday morning not one vacant seat will be available.

The Shadyside players were put through an hour's hard work yesterday on the academy field. All the players reported in fine shape. The High school team went to the W. U. P. grounds and practiced with that eleven. Schmidt, the big High school guard, who has been on the sick list for some time, will likely be in the game, which will add much strength to the High school line. The betting is also becoming brisk. Shadyside is the ruling favorite and small odds are being offered that Shadyside will beat High school by three touchdowns, while many look upon it as an even contest. Today both teams will have light signal practice.

Peace has once more been established between East Liberty academy and the Allegheny Prep. school in athletics. There was some mixup as to a football game last year, and the report made by East Liberty was not liked by the Preps, who demanded a retraction. East Liberty makes the retraction, and a game will be arranged between them soon. The East Liberty communication to The Gazette follows:

East Liberty academy wishes to announce that the publication relative to A. P. S. canceling games during last year was uncalled for. This announcement is made that the athletic relationship between the Allegheny Preparatory school and East Liberty academy may be resumed.

GREATEST COUP OF RACING YEAR

W. C. Fessenden With His Horse Pass Book Made a Great Killing at Jamaica.

CLEARED A SMALL FORTUNE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Probably the largest coup made on an eastern track this year occurred in the last race at Jamaica today when Pass Book, owned by W. C. Fessenden, in a field of 15 horses, won at 50 to 1. By placing his money in small amounts Fessenden was able to get most of it down at 100 to 1, after which the price gradually dropped to 50 to 1. Fessenden, it is said, took about $50,000 from the bookmakers. Pass Book lay in a good position to the head of the stretch, when Cochran sent him to the front and won by a length from Sir Shep, with the favorite, Mart Mullen, third.

The boulevard stakes went to Sourie and Sweet Alice won the Union handicap. Summaries:

WON BY RESERVATION.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12.—The handicap at a mile and an eighth was the star event of the day at Latonia, and was won by Reservation, the favorite. Bardolph surprised the handicappers by securing the places at 15 to 1. Thane, backed from 2 to 1 to 9 to 5, was not in the money. John Yerkes was run up from $500 to 2000 in the first race, but was retained by his owner. Antolee was bid up from $400 to $800 in the first race, but was also retained by the owner. Fair Lady Anna, winner of the last race, was run up from $500 to $1,100 by T. Hatfield. Charlie McCafferty claimed Chickadee for $1,100 after that horse finished second to Antolee. Antolee and Fair Lady Anna are both the property of McCafferty. Katie Powers won the fourth event at 25 to 1. Wander (pleasant) track slow.

First race, 6 furlongs—John Yerkes, 107, Beauchamp, 6 to 5, won; Quiz II., 104, D. Austin, 5 to 2, second; Miss Go Lightly, 105, D. Austin, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:15½.

WONDERFUL WORK BY THE CHAMPION TROTTER

Lou Dillon Stepped Quarter of Mile in 25 3-4 Seconds—Driver Thought It a Runaway.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Lou Dillon, the world's champion trotter, with a mark of 1.58½, has again set the harness horse world to thinking and figuring. Hitched to a light road wagon the great mare is credited with stepping a quarter of a mile on the Speedway in the record-of-time of 25¾ seconds. Four quarters at that rate of speed would make the time for a mile 1.43.

The time was so fast that Millard Sanders, who drove Lou Dillon, was very much excited. When he was told that the mare trotted in 25¾, he said:

"That is enough for me. I thought she was running away on a trot. I was scared and stopped her."

WILL FIGHT IT OUT.

Married and Single Men Will Meet Once More.

Following the usual custom for Thanksgiving day, there will be quite an interesting game of football played on the ground between the married men and the single men. The games played in previous years have been about even, each winning and losing alike. To casually drop into Oakmont within two weeks of Thanksgiving, one would imagine that the town had gone football mad. The sweethearts are wearing the colors of the single men and the wives and daughters and sons the colors of the husbands and fathers, and all talking about the chances of their favorites.

The team composed of the single men has been playing together all season and feel that they will have no trouble in winning. However, in the lineup for the married men will be seen a number of the best players in football circles, who will no doubt cause considerable trouble in the scoring line.

OUR SOLDIERS ARE FAR DOWN IN LIST

Local Regiments Fail to Take Honors in the Fall Inspections.

BATTERY IN HARD LUCK, TOO

Eastern Regiments of the Pennsylvania National Guard Get the Honors--Tenth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth Regiments Make an Average Above 90 Per Cent.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 12.

The Eighth regiment carried off the honors of the fall inspections of the National Guard of Pennsylvania with the remarkable general average of 95.14. The First regiment takes second honors with a general average of 94.85, and the Ninth regiment ranks third with a general average of 93.82.

The Third regiment drops to the foot of the column of infantry with a general average of 88.48. The standing of the various other regiments follows: Second, 91.70; Fourth, 90.24; Fifth, 89.45; Sixth, 89.42; Tenth, 92.88; Twelfth, 92.84; Thirteenth, 92.55; Fourteenth, 91.77; Sixteenth, 92.65; Eighteenth, 89.85.

Battery C leads the artillery with a general average of 88.50. Battery B is credited with a general average of 87.20. The First Philadelphia City troop carried off the honors in the cavalry with a general average of 93.35, with the Second City troop a close second with a general average of 93.17. Troop A made a general average of 91.22, which is considered a remarkable showing for a new troop. The Governor's troop made a general average of 91.55, and the Sheridan troop, 76.

The result of the inspections were announced today in a general order issued by Adjt.-Gen. Stewart, Col. Frank G. Sweeney, inspector general, reports the division in very satisfactory condition, the troops in his experience never having presented a more soldierly appearance on inspection. Col. Sweeney recommends that the state make more generous provision for the housing of its troops.

The order also contains the reports of the United States army officers who were detailed to attend the inspections. Lieut.-Col. Walter A. Howe, who inspected the First and Second brigades, says they are a very efficient body of men and that the guard in its organization, clothes and equipment resembles more nearly the United States army than any other of which I have knowledge."

Maj. D. C. Pearson, who inspected the Third brigade, pays a high tribute to the efficiency and patriotism of that organization.

ABANDONS EXCHANGES.

Federal Telephone Company Has Grievance Against P. & A. Corporation.

The Federal Telephone Company has this week discontinued 14 of its exchanges which it operated in the district, to-wit: Ben Avon, Emsworth, Glenfield, Hayesville, Osborne, Leetsdale, Economy, Freedom, Coraopolis, Aliquippa, Monaca and Mc-Kees Rocks. With the exception of Sewickley and Baden, where the exchanges will be maintained, the company withdrew entirely the entire Federal service in the Ohio valley near to Pittsburgh. About 20 employes have been thrown out of work as a result of the change. No pole lines will be sold nor will any franchises be surrendered.

Manager Deland of the Federal yesterday gave out the following statement regarding the matter:

"Our board of directors has temporarily closed 14 Federal exchanges because the reported refusal of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company to join any movement that would inflict direct injury on the Bell Telephone Company by the holding up of a comprehensive telephone settlement proposition. We have been receiving any income from these exchanges. The total cost of operating and maintaining these exchanges during the last 12 months was $9,809.71, while the total income derived from the entire 14 was only $10,815. Then, the present condition of the money market, the duty to justify the sacrifice that was being made in the hope that the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company would ultimately perceive how ably it was aiding the Bell to kill off all competition.

"This does not mean," continued Manager Deland, "that we are not increasing our service in other directions. We will build up on exchanges in Westmoreland, Fayette and Washington counties, as we now doing. We also now building a line from Greensburg to Youngwood, and completing a new line from Washington to Claysville. We are also putting in a new line from Canonsburg to McDowell by way of Bishop, Cecil and Reissing, and one new exchange in Jeannette is almost done."

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Interests prominent in the United States Shipbuilding Company are said to have in for discussion a new reorganization plan which will include proper representation and treatment for the $50,000,000 first mortgage bonds.

Under the plan of the Skelton reorganization committee, which precipitated the appointment of a receiver for the company, the first mortgage bondholders were given an opportunity to subscribe to the $2,000,000 of working capital. The plan now suggested to the committee is that their relative rank and their class of bonds pay its proportionate part.

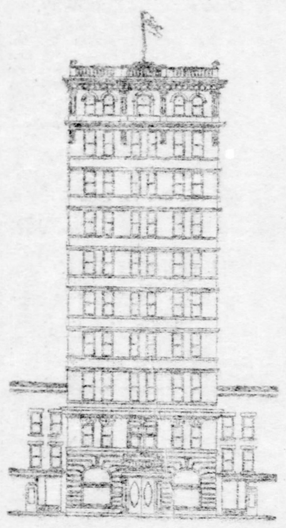
PROPOSED WILSON HOTEL A HAVEN FOR BACHELORS

Plans Prepared for Structure to Be Erected Opposite the Wabash Depot.

At Nos. 408-410 Ferry street, where none but old dilapidated buildings have stood for years, the new hotel of John S. Wilson of the Jeremy Catering company, will soon be started. It will be the first modern structure to grace the "Wabash Center," and its location, directly across from the Wabash passenger station, makes it a most welcome addition to Pittsburgh's public buildings.

The accompanying cut shows the 10-story building planned by Architect M. Nedlinger. It will be a strictly fireproof structure, 40x85 feet, and will cost at least $150,000. Many features new to Pittsburgh hotels have been introduced in the plans. The cafe, billiard and barber shop will occupy the first basement floor, half below the sidewalk. On the floor below this will be the private steam heating, lighting and power plants. The offices and cafe occupy the first floor proper. This floor will be finished in hard wood and faced with marble mosaic. The dining room, which will have a beautiful glass ceiling, the writing rooms and one suite will be on the second floor. The entire building will contain 150 rooms arranged singly and ensuite, so that every room will have direct access to a private bath, and also direct outside light.

Bachelors will be well cared for in the new hostelry, for the four upper floors will be built for them especially, the apartments being arranged in one and two-room suites with a bath. A roof garden will surmount the building and with the modern conveniences arranged for, will give to the visitors the maximum of comfort. It is quite possible that two more stories may be added before bids are taken, which will make the number of rooms about 200.



Proposed Wilson Hotel.

Bids will be taken December 1, so that the building may be completed by June 1 next year. Mr. Wilson's nine years' service as manager of the Jeremy Catering Company, makes him well fitted for this enterprise which he will look after himself.

Disastrous Collision in a Fog on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 12.—Two heavy freight trains, one of them a double-header, collided in a dense fog near New Hope, Ky., on the Louisville & Nashville railroad early today. While the wrecking crew was at work a car of powder exploded, but did not cause any injury.

The three engines were completely demolished and nearly every car of both trains landed at the foot of a 50-foot embankment. Fire soon broke out and 15 cars of merchandise and coal were destroyed. Hume, who was the only one of the men found alive under the wreckage, had his jaw torn off and was otherwise badly hurt.

TRYING TO STEM WESTWARD TIDE

The German Newspapers Print Weird Stories About Hardships in United States.

BUT EMIGRATION CONTINUES

Futile Attempt Being Made to Check Emigration to America -- Harrowing Tales Related by Alleged Emigrant Who Tried It and Lives to Tell It.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEIPZIG, Nov. 12.—A number of German newspapers led by the Leipziger Neueste Nachrichten have started a crusade against emigration to the United States, which during the last few months has increased considerably. The paper has printed a series of articles telling intending emigrants of all the difficulties which await them in the country across the Atlantic and in yesterday's issue prints a signed article by a German who claims to have just returned from the United States where he tried to make a living for a year.

In strong language he tells about all the different experiences and privations to which he was subjected during his stay in America. He worked, it seems, in almost every state in the Union, on cotton plantations in the south, on oyster beds in the east and on farms and ranches in the west, everywhere subjected to the most cruel treatment and in several cases cheated out of his money. It is, however, not thought this attempt will have any effect upon people intending to emigrate, as it is too evident that the sufferings of which the returned German-American tells are written for a purpose and that his experiences by no means could be considered as typical of what the average emigrant may expect. In its zeal to check the immigration to the United States the paper in question has made itself ridiculous in trying to prove that every German who lands in America may expect to be skinned, robbed and beaten half to death.

EDUCATION FOR STARVING PEASANTS OF RUSSIA

Imperial Commission Makes Report to Suit Wishes of the Czar.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—The result of the inquiry instituted by the czar into the cause of the increasing poverty of the peasantry has been published. It is a highly important document, is a supplement to the czar's manifesto on civil and religious rights, and recommends the education of the peasants.

The commission appointed to carry out the inquiry was thoroughly representative, containing village elders and landed proprietors as well as government officials. They attribute the decline in peasant prosperity to oppressive passport regulations, labor restrictions and lack of education. The first mentioned they say is due as much to vexatious officials as to bad laws, which, combine to demoralize the peasantry and destroy all their feelings of self-reliance and their initiative.

They further declare that until the peasant obtains recognition as an individual it is useless to try to foster his material welfare or palliate the decline in Russian agriculture. The report further expresses the hope that the reform in the peasant laws now being drawn up by the ministry of the interior will carry into effect the principle of the equality of all before the law, as indicated in the imperial ukase, and concludes: "These reforms will be fruitful only on condition that they involve the better education of our peasants."

GREAT BRITAIN INSISTS UPON LARGER PAYMENTS

Not Satisfied With Division of Thirty Per Cent of Venezuela's Customs.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

THE HAGUE, Nov. 12.—Solicitor General Finlay concluded his reply for Great Britain before the Venezuelan arbitration tribunal today, claiming that the payment of the amounts allowed by the mixed commission out of the thirty per cent of the customs would take too long to permit 30 per cent being considered as an adequate guarantee of the payment of the claims of the blockading powers. The term "adequate guarantee" therefore, signified the 30 per cent given to the blockaders as preference.

Minister Bowen read a telegram announcing that the mixed commission had awarded Spain $336,000 and Sweden and Norway $51,850.

Professor Nerantoni then concluded Italy's case. He contested the validity of the protocols of the non-blockading powers. Senor Pardo, for Mexico, said Mexico's claim was of the same nature as the other debts which benefited by the 30 per cent of the customs.

Herr Von Weckerth, for the Netherlands and Sweden and Norway, said those countries had never consented to the action of the blockaders. Senor Clunet for Spain said Great Britain's course was dictated by a desire to enforce the authority of a great power. Great Britain had not sought priority of payment, but had only demanded a guarantee. M. Muravieff, president of the court, said he hoped the replies would all be concluded tomorrow.

KAISER IS ALLOWED TO SPEAK ONLY IN WHISPER

He Holds Conferences and Transacts State Business in Writing.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The greatest difficulty of Emperor William's physicians is to keep him from overtaxing his voice. They have insisted that he must only whisper a little, and while he is not forgetful of their command he whispers a good deal, and occasionally utters an exclamation.

State business is piling up. Various matters in which the emperor is personally interested are developing and he is unable to discuss them, but he listens to reports, writes questions, objections or his views, though the pencil runs too slowly and he breaks out occasionally with whispered remarks pitched near the surgeon's danger line. No special harm has been done yet, but as he is getting well fast his impatience increases.

OLD BOARD RE-ELECTED.

The Attempted Reorganization in American Malting Co. Management Was Defeated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—At the postponed annual meeting of the American Malting Company in Jersey City today a contest developed over the plan of reorganization, involving the issuance of $10,000,000 preferred and $10,000,000 common stock. The stockholders opposing nominated a ticket of directors in opposition to the present management, but the old board with one exception, was re-elected. Numerous suits are pending against former officers, involving $2,500,000, to require them to restore to the treasury, dividends alleged to have been paid out of capital. Another suit has been brought to compel the promoters to account for $750,000 preferred and $7,740,000 of common stock, alleged to have been misappropriated.

LOSING SESSIONS OF CONFERENCE MARKED BY ANIMATED DISCUSSIONS

nsylvania Daughters of the merican Revolution End Annual Meeting.

ATE PLAN IS DEFEATED

Vote Cast by the Chairman. he New Cruiser—Mrs. Henry C. acker's Address—Protection for rty Bell.

e fall of the regent's gavel an- e opening of the morning ses- the last note of "The Star Banner" was sung by the rs before they adjourned last , there was no lack of animation proceedings of the closing day of the conference of the Pennsylvania ghters of the American Revolution re spirited, many times resulting in a organized condition which might well used as an argument in favor of the delegated body so much desired by a large portion of the Daughters throughout the state.

The report of the state committee on organization was the center of the storm which swept from one side of the hall to the other as, with voices raised, half a dozen women attempted to speak at the same moment with no regard for the regent's gavel, which thundered again and again, but failed to bring order until each Daughter had expressed her mind in no mild terms. With the reading of the report of the committee on organization a motion was made that the conference go into a committee of the whole to discuss it. The state regent, Miss Susan Frazer, called Miss Julia Morgan Harding to the chair and the debate was immediately opened, the Daughters considering the report article by article.

Tie Vote on Delegates.

The report presented by Mrs. A. S. Quinton, regent of the Independence Hall chapter, Philadelphia, chairman, aroused little discussion save on the article which provided for a state conference made up of accredited delegates from the different chapters. The opposition was so strong that when the rising vote was called for it resulted in a tie, requiring the vote of the chairman which lost to the conference the motion.

The motion was to the effect that each of the chapters be represented by its regent and one delegate each for the chapters of 25 members or fewer, while the larger chapters should have one delegate for every 50 members over 100. The smaller chapter members were fearful that the adoption of the proposed ruling, which would only be in effect for one year, there being no state organization, and each conference adopting its own rules of order, would mean the overwhelming of the smaller chapter interests by the larger ones.

At the opening of the morning session discussion on the proposed gift to the cruiser Pennsylvania was resumed from yesterday, the conference deciding that this gift shall take the form of a bronze bas-relief of William Penn. A committee to have charge of the matter was appointed by the state regent, Miss Frazer, at the close of the afternoon session and consists of Miss Julia Morgan Harding, Pittsburgh, chairman, Miss Harding having suggested that the gift take this form; Mrs. Robert J. Haldemann, Harrisburg; Mrs. C. A. Bruce, Oil City; Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, Brookville, with two others to be appointed later by the regent.

Mrs. Pennypacker's Address.

With the program of Wednesday still before it uncompleted, the special courtesy of the conference was asked by Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, chairman of the program committee, in order that Mrs. Henry C. Pennypacker of the Chester County chapter, who was announced for the Thursday morning session, might make her address. Mrs. Pennypacker spoke on "Evacuation Day" and the memorial to Washington and his colonial troops during that dread winter of 1777 and 1778 in Valley Forge. The speaker related the story of the organization of the Valley Forge Memorial association and the dedication of the Washington memorial chapel on the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the evacuation of Valley Forge by Washington, June 18, 1902. Mrs. Pennypacker said:

"On that day Washington's headquarters was the chief shrine, and it appears almost the same as in the winter days when the commander of the American army occupied it while planning to engage the British troops in battle at Saratoga. The Valley Forge chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has furnished a room in the headquarters. The Chester county chapter furnished another room with many articles of historic furniture, covering the floor with a rag carpet. Two of the chairs were given by the regent of the Chester county chapter. They were in the house during that winter and were inherited by the regent, whose family owned the land upon which the house stood when Washington occupied it.

Attracts Many Visitors.

The growing interest in this place is shown by the warden's report for September, 1903, when 1,145 visitors were registered, greatly in excess of the number for the corresponding month of the previous year. Each chapter of the Pennsylvania Daughters of the American Revolution was asked to contribute to the work of the Memorial association for the celebration of Evacuation day, and the memory of those who suffered and those who perished there during the winter of 1777 and 1778.

"In 1891 a monument was erected to their memory by the Daughters, and near this the memorial chapel has been erected. The dedication of this chapel was the occasion of a great patriotic celebration. An address was delivered by Gov. Pennypacker on the history of Valley Forge. After an address delivered on the religion of Washington the speaker said: 'It is most fitting that where Washington prayed for the success of the American cause and independence a Washington memorial chapel should be erected.

"In the western part of Pennsylvania are Fort Necessity and Fort Duquesne, in the central part the monument to that great Pennsylvanian, Gen. George R. Meade, in Gettysburg, and in the east is Valley Forge.

"One of the first acts of Gov. Pennypacker was the signing of the bill appropriating $75,000 for the purchase of 500 additional acres to the 210 acres of the state's historic reservation and the establishment of Valley Forge park."

Miss Adeline Sterling, president of the Daughters of the Revolution, in her address on this occasion, said 'the Declaration of Independence would have been null but for the heroes who survived that winter in Valley Forge.' Mrs. Sterling advocated the establishment of a national park there. Mrs. Donald McLean, regent of the New York chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, said the aim of the Daughters, whatever their name, was the preservation of patriotism. She wished Evacuation day might be made a national holiday.

Almost a Day Behind.

The press of Thursday's program confronted the conference when it met for the afternoon and closing session. The discussion of methods of nomination for the state office of regent and vice regent resulted in the decision that the conference must receive the indorsement of her own chapter, whose secretary shall present her name to each chapter in the state. Mrs. William C. Anderson, Pittsburgh chapter, was elected state conference secretary, and Mrs. William deP. Brunstar of the Berks County chapter, Birdsboro, being elected state conference treasurer.

An invitation had been given the different chapters to present subjects for discussion. The education of a girl of revolutionary ancestry was proposed by the Witness Tree chapter, and the poor whites of the mountain regions of Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky were spoken of by Miss Miffin of that chapter, who suggested the education of some young girl among them who should return to do missionary work among her own people. Mrs. Robert Iredell of the Liberty Bell chapter opened the discussion on the subject presented by her chapter, a protest against the removal of the Liberty Bell from Philadelphia.

Liberty Bell Resolutions.

The following resolution, presented by the Philadelphia chapter, D. A. R., was unanimously adopted by the conference on the motion of Miss Julia Morgan Harding of the Pittsburgh chapter:

To the Honorable Mayor, Select and Common Councils of Philadelphia:

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Philadelphia chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, September 24, 1903, the following was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to confer with the city authorities with a view to preventing the Liberty Bell from being taken from Independence Hall for any purpose whatsoever.

Resolved, That in full sympathy with the spirit of the above resolution, we, the undersigned members of patriotic societies, respectfully petition that such action may be taken as may hereafter preclude the possibility of a removal of the bell, and so protect it from dangers of transportation and the risk of change of place."

The debate was laid aside for a few minutes while Miss Nellie Bender of the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music rendered acceptable violin solos, her sister, Miss Bertha Bender, accompanying her at the piano. Before the program was continued an attempt was made to revive the matter of delegation from the chapters, an attempt which was frustrated in order to conclude the program before every woman had left the building, for many had already gone to take late afternoon trains home.

Sympathy for Miss McKnight.

Miss Kate C. McKnight was to have opened the discussion on "Which Division of Historical Work Will Best Hold the Interest of the Chapters—Local, State or National." Her illness has prevented her from attending any of the sessions of the conference, and her regret was voiced by Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, who was instructed by the conference to express to Miss McKnight the sympathy of the Daughters and its regret that she could not be with them.

In discussing the subject, the local work received the first and strongest indorsement of the different speakers, who claimed that in the absence of historic landmarks or relics the education of the children in the spirit of patriotism was paramount. More careful attention to a detailed study of the history of the state and the urging that more Pennsylvania history be taught in the public schools were suggested for state work, while the national work was presented by Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, the president-general of the national society, D. A. R., in her address on the Memorial Continental Hall." In treating of social entertainments as necessary in the work of chapters, the affirmative was urged by smaller ones. Just before adjournment Mrs. Truxall of the DuBois chapter presented a resolution expressing the sympathy of the conference to the Pittsburgh chapter in the death of one of its members, Mrs. James R. Darragh.

In Memory of Mrs. Schenley.

Action was taken by the state conference on the death of Mrs. Mary E. Schenley by the adoption of the report of the committee on resolutions, in which was embodied the following:

"We have learned that on November 4 of the present year Mrs. Mary E. Schenley, an honorary life member of the Pittsburgh chapter, passed away from life on this earth, in her home in London, England. In expressing to the Pittsburgh chapter sympathy for the loss of this member the Daughters of the American Revolution in Pennsylvania, in conference assembled, also express their appreciation of the great gift made in 1894 to the Daughters of the American Revolution of Allegheny county of the block house, the redoubt of Fort Pitt and surrounding ground that both might be preserved by the Daughters of the American Revolution of today and their successors forever."

The resolutions also expressed the delight and appreciation of the visitors to the members of the Pittsburgh chapter for the generous hospitality which was extended them, with special mention of the concert of the Pittsburgh orchestra and the various social affairs which have contributed to the entertainment of the Pennsylvania Daughters.

The committee on resolutions was composed of Miss Marietta Miffin of the Witness Tree chapter, Mrs. Harriet Felton Peters of the Delaware county chapter, Mrs. Robert Iredell of the Liberty Bell chapter, Mrs. Katherine D. Burns of the Conrad Weiss chapter, and Mrs. Senneth of the Col. Crawford chapter.

GREAT ENGINEER MADE QUIET VISIT

Man With Big Electrical Contract to Give Out Entertained Unawares.

STOPPED AT SCHENLEY HOTEL

Representative of English Syndicate Came Here and Went Away After Inspecting Westinghouse Works Without Being Discovered.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 12.

Sir Charles H. D. T. Metcalfe has returned to New York. This gentleman, who Pittsburghers were informed was a London representative of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, is one of the greatest engineers in the world. He is the chief engineer of the syndicate that expects to harness the falls of Zambesi in South Africa as Niagara is harnessed. The Zambesi syndicate hopes to thus secure enough electric power to run the diamond mines for scores of miles around.

Nearly a month ago Sir Charles arrived in America unannounced. He had a desire to see Niagara at work and to investigate fully the possibilities of Zambesi. An astute representative of the Westinghouse company by accident learned of his presence. Behind the visit of the great engineer is a contract for electrical equipment, the cost of which is likely to reach the millions. Straightway Sir Charles was surrounded and captured. In order to keep the emissaries of the General Electric Company from learning of his presence, the "prisoner" was hurried off to Pittsburgh and registered at the Hotel Schenley as "Charles Metcalfe, London," and the little fiction that he was a British Westinghouse representative was "allowed to leak out." For several days he made trips to the great Westinghouse shops and thus he gained a wealth of valuable information about electricity.

From Pittsburgh Sir Charles went to Niagara, from Niagara came to New York and I was told today that he has sailed back to England ready to lay more definite plans before his syndicate. At any rate, his name does not appear in the "room book" of Holland House, as it did about three weeks ago.

POPE BESTOWED FIVE RED HATS

Thousands Witness Making of New Cardinals by Pius the Tenth.

STRONG CONTRAST WITH LEO

Sisters of Pontiff Overcome With Emotion at Seeing Their Brother in Midst of Such Pomp and Adulation—Many Americans Present.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, Nov. 12.—Pope Pius X. held his first public consistory today. Five cardinals, including the papal secretary, Secretary of State Mgr. Merry Del Val, received their red hats. The holding of the first public consistory under the new pontificate and the conferring of the red hat on the papal secretary of state, Merry Del Val, were circumstances so exceptional that considerable excitement pervaded the whole apostolic palace, the pope himself being about the only person who remained calm.

At an early hour all the thoroughfares leading to the vatican were crowded by cabs carrying thousands of persons hurrying to secure good positions from which to witness the solemn function, while cardinals and other prelates and the various personages attached to the papal court drove in heavy old-fashioned carriages and were received with the usual honors by the papal guards.

The ceremonies began at 10:30 o'clock when the five cardinals who were to receive the red hat: Mgr. Merry Del Val, Mgr. Callegari, the archbishop of Padua; Mgr. Ajuti, the papal nuncio at Lisbon; Mgr. Taliani, the papal nuncio at Vienna, and Mgr. Katschthaler, the archbishop of Salzburg, Austria, went to the Sistine chapel to take the oath before Cardinals Oreglia, Rampolla and Macchi, heads of the three orders of the sacred college.

Meanwhile the corridors through which the cortege had to pass and the sala regia, where the consistory was held, were filled to overflowing, even the places in the three tribunes, with seats apart respectfully for the diplomats, the Roman aristocracy and specially invited persons, being uncomfortably crowded.

New Pope Compared With Leo.

Naturally there were comparisons of Pius X. with the late Pope Leo XIII. Only a few months ago the figure which then occupied the sedia gestatoria was frail and bowed, more like a spirit than a man. Now the pontiff was a strong-living personality. His holiness was clothed in full pontifical robes, with the mitre an immense emerald sparkling on his finger as he raised his hand to bless the assemblage. Preceding him were the celebrated Swiss guards, the cardinals coming close behind them. The noble guard came next, escorting the pontiff, who was followed by a train of bishops, priests, monks and court laymen, at the end of the procession being another detachment of guards.

The pontiff seated himself on the throne at the end of the hall, while the cardinals went to their stalls on either side with the bishops at the left. Intense silence then fell over the assembled throng until when the new cardinals were introduced by the master of ceremonies, who, while they knelt one by one before the pope, held a cardinal's hat over their heads.

Thereupon the pontiff, with real emotion repeated the usual formula in Latin, used on such occasions, after which he embraced the five cardinals tenderly. The newly honored prelates then arose and went to each of their brother cardinals and gave and received the usual fraternal embrace, the choir in the meanwhile singing softly.

When the ceremony of the exchange of embraces was ended the pope rose, bestowed the papal benediction on all present and then withdrew, the halls and loggias echoing with acclamations as he passed on his way to his apartments.

The sisters of the pope sat in the box set aside for the family of the pontiff. They were dressed entirely in black, with black veils, according to etiquette. They seemed quite overcome at seeing their brother in the midst of such pomp and adulation and several times were seen to wipe away tears. One of the sisters said, after the ceremony:

Sisters of Pope Overcome.

"To see how the pope is loved repays me for the sacrifice of not living with him any more."

After returning thanks in the Sistine chapel the new cardinals, with the other cardinals, retired to the hall of the consistory to hold a supplementary, secret consistory, during which the pope granted them the privilege of participating in and speaking at meetings of the congregations, placed the cardinal's ring on their fingers and made each of them a titular bishop of a church in Rome. It was only today that the pope signed the brief officially appointing Cardinal Del Val, papal secretary of state, and making him a member of the congregations of rites and of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs.

Among the Americans who were present at the public consistory were the students of the American college, with Vice Rector Murphy, Bishop Labreque of Chicoutimi, Quebec, and Father Meyer, assistant general of the Jesuits.

The pope, at the secret consistory, gave Cardinal Del Val the title to the church of Santo Maria Ad Praesepe, one of the oldest in Rome. The date of its foundation is not known, but it is certain that it existed in the 15th century.

DYNAMITE REVEALED POSTOFFICE ROBBERS

Explosion in a Philadelphia House Unearths a Much Wanted Gang.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The exploding of a stick of dynamite last night at 753 Wood street has brought to light the headquarters of a gang of safe crackers. What is supposed to be the entire gang is now under arrest. They gave their names as William Marshall, aged 21, New York; John Moore, 25, St. Louis; Fred Davis, one-legged man, said to be a peddler, Boston; James Patton, of St. Marys' Elk county, Pa.; Joseph Anderson, Scranton, and William Jones, no home. The men were all occupants of the room where the explosion occurred and Patton was slightly burned by the flash.

At first the detectives were timid about pronouncing the men criminals but developments of today show beyond a doubt that the prisoners have been implicated in at least one postoffice robbery. Dynamite and maps of the surrounding counties were found in the room together with a list of postoffices recently robbed.

Robert Gilman, of Port Kennedy, who was bound and gagged by thieves while they were robbing the postoffice there last Saturday, partially identified Patton as one of the five men who robbed the place. Other persons from Port Kennedy and Spring City will arrive here tomorrow and try to identify Patton and the other prisoners.

LOCKOUT EFFECTIVE TODAY.

Builders' Exchange League Will Fight Sympathetic Strikes.

No effort has been made with the workingmen to avoid the threatened lockout by the Builders' Exchange league, and as a result all the men affiliated with the Building Trades council will not be permitted to work today. The lockout will affect from 500 to 2,000 workmen.

The committee appointed to look after the interests of the workmen did not meet yesterday. A committee of the league held a short session, but did nothing. The lockout will affect several buildings but none of importance. Most of the important buildings are about completed and the majority of the work under way is being done by outside contractors.

Hardscrabble Boys Disappointed.

Urchins in "Hardscrabble" settled down to enjoy a big bonfire last night, and there was much childish indignation when fun-hating firemen came along and put it out. Fire ignited in some mysterious way the debris of the houses torn down some months ago. It is suspected boys started the fire. Street car passengers seeing the reflection in the car windows thought there was an acre of flame, and a chemical engine was sent and soon put out the fire.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

SOCIETY.

CHRIST Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening, when the daughter of the pastor, Miss Mary Rice Dorchester, became the wife of William C. Hatch of New Bedford, Mass. The Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., father of the bride, entered the church with his daughter and also performed the marriage ceremony. Miss Edith Dorchester attended her sister as maid of honor, Miss Stanard of St. Louis and Miss Helen Hatch, a sister of the bridegroom, acting as bridesmaids. Edwin Metcalf of Auburn, N. Y., was best man and the two ushers were the brothers of the bride, Paul Dorchester and the Rev. Daniel Dorchester III.

As the bridal party entered the church the choir sang a marriage hymn, also during the first ceremony. The bride wore a simple gown of white chiffon cloth, entraine, and trimmed with lace. A large berths of chiffon and lace almost covered the bodice, and the skirt had two rows of shirring, giving a yoke effect. The long tulle veil, embracing the gown, was caught and fastened with a plume, the veil itself forming a small coronet. The bridal bouquet was of white roses. The two bridesmaids wore gowns of white Persian lawn, cut low with the St. Cecelia effect and trimmed with valenciennes lace. Their bouquets were of large pink chrysanthemums, the honor maid carrying white blossoms. Her gown was of the same material as those of the bridesmaids.

The church was beautifully though simply decorated. Tall palms entirely surrounded the pulpit, in the midst of them being a large cluster of white chrysanthemums. The same blossoms, together with a quantity of autumn foliage and palms adorned the church parlors, where about 150 guests were in attendance at the reception following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. George Hatch, the father and mother of the bridegroom, with the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Dorchester, received with the bridal couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch will spend their honeymoon in the east, and will make their future home in New Bedford. At some early announce days after January 1 Mrs. Hatch was graduated from the Boston university and a post-graduate from Yale. Miss Dorchester was also educated in Boston, taking a post-graduate course at the University of Chicago.

Two Debutantes Appear.

Two Pittsburgh girls formally entered society yesterday, when Mrs. Richard S. Snyder of Shady avenue introduced Miss Emily Copeland Lyon, a niece, and Miss Sara Ormsby McKnight, a niece of Wharton McKnight. Mrs. Snyder with Mrs. Alexander P. Lyon, mother of Miss Lyon, and the two debutantes received together from 2 until 6 o'clock. The sisters wore a white lace robe and the debutantes pretty white gowns. Miss Lyon's was of white chiffon and Miss McKnight's of crepe de chine. Mrs. Lyon appeared in black and white chiffon.

The reception was also in the nature of a housewarming for Mrs. Snyder's new home in that avenue. This being the first entertainment of a formal nature in the new home since the removal of the family from Murray Hill avenue last July. The assistants were Mrs. W. Henry R. Wells, Mrs. Russell Forsythe, Mrs. Edward Woods, Mrs. Edward Bigelow, Mrs. Wilworth, Mrs. M. B. Snydam, Miss Snydam, Mrs. M. B. Snydam, Jr., Mrs. James H. Park, Miss Dorothy the Misses Jennings, Miss Jane Bradley, Miss Ann Brumbird, Miss Gladys Palmer, Miss Alice Guthrie, Miss Helen Mellon, Miss Narcissa Kennedy, Miss Marion Clarke, Miss Mary Boyle, Miss Georgia Heard and Miss Jean Somerville.

The decorations, marked with quiet beauty, in the drawing room, an apartment with dark green walls, the numerous debutante flowers were tastefully arranged over the doorway on the left, opening into the dining room. The orchestra was stationed in the hallway, where palms and a large vase of white chrysanthemums contrasted with crimson in the dining room, the color scheme of the library, where the mantel was banked in greens, and white chrysanthemums were employed. Deep purple chrysanthemums of a shade very like unto the center piece on the table in the dining room, whose lights had fabric red shades and the mantel was banked in green. Mrs. Snydam entertained her aids and a few friends at cards in the evening.

Murdock—Jones.

Miss Lydia Keller Murdock and Robert Webster Jones were married last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary McMasters Murdock, at Corbin and Bidwell streets, Oakland. The Rev. Dr. Chapman Jones, father of the bridegroom, assisted by the Rev. Richard S. Holmes, D. D., performed the ceremony, which occurred in the presence of the immediate relatives. Miss Jane Murdock, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the best man was Arthur Jamison, and the ushers Forrest Brown and James Dalby.

The bride wore a gown of white and carried white roses, and the maid of honor pink chrysanthemums. Chrysanthemums formed the other decorations. The ceremony was performed under a rush screen covered with bows of satin ribbon, while palms, chrysanthemums and the mantels, banked with maiden hair fern and pink chrysanthemums, formed the decorations in the dining room, where a wedding supper was served. A reception for a large number of guests was conducted from 8 until 11 o'clock. The bride and bridegroom are now on their wedding trip, at the conclusion of which they will be at home in Minneapolis, where Mr. Jones is editor-in-chief of the Housekeeper. He was formerly identified with newspaper life in this city, where he has many friends. His bride is a graduate of the Pennsylvania College for Women, and is a member of several literary and charitable organizations in the city.

Cards for a Bride-Elect.

In honor of Miss Henriette Frances Cordier, who is to be married to William Johnston Hays in Los Vegas on November 20, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown of Cedar avenue, Allegheny, entertained at cards last evening. Seven tables of six-hand euchre were in use and a number of pretty prizes were won by the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Brown and the honor guest received together and were assisted by their pretty daughter, Miss Ruth Brown.

The wedding, which will be an evening event, will take place at the home of the bride to-be-in law and sister. Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Cordier, 5 Fairmount street, East End. Several other entertainments are being planned for Miss Cordier, chief among which will be the tea this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frederick Beech Cain, at which Mrs. William Herron Cain and Miss Mary Isabel Faulkner will also be joint hostesses. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. C. D. Myers will entertain for the bride-elect at a breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. David McKnight will give a dinner in her honor.

Mrs. Arthurs' Tea.

Mrs. David King Irwin and Mrs. Alexander Cook Cargill, sisters and bridesmaids of the late Mrs. Charles Rogers, were the tea ladies Wednesday afternoon at her home, 13 Center avenue. The affair was very informal, with a guest list including only the most intimate friends of the hostess and the honor guest. Two hours were from 5 o'clock until 7, and the assistants were Mrs. Charles Hay Irwin, Mrs. Robert C. Hall, Mrs. A. M. Marcheck, Mrs. F. C. Perry, Mrs. E. E. Keller and Miss Irene Hall.

The decorations were principally chrysanthemums, in the drawing room of the quaint old-time homestead, with its flowered walls, were pink roses and pink and yellow chrysanthemums. Pink roses and asparagus vines covered the mantelpiece, and the sideboard was banked with asparagus. Pinked pink chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece on the lace-covered table, which was placed in the dining room. Mrs. Arthurs received in a beautiful gown of white chiffon, with an overdress of white silk, trimmed with applique and silkmings of hand embroidery on the bodice, white her honor guests were pretty models in reception gowns.

Company G Will Entertain.

The members of company G of the Third Pennsylvania regiment, United Boys' Brigades of America, will give an entertainment at Arbury's Eden park avenue theater next Monday. The entertainment is a benefit for their regimental fund, and a good time is promised by well known local performers. Pittsburgh will be represented by a number of artists, and the program for the evening is an interesting one, including a solo by Miss Nora Kearney. Miss Alice Hunter will recite a humorous selection. The program for the evening is as follows: Overture, Miss Alice Hunter; solo, Miss Nora Kearney; recitation, Miss Alice Hunter; solo, Miss Mary Hunter; selection, Quartet of Pierce Post No. 1

COURT IS ASKED TO PASS ON A WILL

...ale Founded by James Sharp ...f Sharpsburg, is Now in Litigation.

...TY DECLARE KINSHIP

...a Clark Attempted to Write Her ...Will Without a Lawyer and Many ...ollow—Barnsdall Denies Indebt-

...day court yesterday a petition ...filed by the Safe Deposit and ...pany, administrator of the es... ...za. L. Clark, deceased, asking ...to pass on certain phases of the ...is the beginning of what will ...erly contested litigation over the ...ion of real estate in and about ...burg, valued at $250,000, and which ...ally increasing in value, being cen... located.

...rs. Clark was the surviving daughter ...James Sharp, the founder of the town. ...he will is one of the most remarkable ...documents ever filed in the court house. ...In it disposes of attempts to dispose of a ...large estate, showing plainly it was conceived by the testatrix and written as a woman writes without the assistance of any one of legal education.

The petition states that the administrator is unable with any degree of certainty to ascertain who the collateral heirs or next of kin are and enumerates three factions of them aggregating 70 persons. Mrs. Clark died on November 28, 1901, and left neither husband nor issue.

...Suit to nullify partition has been entered in common pleas court No. 3 to determine title, and this action is based on the allegation that the will is invalid owing to being vague and not specific in the matter of contributing to charity or making other specifications.

A Home for Convalescents.

The will was made October 12, 1898, and after an introductory paragraph reads: "After all my just debts are paid, I wish what my property, personal or otherwise, to be used for the good, or to the relief of some of the suffering in the world; my old home, the home of the Sharp family, I wish to be modified as to become a home for convalescents—a place of rest for sick ones to go to recover. I would like it partly endowed and if any one wishes to contribute they can do so of their own free will. A row of lots could be sold off the front to help along.

"My cousin, Mrs. Lucy Stroup, of Philadelphia, is to have something—say one lot, that is $5000. Something for colored schools in the south—I would like the one in Knoxville, Tennessee, an industrial school—and others that may be needy. My wealth, or what I own being in land, it will need some management to make it do as much good as possible. This my executors will attend to.

The testatrix then states she wished the spring at the bottom of the hill set aside, for the public and the poor and a bust of her father placed on it, and also that a larger and more beautiful burial lot would be selected. She treats the disposition of her household goods lightly and says Miss Sarah Lloyd is to have what she wanted, and says a famous clock, if the house is not repaired, is to be given to "some friend."

Kind Feeling Toward Firemen.

The will then continues: "I wish all my matters be kept secret as possible. Poor men, who are unable to work are honest and truthful, especially firemen who have been injured in the discharge of duty, I think would like to receive something—be assisted. If my estate will allow it; and all worthy poor people. My cousin, Maggie Clark of Columbiana, Ohio, and her lame son, $1,000; Sarah J. Lloyd is to have her choice of a lot, and Alfred Lloyd, her brother, $1,800. As I have said, for kind friendly deeds will be left to each, it seems my executors will arrange that."

That ended the will and nothing further was stipulated. The administrator asks the court to pass upon and determine how much, if any, of the estate is to be used at present in the spring, and also for an order to sell some of the real estate.

The personal property amounted to $12,970, and it is said there is a claim of $22,-250 50 for personal services and money advanced to the testatrix, against the estate. She lived with the deceased. It is to pay her claim that the order authorizing the private sale of property is asked for. And the questions raised will decide the validity of the will. A citation was awarded on all the parties interested. Estelle L. Hall and 10 others represent one set of claimants, Mary Lee and 14 others the second set, and Mrs. Elizabeth Steckman Lewis and 46 others the third.

The equity proceedings were instituted by Hall et. al. against Lee and others and in that action title is claimed through relationship with ancestors of the deceased woman, several generations back.

Broke Into Jewelry Store.

On a charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony, to which he pleaded guilty in criminal court, William Wright was sentenced to three years in the Western penitentiary. The charge was made by August Roy of Roy & Anderson, jewelers, No. 1015 Braddock avenue, Braddock.

Wright and Nicholas C. Wright broke into the office of the prosecutor and stole eight gold watches, five silver watches and five rings, valued at $575.

Wright turned the case of Val Fisher, superintendent of the Anti-Cruelty society, Alderman Charles Van Moss, James May, E. L. Kentz, John Guckert and John Engerman was not finished. They are charged with conspiracy in Michael Brown, who alleges that under the cover of the law, they are trying to defraud him of his money.

The jury in the case of Howard McCeary of Uniontown, charged with a misdemeanor in W. V. Woodrow, in behalf of his 14-year-old daughter, Pearl, returned a verdict of not guilty.

In the suit of the German-American Savings & Trust Company, administrator of R. M. Hays, the victim of the Cape Nome fires against Theo. R. Bernhardt to recover $50,000 on five notes aggregating $1,504 17, Carman & Kline for plaintiff, $200; M. Bronstein vs. Matt Steele, $24 88; Heler & Perrin vs. Levan-dorff, $120 50; White Mantle & Tile Co. vs. George W. Sherman, $580 60.

The equity proceeding of James Morrison, et al., against the Allegheny Natural Gas Company has been dismissed. The action was to force the company to restore a connection with the complainant's dwelling. Judge Frazer says the bill might have been instituted in the name of the other source of supply, but this is not the case and the plaintiff has a remedy at law.

A writ of mandamus has been asked for by Mrs. C. E. H. Porter, James Wilson and Mrs. V. Anderson against Hugh McBride and others asking that they be compelled to restore certificates to office to the National Republican Association of Pennsylvania. It is alleged that McBride wrongfully called a meeting of the association and elected officers, declaring their predecessors to the offices and members of the corporation.

A decree in distribution of $223 50 net was made in the estate of Christopher Zug. Under will Mrs. Thomas C. Clarkson was to receive $7,000; Charles Zug, Jr., $7,000; Charles H. MONSTER WEAPON PROVES A SUCCESS

Army Chief of Ordnance Tells of Test of New 16-Inch Rifle.

USED 640 POUNDS OF POWDER

Greatest Charge Ever Put in Cannon Successfully Propels 2,400-Pound Missile 2,317 Feet a Second—Best Smokeless Powder Used.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Gen. William Crozier, chief of ordnance, has submitted his annual report to the chief of staff of the army. It deals minutely with many experiments to improve the military armament. On the subject of the United States magazine rifle, Gen. Crozier says that the results obtained from the few which were made by hand were so satisfactory as to secure the approval of the secretary of war for the adoption of this pattern. The reduction in the length of the barrel from 30 to 24 inches, Gen. Crozier says, met unanimous approval in all arms of the service. The general design and ballistic qualities of the rifle, the report states, are markedly superior to those of the present service arm. Gen. Crozier says that no automatic musket of satisfactory mechanical action has yet been presented. Nor does he think that the experiments with automatic pistols warrant the abandonment of the present service revolver for any of the types tried.

Experiments conducted with the 16-inch gun called for in the report of the fortifications board were attended with entire success, the report says. At the fourth round, with a charge of 640 pounds of a special smokeless powder and a 2,400-pound projectile, a velocity of 2,317 feet per second with a pressure of 36,700 pounds per square inch, was attained.

Skillful Work Demonstrated.

"That the design and construction of such a huge weapon," Gen. Crozier says, "should be successfully accomplished without a mishap of any kind, and that the calculated ballistic results should be so accurately verified, are subjects of congratulation."

He adds that the use of smokeless powder in such large charges "was beyond the experience of the world," and the demonstration that it would, when so used, follow the same law of burning as with charges of the size previously employed, is a service to the art of construction of ordnance. Whether this gun will be reproduced for use in seacoast fortifications, Gen. Crozier states, is a matter still to be determined, but he says it is satisfactory to know from the results of actual trial that in considering at any time the desirability of employing guns of greater power than those of the 12-inch caliber now constituting our most powerful weapons, the subject need not be complicated by the question of practicability.

The heavy armament of the seacoast defense Gen. Crozier reports to be in a very satisfactory state of advancement, but says that the practice which produces skill in the use of armament has now an importance greater than that of the installation. Gen. Crozier dwells upon the importance of proper defense of our insular possessions, saying:

Defense for the Philippines.

"It may be, and probably is, true that permanent possession of the Islands could not be maintained continuously against an enemy commanding the sea approaches thereto, but in the vicissitudes of war the contingency must be contemplated of a temporary loss of sea power in particular waters and the necessity recognized for providing against the occurrence of complete disaster during such interval, so that it would seem the part of common prudence to provide works which should enable a smaller force to hold out against a larger one for a time."

He says that a territory as large as that comprised in the Philippine archipelago with the assistance of proper defenses for its important harbors might be able to maintain itself, even although cut off by sea, during the continuance of a short war. Without fixed defenses, he adds, it would be possible for a fleet to occupy a harbor and hold at its mercy a city, as did the American fleet with Manila in 1898.

The report says there have been issued to the militia free of charge a total of 69,663 magazine rifles and 3,005 carbines, with accompanying accouterments and equipments, aggregating in value $1,-260,488.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury returned only a few bills yesterday morning and dismissed by Judge Elliott Rodgers, it has held two sessions, one at the opening of the present term of court and the other from Monday until yesterday. In dismissing the jurors Judge Rodgers thanked them for the way they had disposed of the many cases that came before them and for the rapidity with which they had worked.

The true bills returned were: Felonious assault and battery, Michael Waters, Frank Seligert, "Pug" Murphy; embezzelment, Charles C. Davis (2); larceny, Walter Sims; entering a railroad car with intent to commit a felony, Michael Waters, Frank Seigert and "Pug" Murphy.

Several bills of minor importance were ignored.

OFF FOR SCHOOL.

Send Youngster Away Well Fed.

Unless the school child has food that nourishes brain and nerves as well as muscles the child will not develop as it should.

Brain wastes away daily just like the rest of the body and must be rebuilt and the only way to do this is by the proper food selected for just this purpose.

A school girl of Worcester, Mass., wrote an interesting article about her experiments with food to study on: "Two years ago I had indigestion so bad that food does not nourish me and I lost a great deal of flesh and strength and was always suffering from trouble in my stomach. I could not study for my head always seemed clouged up.

"One day at school I noticed that one of the girls had a box of Grape-Nuts. I asked her about it, and from what she told me to make up my mind to try the food.

"As the result of eating Grape-Nuts three times a day in place of improperly selected food I have at last found the way to permanently cure my indigestion. Grape-Nuts food is light, delicious and digests without trouble, the heavy feeling in my stomach is gone and I have been gaining flesh rapidly ever since I made the change to Grape-Nuts.

"Not only is the improvement physical but I feel so much better and clearer in my head and I have more ambition than I have ever known before. I used to feel so fagged out in my brain and stupid and had headaches, but that is all gone and now I feel like a new person.

"I am absolutely certain that Grape-Nuts helped me get my lessons, because now I can sit for hours, and study and accomplish a great deal while when I was living on the old diet I would simply sit there and accomplish nothing.

"To tell the truth Grape-Nuts, as I tell my friends, worked a miracle in my case. My mother is signing this letter to confirm all the statements I have made." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

A statement filed in the estate of Ebenezer Mellor shows personal property mostly in stocks, aggregating $79,185 24.

A charter was applied for in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday for the Allegheny County Grain, Hay and Feed Dealers' exchange. The members are Joseph Schaub, William Herb, A. H. Susanne and H. E. Kier.

A decree in divorce was granted in the case of Joseph D. Caster against Christina S. Caster on the grounds of desertion and cruel and barbarous treatment. Mrs. Caster is a defendant and according to the testimony told him, "she would have no kid running her." She also accused him bodily according to his evidence.

The formal order was made yesterday dissolving the injunction in the case of the Washington Tunnel Company against the Mt. Washington Tunnel Company by consent of counsel. The two companies had charters for tunnels through Mt. Washington and there was considerable litigation before they settled their differences.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Melissa Palmer vs. Ellen Catterall et al., $2,120; Twenty-seventh Ward B. & L. association vs. Peter Schaub, $1,504 17; Lafayette Guild vs. Caldwell, $200; M. Bronstein vs. Matt Steele, $24 88; Heler & Perrin vs. Levandorff, $120 50; White Mantle & Tile Co. vs. George W. Sherman, $580 60.

STRIKES NOT SETTLED.

Many Workmen Arrested and Wealthy Families Taking Their Departure.

HUELVA, SPAIN, Nov. 12.—The efforts of the prefect have failed to settle the strike at the Rio Tintos mines, which has been in progress for some days, the manager refusing to comply with the demands of the strikers. About 1,500 miners at Penahierros, near Rio Tinto, have struck in sympathy with the Rio Tinto strikers.

SANTANDER, SPAIN, Nov. 12.—There is little amelioration in the strike situation here. The troops are constantly patrolling the streets. The searches of houses occupied by workmen have resulted in seizures of arms. Many arrests have been made. The incendiaries of the Catholic club will be tried by court martial. The wealthier families are leaving Santander.

Fire Wipes Out a Town.

AURORA, MO., Nov. 12.—Jenking City, a town of 400 inhabitants 12 miles south of here, was practically destroyed by fire today.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such prides themselves on their acuteness in never being "humbugged," especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, so far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, bismuth, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, and from this arise gas, doubling, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite and many other troubles which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

LIQUIDATION CONTINUED IN RAILROAD STOCKS

Pennsylvania Group Were the Greatest Sufferers. Selling Pressure Relaxed in the Steel Shares. New Low Record for Fire Proofing.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a continuation of the liquidation in railroad stocks in the eastern market yesterday, while the selling pressure on the Steel shares was relaxed. The news of the day was rather favorable than otherwise, but the market ignored everything except disquieting rumors. The opening was firmer all around, in response to the higher quotations from London, where a better feeling was produced by the action of the governors of the Bank of England in allowing the minimum rate of discount to remain unchanged at 4 per cent. The weekly statement of the bank was not favorable, except that it showed a slight increase in the reserve to liability. Bullion decreased nearly $2,000,000, and there was a contraction of $4,500,000 in loans, but it was reported that the bank had made arrangements with the Bank of France whereby the latter would furnish the gold required to meet the drafts made by the United States. The weekly statement of the Bank of France showed a decrease of $4,000,000 in bills discounted, a decrease of $10,000,000 in notes in circulation, and a loss of nearly $2,000,000 in cash. Foreigners were credited with buying United States Steel preferred, Pennsylvania and Atchison, but these purchases were not sufficient to offset the offerings of the bear party, so far as the railroad stocks were concerned, and the tendency was almost uninterruptedly downward after the first hour.

The Pennsylvania group of stocks were the greatest sufferers, and sold down to the lowest prices for years. Pennsylvania opened a shade firmer at 112⅝, declined to 111⅝, and then held steady for a time. Later in the session, however, the selling pressure was renewed, and the price declined to 110⅜, the lowest since early in 1898, before the industrial affairs of the country had emerged from the gloom of the three preceding years. Baltimore & Ohio declined to 72⅜, or just 1 per cent above the low price reached last September. The decline was in the face of a report that the annual statement, which will be made public next week would show gross earnings of $65,450,000, an increase of $5,567,000, and the net from operations $28,880,000, an increase of nearly $3,000,000. Reading declined to 88½, the lowest since early in 1901, before the Pennsylvania through the Baltimore & Ohio acquired an interest in the property, and Norfolk & Western declined to 53⅜ and closed at 53 bid, the lowest price for two years. Chesapeake & Ohio declined to 27⅝, the lowest for two years, and Erie sold off to 25⅝, which is within 2½ per cent of the low mark touched during the extreme depression of last August. There were no fresh developments to account for the weakness of this group, but the bear party continues very confident, and did not hesitate to circulate more or less absurd rumors to disturb confidence. One of the rumors was that within the next 24 hours announcement would be made of a plan, which was backed by "influential interests," for the building of a new road between Pittsburgh and New York, which would be 50 miles shorter than the Pennsylvania. This was ridiculous enough, certainly, and absurd enough to cause a smile. It is not improbable that at some future time another line from Pittsburgh to the seaboard will be constructed, but before it is completed and becomes a worthy rival to lines already in existence, the traffic of the territory traversed will be sufficient to keep all lines busy. Still more absurd, however, was a report that the Pennsylvania interests were buying United States Steel stocks with the view to having a voice in its management, as a measure of protection against any diversion of tonnage. It cannot be said that these rumors had any real influence upon the market. The bears have been so successful with this high-grade investment stock that they have apparently frightened some of the bona fide holders, and the latter are now liquidating. Either this, or the campaign for the settlement of personal resentments is much broader and backed by greater bitterness than anyone is at present willing to admit.

The remainder of the railroad list finally sympathized with the weakness in the leaders and all sold off. St. Paul declined 1¼ per cent to 175⅝. Missouri Pacific declined 1⅝ to 87⅛, and New York Central, Union Pacific, Wabash preferred and other Gould-Rockefeller stocks declined large fractions. Atchison, Rock Island and Illinois Central were 1 to 1½ per cent lower. Amalgamated Copper and Sugar, particularly the latter, were quite strong during most of the day, and closed well above the lowest prices. United States Steel common and preferred were relatively firmer than the new bonds. The latter opened higher at 66¼ and advanced to 67, but later weakened and sold off to 63½, or to within a small fraction of the low record. Steel preferred at one time advanced to 82¼, but it shared in the afternoon's weakness and declined to 80¾, closing at 81¼ bid. U. S. Realty and Construction made a new low record by selling at 4¼. The traction stocks, after holding up fairly well, declined in the late dealings and closed near the lowest. The transactions were well distributed throughout the day, the total reaching 775,000 shares.

Call loan rates were a little easier, ranging between 3 and 4 per cent most of the day and finally closing at 2½ per cent. Sterling exchange was a little higher, owing to the fact that the pressure of commercial bills was not so great, but engagements of gold for import continued to be made. The National City Bany engaged $500,000 additional, and the Bank of England sold $1,000,000 gold for shipment to New York. Since last Friday the associated banks have lost $3,700,000 through sub-treasury operations, and tomorrow's bank statement is likely to be unfavorable, unless there is another large decrease in loans. Still, it cannot be said that there is any apprehension over the immediate future of the money market. Estimates were made yesterday that at least $12,000,000 gold would be imported before the movement stops, and that sum would go a long ways toward offsetting the loss of currency through shipments to the interior.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday the weakest stock was National Fire Proofing, which was depressed by the uncertainty as to the action of the directors on the common stock dividend. This uncertainty continued throughout the day, the meeting of the directors not being called until after the close of the market. At one time during the session there was practically no market for the common stock, and private offers to sell were reported as low as 5½. The lowest public sale, however, was at 7½, and just before the market closed the price was bid up to 9, closing at 8⅞ bid, 8¾ asked. The preferred sold off 8¾, recovered to 21½, and closed at 21¾ bid. Crucible Steel common was more active than for some time past, selling at 37⅝ to 4 and closing with a final sale at 4. The preferred sold off to 20½. United States Steel common closed at a net gain of ⅝ and the preferred ⅛, but both stocks were inactive. Pittsburgh Coal common declined to 18½, while the preferred remained unchanged, closing at 60. River Coal preferred sold at 28. Manufacturers Light and Heat and the Westinghouse stocks were lower.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

A prominent Pittsburgh broker who is now in the east studying the Wall street situation at close quarters and getting financial impressions at first hands, wired his house an interesting budget of gossip during the afternoon. The general impression was rather bearish on the general market, the feeling being that the commercial depression would follow the readjustment now going on in industrial circles, and which seems to be nearing completion in financial circles. A further source of bear recruits is the necessity of the Pennsylvania railroad and its branch lines is that the company is discontinuing all probable and possible improvements of an unfavorable character, including a final decision in the Northern securities case early next year, by filling its treasury with cash, so that its plans need not be affected. With regard to United States Steel preferred, there is a feeling that the stock should rally on the short interest, if nothing else.

The foreshanded policy of the Pennsylvania, as illustrated by its borrowings in bank late last year, and its flotation of new stock early this year, this taking away the market from other corporations in need of new capital, and its comparatively small acquisitions, has naturally aroused the envy if not the antagonism of rival interests. During the past few years the company has accomplished, among other important strategic points in the Baltimore & Ohio, jointly with the Lake Shore, control of the Reading system, and thus of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. 3. The acquisition of a substantial interest in the Hocking Valley. 4. The acquisition of the Norfolk & Western Railway Companies, the latter carrying control of the Pocahontas Coal & Coke Company. 4. The acquisition of a controlling interest in the Baltimore & Ohio, jointly with the Lake Shore, of control of the Reading system, and thus of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. 5. The acquisition of a substantial interest in the Hocking Valley. 6. The acquisition of the Chesapeake & Ohio and estate deal which has der cover six months has t and is suggestive of some evelopments later on. It de- rd was purchased by Henry C. $200,000 and that he turned it the Pennsylvania Railroad Com- last spring when he transferred ost holdings to that corporation. months ago Frank F. Nixon red an option on the Riter-Conley ings through the agency of Charles by and it was generally understood at that time that the property had been purchased by him. No transfer was ade, however, until the deed direct to Mr. Frick. The property occupies an en- ire square bounded by First and Second avenues, Short street and Redoubt al- ley. It measures 240x190 feet giving a to- tal area of 45,600 square feet. The price paid was $200,000 which figures at the rate of only $4.21 a square foot, a low price considering the location of the plot and the prices of similar properties near by. The lot is directly across Short street from the First Ward school house and across Second avenue from the large site which the Follansbee Bros. Company purchased over a year ago. It is iso- lated somewhat from the other Pennsylva- nia holdings but the fact that there is much curiosity manifested as to what that railroad will do with it except to block any possible project of the Wabash.

Wabash Wants Corner Property.

Another First ward property that is attract- ing considerable attention is that of the Mc- Dure Tin Plate Company at the northeast cor- ner of Second avenue and Redoubt alley which the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, who, with J. B. Thayer, fifth vice presi- dent, and W. W. Atterbury, general manager, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon with a party of Canadian Pacific officials. This morn- ing the party will inspect the Pittsburgh, Vir- ginia & Charleston railroad, leaving the Union station at 8 o'clock. Nothing definite has been decided as to the further movement. The party may continue west or return to the east to- night. Continuing, Mr. Pugh said:

"The closing of large plants of all kinds nat- urally has a reflex action on the railroads by shutting off business, and in some instances we have been hard hit. This, however, is not felt as much as one might suppose, for the reason that we have had thousands of tons of freight that we should like to have hauled, but were unable on account of the great pressure of business. I am not prepared to say that there has been a falling off in freight receipts. Every indication is that there has not been and will not be. The Pennsylvania has more cars than it ever had, as well as more active mo- tive power. It has spent millions for improve- ments in its tracks, terminals, etc., within the last year, and it is continuing to follow its policy of removing 'low joints' wherever they occur."

Mr. Pugh spoke of the laying off of men as nothing unusual. This, he said, is done every fall by almost every railroad. The lines west are in such excellent shape as concerns motive power that with the closing of lake traffic ten heavy freight engines will be transferred to the Vandalia, one of its affiliated lines. The Van- dalia has also purchased outright from the lines west three freight locomotives for use on the line. The Vandalia additions to its motive power is due to the approach of the world's fair. Besides the 15 engines, the Vandalia has ordered engines from other con- tractors and will receive 10 engines from the American Locomotive works.

Track Prizes Awarded.

Track prizes to the track foremen of the Pennsylvania Lines West have been awarded in accordance with the finding of the 100 offi- cials who inspected the line during the annual trip of General Manager G. L. Peck. The prizes are for the best pieces of track on each su- perintendent's division, and are $30. As told in The Gazette, both of the general manager's prizes for supervisors' divisions went to the Pittsburgh division of the Panhandle. The awards to the foremen show that the dexterity of the general manager in giving the supervi- sor's prizes to the Pittsburgh division was based on facts which are borne out by the re- ports of the 100 men. These men were divided into committees such as on ties, rails, roadbed, etc., and each committee accordingly watched only those things to which they were assigned.

Want Lower Rates.

The steel manufacturers of the Pittsburgh district have recently renewed their fight against the railroads for a reduction in the ex- port rates. The question of making such a re- duction is by no means a new one. The rail- roads, however, are said to favor the appeal at this time, and a reduction may follow.

Railroad Notes.

The Burlington is considering the reduction of coal rates from Illinois to the lakes and north- west.

R. E. McCarty, superintendent of the Pitts- burgh division of the Panhandle, went to Co- lumbus yesterday.

General Manager C. S. Sims of the Baltimore & Ohio, after spending two days in this dis- trict, left for Cleveland last night for the east.

The fall schedule of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie will not go into effect until November 22, a week later than the date first set.

Tourist sleeping car rates from Chicago to the Pacific coast will be advanced December 1 by the Pullman Company from $8 to $7. The advance, say the officials of the company, say, will be made on account of the increased cost of running the cars.

A meeting of the rate committees of the sev- eral passenger associations and the compilers of rate sheets will be held at the Hotel Schen- ley November 20 and 21. It is the first meet- ing of the kind ever scheduled, and is being held to consider the furnishing of traffic sheets to the individual lines and compilers of rate sheets. The object will be to devise a plan whereby fewer sheets will have to be printed.

J. F. Flanigan has been made assistant train- master of the Pittsburgh division of the P., W. & K. Washington, and will have charge of passenger trainmen and equipment. The position is a new one and rather with that of passenger conductor on the Pittsburgh division of the lines east. Flanigan will be succeeded as gen- eral yardmaster by J. F. Dunn, who was for- merly at the Conway yards. The changes were effective yesterday.

A strong buying movement has been manifest since the street car line was assured, and now that it is in operation a good number of houses are going up along the line.

New Broker in the Field.

The latest addition to the real estate fraternity in Pittsburgh is William E. Webster, who is already well known through his connection with the Pittsburgh Carnegie & Western Rail- road Company, whose right of way agent he has been for two years. During that time nearly $3,000,000 worth of property in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio has been bought for the Wabash. The city deals, which were made under Mr. Webster's personal supervision, include some of the most important transac- tions of the two years. Prior to his connec- tion with the Wabash Mr. Webster was real estate agent for the Pittsburgh Coal Company for one year. Before that he served 11 years in the main real estate office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Philadelphia. He was also engaged in the real estate business three years in Kansas City and St. Paul during the boom period of the latter city. While here he purchased real estate for large cor- porations, together with his thorough knowl- edge of real estate law in different states, are very desirable assets in the office of Frank F. Nixon, 701 Fitzsimmons building. The Wabash has secured Archibald Mackrell, the defeated candidate for sheriff to take Mr. Webster's position.

29 Strikes on Bessemer Building.

When the workmen laid down their tools last night it marked the 29th strike or lockout in the Bessemer building at Sixth street and Duquesne way. It is doubtful if any building ever erected in the city made such dubious record as the skyscraper which Henry Phipps started 18 months ago. From the time the foundations were laid to the present day until the present only a week has passed that some of the building trades have not been on strike and curiously enough, it has happened that in nearly every case the cause of the strike was the same, the dust the point where it was held up until the strike or lockout was set- tled. Most of the crafts are done with the building now, but at least two more strikes will be had before it will be out, thus suspending work again.

A forcible reminder of the way the sympa- thetic strikes and resulting lockouts have worked was seen yesterday in the calling off of the project of W. S. Haynes to build 50 houses in Glenwood at a cost of $125,000. The contract was awarded some days ago, but in the face of the conditions it was deemed best by Mr. Haynes it unwise to go ahead and the job has been suspended until the labor troubles are settled, and it may be until spring. Haynes also closed a deal to-day to buy a four- story brick and flat building in Hazelwood, but three of the conductors holding notified him that their bids were signed and sealed, but that they would not do the work on that.

East End Sale of $15,000.

William J. Post has sold to Elmore A. Barnes a property 50x140 feet, on the west side of Atlantic avenue, Twentieth ward, for $15,000. The lot is improved with a good resi- dence, and the property is held by W. G. Lyon.

New Cape May Hotel.

Architect F. J. Estering of this city has completed plans for the mammoth hotel to be erected at New Cape May, N. J., by the Cape May Real Estate Company, and bids on the work are now being taken by Contractors Jos. Beaky and Wm. Radebaugh. Blueprints have been asked on a brick and steel and a frame structure, and the estimated cost will determine the material to be used in construc- tion. The hotel will be of slanted front of the southern colonial style of architecture. The plans call for a three-story structure 350x200 feet, with an extended portico on the front. In the basement will be the swimming pool, 40x70 feet, a cafe, billiard room, baggage room, steward's room, storage room, refriger- ator and 10 bedrooms for the help. A 344x3 ballroom with a handsome stage will be the feature of the first floor. In addition to this there will be on this floor a palm garden, din- ing rooms for adults and children's, reception hall, two sitting rooms, a writing room, offices and four 3-room suites. The second floor will contain 26 two and three-room suites, each with bath, and a large number of single rooms, also with baths. The whole building will have 400 guest chambers and 200 bathrooms.

The hotel will be so constructed that any part needed may be kept open for the winter season and the sun parlors and palm gardens provided access to the promenade at 70th sec- tion. Work on the building will be started by December 1 under the personal direction of Peter Shields, president of the company, who is on his ground a superintending all the opera- tions. The estimated cost of the structure is $500,000.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN FRESH EGG PRICES

Cheese Firm With New Yorks Slightly Higher—Danish Cab- bage Moves Upward.

Another advance occurred in quotations for fresh eggs yesterday, selects going forward at a range of 28 to 30 cents, one large dealer in this city offering to pay 28 cents a dozen for a carload of select eggs. In sympathy with the stronger market for fresh stock, storage eggs also went forward, selling freely at 24 cents. This is rather an unusual season for eggs, considering how open the weather has been so far, and that prices should rule as high as at present causes no little comment. A year ago selects could be purchased for 25 cents as the top while the high notation now is 30 cents. Poultry is not holding as firm as eggs, and quoted figures are fully as high as selling. Chickens are in fairly good supply, and demand is slow. Turkeys maintain their position, but as yet are moving only moder- ately.

A much firmer feeling pervaded the cheese situation yesterday, and New Yorks went for a full half cent higher, being sold as short at 13 to 13½ cents, and the market very firm at quotations. These figures are slightly lower than the prevailing quotations a year ago, when New York full creams sold at 14 cents. Consumption of cheese is increasing every year, and the supply has not increased in the same proportion. Butter is steady as quoted, with no change in prices which have ruled for over a week.

Danish cabbage was firmer yesterday, and prices moved forward about $2 a ton. Domes- tic cabbage remained unchanged. Brussels sprouts were in liberal supply and quotations were easier. Other vegetables remained un- changed.

Concord grapes are about done and catawbas are now quoted at 15 to 16 cents for pony baskets. Cranberries are in good supply, and demand is moderate, prices being a little eas- ier yesterday. Apples and pears continue as last quoted, and there is no further change in prices for tropical fruits.

There was an easier feeling in the flour mar- ket, and reports that supplies are get- ting nearer to the condition desired by dealers. No change was made in nominal prices yes- terday, but it is not unlikely that a little ease in the quotations of several days if stocks are filled by that time. Coffee is unchanged, and sugar remains as it has been for a week. Rice and beans have been moving slow of late and an offer which is near asking price will be entertained.

Hay and grain were in moderate receipt, and quotations for all lines remained as given yesterday morning.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

By saving 90 per cent of the values in Water- loo ore, running about $85, the new Hendryx process of cyaniding has reached the highest achievement. The Waterloo Company, backed by Dennis Chute of Spokane and others, is now constructing the installation of the Hendryx plant at its mine in Camp McKinney, B. C.

The second steam shovel for handling ore at the Granby mines has been set at work. While the absolutely necessary to handling ore, is a more powerful machine than the first one. A third steam shovel is expected about the latter part of this month. One is being loaded directly into the railway dump cars by the new shovel.

The Highland Boy mine at Bingham has placed an order for a 150-horsepower tandem engine with a manufacturing company of Mil- waukee, and a generator capable of 250 kilowats the contract was awarded the West- inghouse Electric Company of Pittsburgh.

The Reliance Gold Mining Company has been formed to operate the Dole group and other properties in Webber mountain, near Bingham. The property is the south extension of Independent No. 6 lode. W. M. Hughes of Pitkin, owner of the group, made the deal to T. E. Hutchinson and his associates of Denver. The consideration was $10,000, with a good payment down. Buildings are to be erected and work commenced at an early date. Colora- do Springs and Denver operators in Arizona are backing this company.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

In the Rays Run district, Washington county, Ohio, Col. J. M. Guffey has sold his pro- ducing property to the American Oil Develop- ment Company. The property consists of leases on about 1,000 acres of partly developed territory and at the present time has a net daily production of 60 barrels. It is principal- ly settled the Injun sand production and the price paid is said to have been $120,000. Part of the territory lies in the new Big Injun sand development in Washington county, and the new owners will begin active development work at once. Mr. Guffey, who was instru- sefed with Mr Guffey in the property, retains his one-eighth interest and will operate in conjunction with the purchasers.

Large wells in the Lawrence-Southwest fields are very scarce and when one is drilled in above the average in size or a practically new one increases it production over the first esti- mate, they do not fail to attract attention. In nearly all fields nothing better than small wells are expected and when one of consider- able size is drilled in it is regarded as an accident rather than something to have been expected.

Over in the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 2 on the W. A. Rogers farm has increased its produc- tion to 450 barrels a day. The same company's test on the Hugh Romine farm has filled up 600 feet with fluid from the Gordon and will be shot. When drilled through that forma- tion it was thought to be a duster.

In the Folsom district, the south Penn Com- pany has drilled its No. 2 on the E. F. Seidle farm to the top of the Gordon and has the rotproof up to the same point. In the same district, Henry Unger & Co. have drilled No. 2 on the same farm through the same formation and will have a very fine well.

In the Marietta district, S. L. Angle has completed No. 8 on the Joseph Cole farm and has a 6-barrel pumper.

Another well was completed on the east side of Noble county, the Gem Oil Company has completed its No. 6 on the James Gordon farm and has a 4-barrel pumper in the Gordon sand.

In the Cairo district, the Hart Oil Compa- ny has drilled its No. 3 on the Merry Dut- ton farm through the 140-foot sand and has a 4-barrel pumper.

The Cleveland Oil Company's No. 6 on the Jasper Short farm has been drilled through the 600-foot sand and is a light pumper.

D. W. Davison has drilled his No. 7 on the John Hall through the Fifth formation and has a duster.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a partial ad- vance of 5 points in sympathy with rather better cables than expected and moderate in- terior Santos receipts. Trading was quite ow- ing to the close of the last month, but after the call there was heavy realizing and the market was finally unchanged to 3 points lower with sales of 80,000 bags, including November at 5.15@ 5.20c; December at 5.30@5.35c; January at 5.40 @5.45c; March at 5.75@5.80c; May at 5.95@ 6.00c; July at 6.10@6.15c; September at 6.25@ 6.30c and October at 6.35@6.40c.

Sugar, raw nominal; fair refining, 3 5-16 centrifugal, 96 test, 3 13-16c; molasses sugar, 3 1-16c. Refined sugar quiet; crushed, 5.30c; powdered, 4.80c; granulated, 4.70c.

Financial Situation Not Causing Alarm Among the Railroads

"There is no need for alarm over the finan- cial situation as far as the railroads are con- cerned," said Charles E. Pugh, second vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Com- pany, who, with J. B. Thayer, fifth vice presi- dent, and W. W. Atterbury, general manager, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon with a party of Canadian Pacific officials. This morn- ing the party will inspect the Pittsburgh, Vir- ginia & Charleston railroad, leaving the Union station at 8 o'clock. Nothing definite has been decided as to the further movement. The party may continue west or return to the east to- night. Continuing, Mr. Pugh said:

"The closing of large plants of all kinds nat- urally has a reflex action on the railroads by shutting off business, and in some instances we have been hard hit. This, however, is not felt as much as one might suppose, for the reason that we have had thousands of tons of freight that we should like to have hauled, but were unable on account of the great pressure of business. I am not prepared to say that there has been a falling off in freight receipts. Every indication is that there has not been and will not be. The Pennsylvania has more cars than it ever had, as well as more active mo- tive power. It has spent millions for improve- ments in its tracks, terminals, etc., within the last year, and it is continuing to follow its policy of removing 'low joints' wherever they occur."

Mr. Pugh spoke of the laying off of men as nothing unusual. This, he said, is done every fall by almost every railroad. The lines west are in such excellent shape as concerns motive power that with the closing of lake traffic ten heavy freight engines will be transferred to the Vandalia, one of its affiliated lines. The Van- dalia has also purchased outright from the lines west three freight locomotives for use on the line. The Vandalia additions to its motive power is due to the approach of the world's fair. Besides the 15 engines, the Vandalia has ordered engines from other con- tractors and will receive 10 engines from the American Locomotive works.

YANKEE SKIPPER FOOLS A GUNBOAT

Comic Opera Navy of San Domingo Unable to Enforce Blockade.

REPROACHED THE AMERICANS

Then Asked for Supply of Provisions, but Didn't Have $20 Necessary to Buy Barrel of Pork for Hungry Sailors—Officer of Cherokee Tells Story.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The steamer Cherokee arrived here today from San Domingo and the interpreter of the trip tells a stirring tale of how Capt. Daniel Archibald ran the blockade of San Domingo ports in the face of threats of the officers of the San Dominican gunboat El Presidente to sink him.

The action of the Cherokee has been the cause of much cable correspondence between Secretary Hay and Minister Powell at San Domingo. On the advice of Minister Powell the Cherokee landed her cargo and at Sanchez, Macoris, Puerto Plata, Montechurti and Samana, ports prohibited by the government because in the possession of the rebels, thus permitting the rebels to collect the duties. Manuel G. Savinon of New York, who acted as interpreter for the commanders of the Cherokee and El Presidente, tells the story: "Capt. Archibald was warned not to attempt to land any cargo at rebel ports. At San Domingo Minister Powell came on board and told Capt. Archibald that the blockade was irregular and that he ought to land the cargo wherever the goods called for.

"We left San Domingo that afternoon and during the evening reached the entrance to Samana Bay. The El Presidente was there. She fired a blank shot across our bow and we hove to. A boat containing an officer came alongside. This officer forbade Capt. Archibald to enter the bay which he declared to be blockaded.

"The officer invited Capt. Archibald to the gunboat for a conference, and I was taken along as an interpreter. Lorenzo Paco, the commander of the gunboat showed a telegram of instructions from the minister of war to sink any vessel insisting on running the blockade. He intended to do so with the Cherokee he said. The Cherokee then proceeded seaward, presumably to go to Puerto Plata.

Capt. Archibald had no such intentions, though. It was black as a pit when we left the head of Samana Bay, and Capt. Archibald blazed up his lights as far as they would go. As he made off shore he gave instructions to have the portholes covered one by one and lights extinguished, simply to give the impression that the ship was fading away in the distance.

"Finally all the lights were screened and the gunboat could not see us. Believing we had gone to Puerto Plata, the gunboat finally started out in that direction. Then the Cherokee steamed with lights all ablaze and landed her cargo. We stayed in the bay until 5 p. m. Wednesday and then left for Puerto Plata. The gunboat had been there, but not finding us, had gone off in search. We had no trouble landing our cargo there. We started for Monte Christo and at the entrance met the Presidente again. Her commander said we had broken faith and refused to let us land the American mails which we brought back. Then he asked us for some meat.

"His men were all starving, he said. Capt. Archibald offered to sell him a barrel of salt pork for $20, but he wanted the money first. Puerto Plata wasn't a penny on the gunboat and they didn't get the meat. They had been given half rations of rice and beans for an eight-day cruise on leaving Santo Domingo."

SUICIDE EPIDEMIC.

Many New York Women Seized With Impulse to Commit Self Murder.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Many women in and near New York have sought to take their lives within the last few hours. A wave of self-destruction seems to have swept over the city and women above all have been particularly susceptible to its blight. By acid, the knife and pistol, they have tried to end supposedly unhappy existence and several have succeeded.

The most prominent among those who succeeded was Mrs. F. DeGrier Walsh, wife of a wealthy New Yorker, who last night rose from her dinner table where she was entertaining a number of guests, and shot herself in the left breast, dying within a few minutes.

An epidemic of suicide appears to have spread among young girls in Brooklyn. Two girls, Agnes Carney, aged 15, and Mary McGrath, aged 16, swallowed poison there and one of them may forfeit her life. Women of the stage were not exempt, for Miss Bessie Conteau, a former member of the "Chinese Honeymoon" company, lies in a cot in Bellevue hospital with three self-inflicted knife wounds.

Alleged Creditor of Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, Sues on Unrecognized Claim.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—An attachment has been issued in the county clerk's office in this city in favor of Alfred Sully against the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Co., of Ohio for $810,884. This statement is made in behalf of Henry E. Shoemaker, chairman of the board of directors.

"The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Co. does not owe Alfred Sully one dollar. His suit in New Jersey, where the company has no property and never no business is preposterous. The suit is regarded by directors as merely part of a campaign of annoyance, and will be properly resisted."

GREAT BALLOONING TRIUMPH IN FRANCE

Airship Dashed Through Ether at Two-Thirds of Mile a Minute.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, Nov. 12.—One of the greatest triumphs of dirigible ballooning was achieved today by the Lebaudy brothers, whose airship in 1 hour and 41 minutes covered the 46 miles separating Moisson and the Champ de Mars, Paris. The balloon attained an extraordinary high speed, dashing through the air some times at the rate of two-thirds of a mile a minute, the mean speed being 29 miles an hour.

When the balloon mounted at Moisson a moderate breeze was blowing in the direction of Paris. The Lebaudys were not in the balloon, which was steered by a pilot, Juchmes, assisted by a machinist. Juchmes said:

"We proceeded by way of Chersence, Vetheuil, Fontenay, St. Pere and Garzenville. To avoid condensation we followed the southern boundary of Verneuil forest and retraversed the Seine one hour after our departure. We saw Poissy passed the forest of St. Germain and then Montesson, traversed the Bois de Bologne and entered Paris above the Porte de Passy. The departure from Moisson occurred at 9:20 in the morning. When the machine touched the ground on the Champs de Mars it was exactly 11:01 o'clock. Thus we made the voyage in 1 hour and 41 minutes. The maximum altitude was 300 and the mean 100 meters."

An Ideal Bookcase

The bookcase pictured above would kindle the enthusiasm of any pilgrim to the wonderful land of bookdom. The longer the eye dwells on the intricate and exquisitely carved design with its symbolic flowers, figures and masques, the more is one's mind attuned to enjoy the poet's fanciful flights and to revel in excursions into the uncharted and unmapped realms of romance.

This bookcase is much more than a mere receptacle for books. It may appropriately become a shrine to which one may go to commune with the immortal great. There is no pleasure, perhaps, so enduring or so unfailing as that derived from a love of books. And one would fain see those life-long friends suitably housed.

This bookcase is made of selected, solid oak. Dimensions: 67 inches high, 84 inches wide and 20 inches deep.

Of course, there are many other beautiful styles here from which to make your selection. They are all exclusive with this house and each has a distinctive claim on your admiration.

The price of this bookcase is consistently moderate. Indeed, it is a fact worth remembering that not only is the selection largest and best, but price is always an inducement at
